

HARRISBURG TELEGRAPH

A NEWSPAPER FOR THE HOME

Founded 1837. Published evenings except Sunday by THE TELEGRAPH PRINTING CO., Telephone Building, Federal Square.

E. J. STACKPOLE, Pres't & Editor-in-Chief. F. R. OYSTER, Business Manager. GUS M. STEINMETZ, Managing Editor.

Member American Newspaper Publishers' Association, the Audit Bureau of Circulation and Pennsylvania Associated Dailies.

Eastern office, Story, Brooks & Finley, Fifth Avenue Building, New York City.

By carriers, ten cents a week; by mail, $5.00 a year in advance.

TUESDAY, JULY 10, 1917

Be noble, and the nobleness that lies in other men, sleeping but never dead.

Will rise in majesty to meet their own. —LOWELL.

THURSDAY CLOSING

RETAIL merchants of Harrisburg have determined to make the half-holiday uniform this year. Instead of the grocers closing one day and the other stores another day, all will close Thursday at noon.

GERMANY'S TROUBLES

GERMANY is face to face with another internal disturbance. Each time the demand for liberalization of the government is made and throttled the come-back is stronger.

GOOD SUGGESTION

THE newly organized police civil service board would do well to avail itself of the offer of the Chamber of Commerce to have Mr. Driscoll, the police expert who made the recent survey here, confer with the board.

KING CORN!

THIS year 3,124,000,000 bushels in the United States alone. And not one bushel of it to be turned into whiskey!

INTERNAL STRIFE

INTERNAL strife is beginning to stir in Germany. Leaders of thought are saying things and people are thinking along lines that would have meant prison before the war.

DO YOU KNOW

That Harrisburg's railroad population is growing in spite of Enola and Lucknow developments?

points. He points out that the Prussian citizen votes indirectly through electors and his voting strength depends on the amount of his income tax.

Politics in Pennsylvania

By the Ex-Committeeman

Discussion of the controversy over the right of the Governor to reappoint men rejected by the Senate seems to have given way in the newspapers of the State to weightier things and there is much interest in how Attorney General Brown makes out in his announced purpose of suggesting to Auditor General Snyder that he allow things to go as they are.

GIVE TO THESE

IN war countries millions of little children are without one mouthful of food—hundreds of thousands are in rags, and naked.

PLANTING THE WALL

THE appearance of the already beautiful river front will be greatly improved when the rippling below Maclay street has been tamped and planted.

More About Camp Curtin

THIS is from Penn's Column in the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin—An esteemed correspondent at Harrisburg, whose knowledge of State affairs is of the highest, writes:

PHILADELPHIA

I can lyricize ornately Of the city that sedately Stands upon the western bank of Delaware.

Stream Pollution

In the interest of an increased food supply, if for no other reason, steps should be taken to prevent the pollution of state streams by industries that yearly are destroying many tons of fish.

NOT THE MAN.

"She's going to marry a slacker." "You're wrong—no slacker would have the courage to marry her."

A GUILTY CONSCIENCE.

Rat Burglar—My, I wish those potatoes didn't have so many eyes. Make me kind of nervous!

A BANG FROM HODGE.

"I nearly died laughing last night." "Which one of your jokes were you telling?"

A HABIT OF HIS.

"That new recruit must have been a bookkeeper." "Why so?" "I just noticed him trying to put his bayonet behind his ear."

KELLY—THE PENALTY OF WINNING

By BRIGGS

EDITORIAL COMMENT

German mail is playing this "strategic retreat" thing into the ground.—Wall Street Journal.

THE PEOPLE'S FORUM

Fitness

To the Editor of the Telegraph: It seems to me that the important question at issue is being missed by Mitchell Palmer, and the papers that are discussing how the men in this state were selected for the various exemption boards.

Let Him Name One

To the Editor of the Telegraph: "Let 'Mitch' Palmer name one member of the exemption boards unfit for service and Governor Brumbaugh will see to his removal." The Governor, by the way, is not quite so narrow as Palmer. I notice that he has named for office one of the men said to have given Palmer the information on which he bases his absurd charges.

Will Do Her Bit

To the Editor of the Telegraph: I note by the papers that the President and Congress intend to let beer be made in unlimited quantities. That means that the total abstemious is asked to conserve on food while the beer drinker as you said recently is free to take a bath in beer.

Philadelphia

I can lyricize ornately Of the city that sedately Stands upon the western bank of Delaware.

Stream Pollution

In the interest of an increased food supply, if for no other reason, steps should be taken to prevent the pollution of state streams by industries that yearly are destroying many tons of fish.

NOT THE MAN.

"She's going to marry a slacker." "You're wrong—no slacker would have the courage to marry her."

A GUILTY CONSCIENCE.

Rat Burglar—My, I wish those potatoes didn't have so many eyes. Make me kind of nervous!

A BANG FROM HODGE.

"I nearly died laughing last night." "Which one of your jokes were you telling?"

A HABIT OF HIS.

