Was expended to the equipments of a resolution has been adopted in and Bethlehem Steel new stock gained 144 points. Rails were strong, presumably in anticipation of early action regarding freight rates. Reactionary tendencies were shown by some of the minor issues and Sinclair Oil, the latter losing more than three points.

Heavy offerings of United States Steel at a reversal of almost two points prompted profit-taking in equipments and specialties, but the its was largely sustained by an increased demand for rails. Union Pacific, Reading, Delaware and Hudson, Chesapeake and Ohio, Baltimore and Ohio, New Haven and Rock Island issues gained from 1 to 2½ points. Motors and shippings were heavy, United Fruit being the only strong feature of the latter group. Sinclair Oil and Industrial Oil made extreme declines of almost 5 points and Ohio Gas lost 4. Prices became more irregular at noon on the six per cent. money rate.

Bonds were steady, the Liberty issue holding at par.

Wage-earners Contribute

Nothing impressed the campaigners more, as they scoured the city for contributions, than the cheerful willingness of the wage-earners and those in humble circumstances to aid in the great cause. Many touching incidents are related of those who wanted to give of their small store for the Good Samaritan work. Also, there was a wonderful feeling of contradeship throughout the campaign. Men and women learned to know each other better and suspicion and distrust disappeared in the consecration to a noble cause.

George W. Relly, local treasurer, whose big job it was to take charge of the subscriptions and cash, worked with six clerks of the Harrisburg Trust Company through Priday night and It was daybreak when the tabulation and recording of the reports of the various teams was completed. It was announced by Chairman Hildrup that the president of the trust company had himself paid the expenses of the clerks who assisted Mrs. John Y. Boyd, who was active in the campaign, announced at the Saturday luncheon meeting that Mrs. Marlin E. Olmsted, head of the Woman's division, had cheered the four teams when they started the final charge that morning by contributing as a nest-egg $500 for each team. It was such incidents as this that made the roundup an impressive occasion.

Vance C. McCormick read two telegrams of special interest to illustrate his thought that a community which had done its best could do no more. These telegrams were congratulations from the Red Cross headquarters in Washington.

"Then my liver and kidneys bothered me, too. I would get feverish, tired and sleepy.
"I was also troubled with a stopped up condition in my head. I caught cold easily and I think it was on account of my run down condition.
"I simply had no ambition and was completely discouraged. I had taken treatment galore, but it seemed that I could not come back.
"I never had much faith in advertized medicines, but in looking over the papers I saw Sanpan highly recommended, so I tock a chance. I secured a bottle, and to my surprise, I began to improve right away; yes, before I had taken half a bottle, and now feel better than ever. My whole system seems to have been rebuilt, and I feel it a duty I owe the public to recommend Sanpan, as it may be the life line for other sufferers.

Sanpan is now being introduced at Keller's Drug Store, 405 Market street, Harrisburg, where the Sanpan man is explaining this modern sampson to the people.—Adv,
