When people advise a man or wo-man against marrying anyone who is afflicted, they have only one just basis for their bliedery. Nowadd a bus for their bliedery. Nowadd a bus the things which used to be regarded as tragically hereditary — tubercular trouble and a tendency to cancer — are proven by science as not neces-sarily curses to descend from one gen-eration to the next. Your sweetheart's trouble is her own personal tragedy— and there I think doctors will agree it ends. Then why should she be de-prived of love and happiness?
