DR. DIXON ISSUES ANNUAL WARNING

Gives List of Antitoxin Distributors For Fourth of July Victims

Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, State Health Commissioner, to-day issued a warning against Fourth of July accidents and told of preparations the Health Department has made so that there would be ready all over the State an immediate supply of tetanus antitoxin to save those threatened with lockjaw from burns or wounds.

"Pennsylvania in the past," says Dr. Dixon, "has had too large a list of accidents resulting from Fourth of July celebrations. It is to be hoped that this will be altered this year by the growing sentiment for a safe and sane celebration, all the more appropriate on account of the time we find ourselves in."

"Restrictive measures relative to the use of fireworks and firearms is the only means by which this can be accomplished. War's toll of lives is unavoidable, but sacrifice of human life for play is inexcusable.

"In order that such accidents are allowed to occur may not be followed by deaths from tetanus, or lockjaw, as it is commonly called, the Health Department has made arrangements for the State-wide distribution of tetanus antitoxin. This will be furnished without cost to the poor. The State will not permit anyone to suffer for want of antitoxin."

"It is essential that tetanus antitoxin be administered within twenty-four hours after the wound has been received. Any physician can secure immunizing doses of 1,500 units upon application, if he will certify that it is for the treatment of persons too poor to pay, or those unable to obtain it anywhere else.

"Do not consider wounds from explosions or other Fourth of July causes trivial. Send for the physician at once. If it is impossible to secure his immediate attendance, wash out the wound thoroughly with boiled water, using it as hot as it can be borne. Remove every particle of foreign matter and until the doctor arrives apply wet cloths saturated with a solution made by adding a teaspoonful of salt to a pint of boiling water."

Jovian League Will Aid Soldiers' Families

The Jovian League of Harrisburg at a dinner meeting at Menger's Suburban Inn, near Camp Hill, last evening voted to join the movement for the care of soldiers' families during their terms of enlistment. Twenty-two members were in attendance and the vote in support of the resolution was unanimous. The league is made up of the electrical men of the city.

"The Jovians, like all other Harrisburgers," said President John S. Musser, following the meeting, "feel that they ought to contribute their mite toward the patriotic efforts now being put forth to make easier the lot of the man who sacrifices so much in going to the front. They are not strong numerically and so have decided to do what they can toward the relief of the families of soldiers who may be in need of aid during the periods of the war."

MAKE PLANS FOR SOLUTION OF FARM PROBLEM

Work of Organization to Secure Help Is Under Way in Many States

Washington, D. C., June 28.—Under the government plan for the organization of farm labor, the details of which were announced by the United States Department of Agriculture to-day, provision is made for nationwide co-operation in the solution of the farm help problem. The work of organization already has been started in about forty States, and it is expected that eventually every community in the United States will be reached. It is believed that the resultant utilization of emergency labor will begin to have an appreciable effect on the farm labor situation before the season has far advanced. Meanwhile, the immediate and acute problem of supplying labor for the harvests, now beginning in the Southwest, is being handled, so far as the United States government's services are concerned, through the existing employment service of the United States Department of Labor, which will continue to handle such problems of mass mobilization under the new plan as it has in the past.

CHRISTLEY'S ACTS ARE DESCRIBED

Dr. Bill Tells of Man's Behavior Who Is on Trial For Murder of Wife

Much of the interest to-day in the trial of John O. Christley, charged with shooting his wife last July 11, centered on the testimony of Dr. George E. Bill, 819 North Third street, who was called as a witness by the defense in an effort to prove Christley insane.

Dr. Bill took of an examination of Christley in January, when according to the physician, the defendant said he had mistrusted his wife from the time of their marriage. When first called, District Attorney Stroup objected to the testimony of Dr. Bill, asking the court to rule whether the physician is an authority on nervous diseases. The court decided to let the physician testify.

As part of the evidence, Dr. Bill gave measurements of Christley's head, told of his actions and conversation, and his unfounded jealousy of Mrs. Christley. Cross examination is expected to start some time this afternoon, but it is not probable that the case will reach the jury late to-day.

BAPTISM IN RIVER

New Cumberland, Pa., June 28.—On Sunday next, baptismal and communion service will be held in Trinity United Brethren Church, at 6:30 a. m. a service will be held at the river for those desiring to be baptized by immersion. The Rev. A. R. Ayres will be assisted by the Rev. J. H. Hutchison during the services throughout the day.

Relatives Called

Relatives of Christley were called during the morning to tell of his queer actions shortly before the murder of his wife, among these his small son, Edward, and 11-year-old daughter, Evelyn. When the children were called, Christley betrayed emotion as they told of his peculiar behavior. Several times he restrained himself when just about to leave his chair and go to them.

As the other witnesses testified both yesterday and to-day the prisoner sat watching intently. Several times he glanced at the jury or turned to look at relatives sitting back of him.

In courtroom No. 2, before Judge Henry, the case against Rachael Bell, charged with pandering, was closed.

The trial of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Miller of near Hummelstown, held on a charge of involuntary manslaughter, because of the death of their 21-year-old son, may be started late in the afternoon.
