Time Now to Prepare to War's Dangers—T. R. Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 25.—In a stirring Red Cross address delivered before he unfurled the national Red Cross colors before the Oyster Bay Yacht Club on Saturday afternoon, Colonel Roosevelt pleaded that the nation should begin to think about the fate of the millions of people who will be taken prisoners by the Germans. "I want the Red Cross to prepare for this duty at this time. Steps should be taken to help our prisoners starved until their Red Cross supplies run out," he said. "The man who can't go to the front should render other service. Most of all should be the help of the rich, the wealthy man who, if any young man is in doubt whether to fight or to do other work, let him give the army the benefit of the doubt and fight. The rest of us should stand by in every possible way. That means to buy Liberty Bonds, to subscribe to the Red Cross and so on. Remember, the economy you practice today as subscribers are not to be compared with the sacrifices the men who are offering their bodies, who, in agony and suffering will be alleviated by the money we contribute."
