Invaders Reach East Bank of the Yser Near the North particularly that or foreign affairs, Sea: Effects of Heavy Gun Fire Prevents English From Bringing Up Reinforcements; Initial Thrust Gains 1,400 Yard Front For Kaiser

Petrograd, July 11. - According to a telegram received from the general staff the pursuit of the enemy in Galicia continues. The capture of Halicz, strategic key to Lemberg, is confirmed, the Russians taking prisoners and more than thirty guns.

Just as the Russians in the east have torn a big gap in the Austro-German lines in Galicia capital, the Germans on the west-ern front have started a menacing offensive near the Belgian coast.

This movement, while it may turn out to be nothing but a local effort or something with which the British can cope after the shock of the first thrust, has been met, nevertheless indicates the possibility of a determined attempt to bend back the British flank on the Belgian coast and reach the French city of Dunkirk about 17 miles distant.

ITALIAN CROPS GOOD

Rome, July 11.—Crop prospects in Italy are promising. Wheat every-where is up to the average and in the south is unusually good.

Level Defenses

The Germans succeeded in their initial push by leveling the defenses through an intense bombardment for twenty-four hours and then attacking last evening over the devastated ground. The bridges across the Yser were destroyed by the heavy fire and the sending up of reinforcements was found impossible. Thus a penetration of 600 yards deep on a front of 1.400 yards was effected, the Germans pushing as far as the east bank of the Yser near the North Sea. The attack also extended further south, opposite Lombaertzyde, but here, after having temporarily driven in the British advanced line, a counterattack forced the Germans back to their original positions.

an incidental feature. Given secure

PEACE PROGRAM

Reichstag Members Differ on How War Shall Be Brought to Close

By Associated Press

Copenhagen, July 11.—The debate in the Reichstag main committee vesterday, according to reports received here, was opened by Dr. Gustav Stresmann, National Liberal, with a sharp attack on Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg's policy, particularly that or foreign affairs, which he characterized as being based on no definite consistent program. The Chancellor retorted by saying he was forced to look to all sides for support because the Reichstag offered him no stable majority. Give him this and he would be able to develop a consistent program, he said.

to develop a consistent program, as said.

The Vossische Zeitung adds that the Chancellor expressed readiness and willingness to carry through necessary internal reforms.

Horr David, Socialist, painted a picture of the difficult internal situation in Germany. He declared the existing dualism between the government and the people must cease. Thereofter the Chancellor again briefly spoke before the committee without reaching any decision.

Not For Conquest

Afternoon papers yesterday generally assumed that an agreement of all parties except Conservatives and Extreme Socialists had been extended by a joint declaration to the Extreme Socialists had been extended by a joint declaration to the Reichstag on peace terms and internal reforms. This, it is said, would contain a reiteration of the Chancellor's announcement of August, 1914, that Germany's purpose in the war was not conquest but defense and independence of territorial integrity, expressing a readiness to conclude peace on that basis with a provision rejecting all designs aiming at an economic boycott and continuance of international hostility after the war.

The declaration, according to report, would also cover the formation of a coalition ministry with representatives of all parties and immediate reform of the Prussian franchise.

Petrograd, July 11.—Russia is ringing with the name of the latest hero of the war, Lieutenant General L. G. Koriloff, victor of Galicia, whose astonishing feat first proved that the new advance is no mere that he most daring, chivalrous and is the most daring, chivalrous and is cholarly officer in the army. For a romantic rise from humble origin, Russia's history has only one parallel—that of Michel Vassilievitch Lomonosof, fisherman's son, poet, philosopher, creator of the modern Russian language, in the first half of the eighteenth century.

Chicago, July 11.—Directors of the National Association of Retail Clothiers, meeting here last night, adopted resolutions favoring reten-tion of present styles for men for the tion of present styles for men for the 1918 season and making a plea for noninflation of prices of clothing for the coming year.

The resolutions declare that dealers are now carrying a supply of men's clothing above normal and that a radical change in styles would be detrimental to them. The directors pledge themselves to hold prices to the lowest profit as a patriotic duty. sia.

At the outbreak of the revolution he was invited to command the troops of Petrograd, implying full confidence in revolutionary Russia. When the disorders arose General Korniloff, fearing the necessity of repression, resigned, saying he would sooner shoot the fee than his own countrymen. He took command of the Eighth army, whose brilliant exploit is due primarily to him.

Mr. Snyder said, after the meeting: "We have made the appropriation for this work and it might as well be started."

The action of the Board affected the state more than anyone else, as must move a dozen or more offices by August 15.
