Inundation of Fields Taken as Last Resort to Check British Advances Indicates Teutons Have Lost Hope of Advancing; Revolution Forecast Unless Quick Victory Bolsters Courage

Canadian Headquarters in France, (by Canadian Press Limited) June 29, via. London. - Success, unexpectedly great and complete at a cost in casualties far less than in some recent unimportant engagements has attended the drive of the Canadians along the valley of the Souchez toward Lens, during the last week.

The gain of ground is greater than in any action since the capture of Vimy ridge, and the land restored to France includes some of her most productive coal mines

Germany's Great Army

Lying out in the water-soaked ground along the Souchez river this atternoon still under fire are the troops who attacked the enemy at 1.39 o'clock on Thursday morning in the outskirts of Avion. The Germans put up a resistance so strong that some of the advanced parties were forced to retire. At 7 o'clock in the morning they attacked again, and after hard hand-to-hand fighting, the result of which was seen in the number of German dead remaining on the field, they pressed forward toward the western part of the One of the most interesting sections of the European fighting front just now is the Verdun region where a series of violent German attacks is taking place.

Whether these assaults are anytuter exhaustion, in a downpour of torrential rain.

Most Satisfactory
The situation on Friday afternoon is regarded as most satisfactory. The enemy by damming the Souchez river, by lowing up the highway and the railway bridges crossing the canal, and by obstructing the connecting channels through the marshes in the region southwest of Lens, has placed a belt of inuntated land between himself and the Canadian corps along a front of Landaian corps along a front of more than a mile. The inundations are a cover to a weakness the enemy would not have betrayed even a few months ago because they reveal his intention to wage a purely defensive warfare along this part of the line. There are daily increasing signs that the German munpower is no longer what it was. The number of enemy troops in the field appears that the German munpower is nonger ear to get what it was. The number of enemy troops in the field appears that the German munpower is nonger that of an assured victory.

Dundee, June 20.—"We have drivenent the great army of Germany underground," said Premier Lloyd George in a speech here to-day, "When a great army is driven to these tactics it is the beginning of these tactics it is the beginning of the end; it means that we are pounding a sense of inferiority into every pore of the German military mind.

"It is good for the war, is even better for after the war. As long as the Prussians have an idea of superiority in their minds Europe will not be a decent place for people to live in peace. It will be easier after this."

The Prussian, said Mr. Lloyd George, has many virtues but a sense of humility has never been among them. The Premier added that the Prussian is now being taught the virtue of humility with a fierce and relentless lash.

Mr. I-loyd George said that if necessary the government would resort to the exchance in order that the price of bread should be within the compass of the bulk of the people.

London, June 30 .- While we ing the food situation, for we cannot navy took the water here to-day forth, there is no ear at present that the Germans will force England to adopt compulsory rationing because of their submarine campaign, said Baron Rhondda, the food controller, to the American correspondents to-day, Baron Rhondda, added that the voluntary rationing system was working admirably and the crops of the country were doing well.

In regard to his plans for food control, he declared that he was first of all going to consider the interests of the consumer and he was very sanguine that he would be able to control, the water here to-day from the yards of the New York Shipbuilding Company, when the superdreadnaught Idaho, sister ship a to the Pennsylvania, flagship of the talantic fleet, was successfully claunched. of the consumer and he was very sanguine that he would be able to abolish excessive profits in food-stuffs and to reduce prices.

Referring to the American food bill, Baron Rhondda said: "I am watching the final stages of American food legislation with profound interest and admiration for its comprehensiveness and far-sightedness. When the Senate settles many knotty points that were bound to arise and when food administration becomes part of the American governmental machinery, all the entente allied ministries will be able to make their provisions for the future both as regards the supply and prices with a far greater degree of certainty."

President's Stand For Beer and Wine Subject of Severe Criticism

The following telegram was sent o President Wilson by the Rev. Dr. ilas C. Swallow, protesting against he President's stand in favor of the anulacture of beer and wine dur-ing the war period:

nanufacture of beer and wine during the war period:

This evening's papers state that you stand against the Senate and the House, and for the Brewers, Booze and Bedlam, instead of for the bakers and bread and bravery. I hope it is not true, for it would prolong the war, needlessly sacrifice a million more precious lives, smirch a Christian Nation now appealed to by the best element of all nations for the establishment and perpetuation of a of all nations for the establishment and perpetuation of a world democracy, and send your name down into history linked with that of Nero, who fiddled white Rome burned, instead of, as the pier of Washington, Lincoln and Lafayette. A single sentence sometimes seals a man's destiny for time and eternity.

I beseech you, Brother, to contradict in to-morrow morning's papers this rumor if false; because if confirmed, or uncontradicted, it will give the brutal Kaiser a new lease of life.

The churches of America are praying for you. You have the power under, God to answer their prayers.
