TUESDAY EVENING,

GENERAL PERSHING'S NEPHEW JOINS THE ARMY

One, of the men in the ranks under General John J. Pershing in France may be his nephew Frank Pershing, a student at the University of Chicago, who was sworn in the other day as a private. Young Pershing led seventy students of the university to the recruiting officer, Captain Franklin R. Kenny, and after he had taken the oath he passed the physical examination.

esting facts were brought out as to Perlman's business activities which finally culminated in the disclosure of the arrest of Perlman in England for fraud and deceit, a jail term and flight from England while on bail. Perlman would not admit or deny the facts presented to him, but took refuge in repeated lapse of memory on these points.

At the end of the cross-examination, the attorneys for the Perlman Rim Corporation moved to dismiss, thereby shutting off further disclosures by the Firestone Company which they stated would have been startling. Judge Hand ailowed the case to be dismissed although he stated that it was against his wishes, but he was bound by a long line of proceedings of the public is that the state of the company of Chicago Gets More

The Liberty Loan
By JOSEPH A. AITSHELER of the Vigilantes

No other financial measure ever a $50 Liberty Bond; if not outright taken by the United States has the peculiar and attractive qualities of the Liberty Loan. It makes a triple appeal—to patriotism, to sound national finance, and to personal thrift. At one of the most critical moments in all history the American republic has intervened on behalf of human right and freedom, and to which have just as much right to which have just as much right to which have just as much right to which have just as a much right to which when they move to the front.

When they move to the front. In the weath of the wholes of our own big guns when they move to the front. In the world, and which is intended neither for the rich alone, nor for the poor, alone, nor alone for the poor as well as the rich can help to build up the mightly bull wark of finance which supports a country in battle, and without which armies and navies are imported to the poor, alone the poor alone for the poor

Chicago, June 27.—While in front of the Haymarket theater the other night one grandmother stabbed the other. The women were Mrs. Rebecca Risnokis, sixty-seven years old, No. 1837 Yeaton street, and Mrs. Martha Albert, seventy years old, Racine avenue, near Hastings street. Mrs. Albert stabbed Mrs, Risnokis during a quarrel over trade territory. Both are sellers of gum. The women were arrested.

FREE BED TILL DAWN IF OUT AFTER TWELVE

Uniontown, Pa., June ".".—If you're out after midnight in Uniontown and are unable to give a satisfactory excuse, you'll receive a free bed until morning, in the city police station. Such decree was handed down by Mayor George M. Bailey, who proclaimed a midnight curfew. Recent holdups and robberies have become so common that the Mayor takes this method of procedure to keep all honest persons indoors. The edict applies to both men and women.
