BAND OF GYPSIES CAUSES TROUBLE

Members Take Money at Dillsburg and Are Fined and Ordered Out of Town

Dillsburg, Pa., July 9.—A band of gypsies, traveling by automobile, encamped in Wagner's woods, on the Gettysburg road, near town on Friday. They visited the stove store of J. A. Smith, made a small purchase and while Mr. Smith was making change one of the band deftly slipped $5 from the drawer. The money was shortly missed and Constable Weaver put on the trail of the supposed offender. He succeeded in getting the money back and the offender was fined $2.50 on Saturday morning. One of the band visited the Philadelphia and Reading station at the D. and M. junction, and while the agent was temporarily absent stole $10. Mr. Weaver was again notified and again succeeded in securing the return of the money and the offender was fined and the band notified to move on. Maxine Karns, the TELEGRAPH carrier, was attacked on Friday evening by one of the gypsy band and the sleeve of her dress was torn. It is thought that the gypsy was after the proceeds of the evening sales.
