of Expense

Women everywhere are realizing he economical results to be attained through knowledge how to do their own and their family's sewing and plain dressmaking. Clothes are a big item in the expense budget of every household, and the woman in the home who makes her own and her children's clothing cuts this expense down to about one-third, at the same time having clothes that are better made and more suited to her require-ments.

made and more suited to her requirements.

Naturally, every woman doesn't know how to sew, nor has she the time and money necessary to octain this knowledge at a resident school. The place to study home problems is in the home itself, and the woman in the home is realizing more each day the value of correspondence instruction in making herself proficient.

GOOD AND BAD POSSIBILITIES OF CITY BACKYARDS ARE SHOWN BY PICTURES

The accompanying pictures show the good and bad possibilities that lie in the backyards of Harrisburg. They were made by a TELEGRAPH otographer at the suggestion of James Evans, 84 North Seventeenth street, who has been instrumental in the removal of backyard board nees and the beautification of backyards at Regina and Seventeenth streets. The flower-laden yards are those of that district. Two other ctures show how backyards should not be. The fourth is a rose hedge in Portland, Oregon.
