CAMP'S PLAN TO HAVE FOOTBALL

Graduates Receive Circular Suggesting Seat Purchases; Make Game Possible

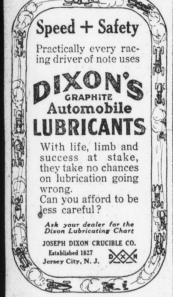

New York, June 26.-Walter Camp, dean of Yale football authorities, has suggested that in order to settle the question as to whether football shall be played this fall or football shall be played this fall or not, a circular letter be sent to graduates asking them to subscribe for seats in case they favor the retention of the game. He points out that if conditions should be such as to prevent the contests provision might be made that the sums necessary to reserve seats could be applied to other sources such as the continuation of teachers' salaries.

Plan Is Good One

"By adopting this means," states Mr. Camp, "the university authorities would know positively what they can afford to expend in preparation, and in time to act understandingly, and their word would be accepted loyally if they determined that conditions in the fall made it inadvisable to have football. No one is desirous of forgetting the serious business at hand but a clearer understanding of the situation would help on all sides. The chances are that such a course would clear the war for football and general athletics of a character less dependent upon large expenditures but quite enough to furnish interest and relaxation from what would otherwise be too depressing influences."

DRAYMAN'S FOOT CRUSHED Waynesboro, Pa., June 26.—Dean Werdebaugh, a drayman of Penmar, had his left foot crushed while attempting to load a large refrigerator on the wagon, and which fell upon him. He is confined to his room in the Evergreen cottage.

"Pete" Shickley, captain and catcher of the Stanley team of the Allison Hill League is topping that organization as batter for the contests that have been played to last Thursday. "Pete" has clouted the ball at a .428 clip, and it is his clever playing both at the bat and in the field that has inspired confidence into his teammates, giving them the lead at the present time.

Badorf, another Stanley player has the highest average in the league, but he has played in fewer games. A glance at the averages reveals the fact that 20 players are hitting at a .333 pace or better. The averages are made possible through the courtesy of the secretary of the league. He has compiled his figures giving the number of innings played, rather than, the number of the contests. At present six innings are gone through before darkness descends.

Hawkey Is Satting Pace

Captain and Manager Hawley is showing the way to the rest of the Galahad nine. He has the top average of .384. Shaffer is leading the Rosewood clouters with a stick average of .388. Earl Killinger is close at his heels with .333. McCurdy, with .571, and Ibach, with an average of .429, are the leading willow artists for the Reading tossers.

The averages as compiled by the secretary of the league, are as follows:

N. S. Badorf, a member of the Shickley is the real leader of the Alison Hill League with an average of .600, but Peter Shickley, his teammate, is the real leader as Shickley has played in every game and is hitting the ball at a .428 clip.

Johnnie Garber, a Rosewood player and E. E. McCurdy and Vic Ibach, both Reading players, are showing up well with the stick.

H. Washinger of the Stanley team, a pitcher, is clouting the ball at a 428 clip and Challenger, another pitcher, with Rosewood, is hitting 333.

Each of the four clubs represented in the Allison Hill League, namely, the Galahad R. C., Reading A. A., Rosewood A. C. and Stanley A. C. have large followings and the closeness of the league has created a great deal of interest in the games. THE ULTIMATE

Since the world is running red
With its dying and its dead,
And the crimson flow is even dripping daily from the sky,
Where each river, hill and plain
Knows its ghastly carmine stain—
So the only solace left is where the Red Cross banners fly.

There are those who may not fight Nor keep watch beyond the night, Where so many million others face the chance that comes to die; Eut for those who may not go There's no greater aid to know Than to help the helping legions where the Red Cross banners fly.

FALLS FROM CHERRY TREE
Waynesboro, Pa., June 26.—Leonard Saunders fell from a cherry tree yesterday and broke his left arm in two places.

THE UMP AUTOMATON

Dear Sir: I have never believed in all players assaulting or cursing umpires. I believe the umpire should be given complete authority or rule the game. But in the last year or two I have noted an increased arrogance on the part of umpires, who have shown that a little authority enlarged rowly tactics on the part of the player immediately. But he should be an automaton. He has no right to help provoke trouble by entering into any argument. His place is to bring order about, not to produce disorder.

One of the main troubles is that a number of our umpires have lately developed artistic temperament. And artistic temperament and umpiring are further apart than any other two things in the world, including the two poles and war and peace.

"Submarine sinkings rise." Has some wily inventor discarded the stee and wooden boat for the cork ship?

FATE AND THE ENSEMBLE
Fate blocks the road for the halting crew
Who fade from the drive with the goal in view;
Fate has a joit that is seven ply
For those afraid of another try;
Fate is a mammoth of brawn and might,
But Fate is a quitter to those who fight.

There are excessively few good umpires. Most of them are several degrees below par. But for all that we observe no mad stampede on the part of the populace to fill the gaps and improve conditions.

You can get 10,000,000 men to fight along the front lines in Europe. But getting 1,000 willing to umpire is beyond any reasonable hope. Not even the draft would be sufficient.

THE RED ROAD

Here goes the world that we used to know,
Floundering on through the crimson glow,
World of monarchs and world of slaves,
Stumbling over its new-made graves,
Driving on to the goal ahead
Over the living and over the dead.
But, after all, though a trifle bad,
It's the only world we have ever had.
"Why," asks a Pennsylvania critic, "do you insist on boosting Alexander over Johnson?" We don't. But we have mentioned the former oftener of late because he is a vital factor in a pennant race and the other star isn't.

There are better batsmen in the game than Wally Pipp, the Yankee 75, but when it comes to driving mates over the plate he has no superior—not even Cobb or Speaker. Last season he led both as a pinch-hitter extraordinary, and only recently in three successive games he drove in ten precious tallies with his long range firing.

Memorial Bed For Hero on Harvard Football Team

On Harvard Football Ieam

Paris June 26.—In an American Ambulance Hospital at Neuilly there has recently been endowed a bed, "in memory of Dilwyn Parrish Starr." a famous Harvard quarterback. The endowment is unique in that each convalescent soldier who leaves it will be supplied with fifty francs ($10). The Porcelain Club at Harvard will maintain the bed for at least one year, and may extend the endowment throughout the war. Starr was killed "somewhere in France," September 15, 1916, when as lieutenant in the Coldstream Guards, he led in a successful assault on an enemy trench. He had previously had charge of a machinegun section in Gallipoli. Three thousand Americans by individual gifts have so far supported this hospital and 100 cents of every dollar contributed goes to actual hospital relief.

Manager Frank Heisey of the Har-risburg Division team is whipping a fast bunch into shape for champion-ship honors. He has been shaped to the field during the game with Washington Saturday.