"That new recruit must have been a bookkeeper." "Why so?" "I just noticed him trying to put his bayonet behind his ear."

CROP PEST LETTER

By Prof. J. G. Sanders, State Economic Zoologist

THE APPLE WORM

At least one-half of our apple crop is ruined each year by the apple worm, which is a pest that causes great damage to the half-grown crops, while the first brood causes the heavy 'June drop.'

LABOR NOTES

Policemen at Winnipeg, Canada, have organized a union. In two months Sheet Metal Workers' International Union has chartered seventeen new local unions.

THE LABORERS' ASSOCIATION

The Laborers' Association of Maynooth, Ireland, has by resolution condemned the government for guaranteeing the landlords a fixed price for their produce.

LEAGUE BUYING

League buying, or co-operative purchasing, in Washington, under the supervision of government officials, has resulted in a saving of $15 to $20 a month by those participating.

OUR DAILY LAUGH

"She's going to marry a slacker." "You're wrong—no slacker would have the courage to marry her."

A GUILTY CONSCIENCE.

Rat Burglar—My, I wish those potatoes didn't have so many eyes. Make me kind of nervous!

A BANG FROM HODGE.

"I nearly died laughing last night." "Which one of your jokes were you telling?"

A HABIT OF HIS.

"That new recruit must have been a bookkeeper." "Why so?" "I just noticed him trying to put his bayonet behind his ear."

WELL KNOWN PEOPLE

—Olin F. Harvey, Jr., who becomes lieutenant colonel of the Third artillery, was for years an officer in the Ninth Pennsylvania Infantry.

DO YOU KNOW

That Harrisburg's railroad population is growing in spite of Enola and Lucknow developments?

HISTORIC HARRISBURG

In old days the stagecoaches used to make Front and Mulberry streets one of their principal stops.

CONSCIENTIOUS EXECUTOR

A couple of Kentuckians, meeting in a feud district, according to an exchange, one asked the other: "Look here, Bill what did you shoot at me for? I ain't got no quarrel with you."

CONSCIENTIOUS EXECUTOR

A couple of Kentuckians, meeting in a feud district, according to an exchange, one asked the other: "Look here, Bill what did you shoot at me for? I ain't got no quarrel with you."

CONSCIENTIOUS EXECUTOR

A couple of Kentuckians, meeting in a feud district, according to an exchange, one asked the other: "Look here, Bill what did you shoot at me for? I ain't got no quarrel with you."

CONSCIENTIOUS EXECUTOR

A couple of Kentuckians, meeting in a feud district, according to an exchange, one asked the other: "Look here, Bill what did you shoot at me for? I ain't got no quarrel with you."

CONSCIENTIOUS EXECUTOR

A couple of Kentuckians, meeting in a feud district, according to an exchange, one asked the other: "Look here, Bill what did you shoot at me for? I ain't got no quarrel with you."

CONSCIENTIOUS EXECUTOR

A couple of Kentuckians, meeting in a feud district, according to an exchange, one asked the other: "Look here, Bill what did you shoot at me for? I ain't got no quarrel with you."

CONSCIENTIOUS EXECUTOR

A couple of Kentuckians, meeting in a feud district, according to an exchange, one asked the other: "Look here, Bill what did you shoot at me for? I ain't got no quarrel with you."

OUR DAILY LAUGH

"She's going to marry a slacker." "You're wrong—no slacker would have the courage to marry her."

A GUILTY CONSCIENCE.

Rat Burglar—My, I wish those potatoes didn't have so many eyes. Make me kind of nervous!

A BANG FROM HODGE.

"I nearly died laughing last night." "Which one of your jokes were you telling?"

A HABIT OF HIS.

"That new recruit must have been a bookkeeper." "Why so?" "I just noticed him trying to put his bayonet behind his ear."

OUR DAILY LAUGH

"She's going to marry a slacker." "You're wrong—no slacker would have the courage to marry her."

A GUILTY CONSCIENCE.

Rat Burglar—My, I wish those potatoes didn't have so many eyes. Make me kind of nervous!

A BANG FROM HODGE.

"I nearly died laughing last night." "Which one of your jokes were you telling?"

A HABIT OF HIS.

"That new recruit must have been a bookkeeper." "Why so?" "I just noticed him trying to put his bayonet behind his ear."

OUR DAILY LAUGH

"She's going to marry a slacker." "You're wrong—no slacker would have the courage to marry her."

A GUILTY CONSCIENCE.

Rat Burglar—My, I wish those potatoes didn't have so many eyes. Make me kind of nervous!

A BANG FROM HODGE.

"I nearly died laughing last night." "Which one of your jokes were you telling?"

A HABIT OF HIS.

"That new recruit must have been a bookkeeper." "Why so?" "I just noticed him trying to put his bayonet behind his ear."

OUR DAILY LAUGH

"She's going to marry a slacker." "You're wrong—no slacker would have the courage to marry her."

A GUILTY CONSCIENCE.

Rat Burglar—My, I wish those potatoes didn't have so many eyes. Make me kind of nervous!