There's not a quiet minute from the moment his beaming countenance first flashes before you until you get it—sad, but true. "The End" in addition to the comedy, "Markita," of the destruction of Carthage, a spectacular and remarkable photoplay in five parts, will be presented.

Lovers of romantic, exciting stories, stories of red blood and the great out-of-doors, will be fascinated with "The Law of the North," which is to be the feature attraction at the Regent next Monday.

If you have not already done so this week, you want to get in line this evening for a seat in the Paxtang Park Theater. The bill at the park theater this week is one that you don't want to miss if you like shows with plenty of good music, bright comedy, and pretty girls with lots of pep. The feature attraction of the park show is the tabloid musical comedy, "What's Your Name?" The act is without doubt one of the most successful headlines the park has had this season...

ANOTHER PROFIT-SHARING PLAN AT THE GLOBE

Two years ago Ben Strouse, owner of The Globe Clothing Store, 322-324 Market street, applied Henry Ford's idea of profit-sharing to men's clothing. It was arranged that if 1,000 men's and boys' suits were sold before a given date a bonus of 5 per cent. of the original purchase price would be refunded to every purchaser...

In every one of the past campaigns, it is reported, The Globe passed the 1,000 mark. The Globe Sale Clock will record the progress of another big sale this month. This clock is a huge dial hung on the front of The Globe Building and its arrow daily moves on over the numbers until the campaign ends. This year the campaign will begin on Saturday, July 7, and ends on August 25.

At the close of the campaign checks for the 5 per cent. bonus will be mailed to all participants. Full particulars of this event, along with special offerings, will be announced from time to time.

HOAX WORKED ON DRAFT MEN

Rumor Started in Marysville Yards Pretended to Give Numbers Draw

Marysville, Pa., July 7.—Hearts of eleven Marysville mothers beat a little faster yesterday morning; minds of eleven Marysville young men were endeavoring to reconcile their owners to the fact that they would soon be leaving their home town and all its beloved nooks and crannies. And all this came as a result of a gross hoax perpetrated on Marysville residents...

Early yesterday morning railroad employees in all sections of the Marysville preference freight yards of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company were told that the draft of men for military service had been made, that the numbers of the preference men to go to the trenches had been received. And American people are not hard to convince, either. Then, too, with the publication in yesterday morning's papers of the fact that the draft would be ready within a day or so, Marysville people were quick to give credence to the report, thinking that the selections might have been made sooner than expected.

The report originated in the Marysville yards shortly after midnight on the morning of July 6. The originator of the hoax has not been learned. The persons who would have been selected for duty were those holding registration cards bearing the serial numbers 1, 17, 61, 62, 67, 100, 107, 111, 119, 145 and 148.

Lykens Raises $1,000 For Red Cross by Town Picnic

Lykens, Pa., July 7.—This old town scored a record-breaker on July 4, when a total of $1,000 was raised for the Red Cross. When it is taken into consideration that the population is about 2,000 and was secured previously for the Liberty Loan and other war subscriptions, Wednesday's achievement is all the more creditable.

There was a big town picnic, held within the limits of the borough, and everybody attended. Amusements were many and ice cream, cakes and other refreshments were sold. Dancing was another feature. After all bills had been paid Mrs. D. V. Randall, the chairman in charge, announced the total profits to be $1,000.

A Performance That Proved

This is the story of one of the most gruelling tests to which an automobile was ever subjected.

Remember as you read it that the car was a Series 18 Studebaker taken from a dealer's stock, that there were no trained service-men at specially established "controls" to care for it, that the trip itself was not "factory planned," that it was just an ordinary tour.

No Special Preparations On May 20th last, this Studebaker car left San Francisco as the pilot car for a caravan of advertising men going to the St. Louis convention. No special preparations were made as far as the car was concerned. The trip was to be a long one—but nothing unusual was expected. The first two days were pleasant and the roads were good. Seas of 'Dobe Mud' The third day found the party at Lovelock, Nevada, in a pouring rain. The harder it rained, the stickier and more tenacious became the 'dobe mud. In places the pools were hub deep. This mud was cement-like in its consistency—it took a pick and shovel to remove it from the wheels. Yet the Studebaker car pulled sturdily along and showed ample reserve power for conditions even more difficult. This lasted for three days until they reached Salt Lake City. Over the Rockies in a Blizzard Leaving Salt Lake City they started for Evanston, Wyoming, traveling the latter half of the distance through one of the hardest rainstorms imaginable—the road was washed out and the car had to find its own way over rocks and along ledges that seemed impassable. Starting from Evanston for Fort Bridger they ran into a blizzard, which at lower levels turned into rain. The road was a veritable canal. At one point they only made nine miles in five hours (the picture above shows why). More Rain and Mud All the way through Colorado the rain continued—and kept up as the car struggled through the gumbo mud of Western Kansas. Even between Topeka and Kansas City the roads were in awful condition. Arrived in Perfect Running Condition At Kansas City the clouds lifted, the sun shone and the rest of the run to St. Louis was made without incident. Despite its all but unsurmountable difficulties the Studebaker car arrived in St. Louis only 2 1/2 hours behind schedule in perfect running condition and having only changed one tire during the entire trip. So well had it come through its terrible experience that the car was driven on to Detroit to the Studebaker factories without any overhauling whatsoever. This performance is further proof of the remarkable durability of Studebaker cars—a durability that is due to one thing only—the mechanical perfection of this splendid automobile. Any car that will come through a test like this in perfect running condition—any car that will perform as this one did is worth your serious consideration—you owe it to yourself to get a Studebaker demonstration before you buy any car.

There will be no change in Studebaker models this year, but the increased cost of materials and labor may force Studebaker to make an advance in prices at any time without notice.
