

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD SHOOTERS PLAN BIG PROGRAM FOR SATURDAY JULY 21

GEORGE CHANEY TAKE HAND TRAP BESTS DUNDEE ON WATER TRIP

Lively Six-Round Bout in Open Air Furnishes Much Interest

Philadelphia, July 13.—George Chaney, of Baltimore, did not have much trouble getting the better of Johnny Dundee, of New York, last night in an open-air bout held at Shibe Park, the fight only being fast in flashes. At the beginning of the bout Dundee started to rush matters, but after Chaney had chopped the New Yorker several times with his heavy rights and lefts this somewhat slowed Dundee, who did not care to take a chance after the initial session.

Chaney got in several body smashes in the third round which appeared to carry lots of beef behind them, while they also held Dundee off from forcing the millage. After the third session Dundee, apparently not caring to get in too close, resorted to jabbing and trying to "duck" the return, but nine times out of ten never once allowed Dundee to take any liberties without giving more than he received.

Rain Interferes
At the beginning of the fifth session the weatherman opened the clouds, with the result that the ring proved slippery, both boys falling on more than one occasion in their attempt to land a decisive punch. However, those in charge of the arrangements sprinkled sawdust in the ring before the boys shook hands for the final round, with the result that both assumed a more thrilling aspect, as both boys held their feet better, several hard punches being exchanged, with the Baltimore lad having the edge.

Dundee seemed to have a great respect for Chaney's knockout punch, for not once did he allow the Baltimore lad to get set, the latter closing in or else covering every time that Chaney tried to whip over his sleep-producer. Chaney pummeled Dundee around the ring. He also showed a decided superiority when it came to boxing at a distance, which appeared just as fast as the New Yorker on his pins. A crowd of 6,000 witnessed the bout, all of whom had a good view of the fight from the grandstand seating the ring was situated at the home plate.

TAKE HAND TRAP ON WATER TRIP

No Excursion in Birch Bark Craft Complete Without Trapshooting

When the warm days of summer coax the wanderlust back to life in the breasts of owners of the birch bark craft, something is sure to happen. That something takes the form of a canoe trip in the case of a considerable number of men who love to dip their paddles in some sequestered stream, glide swiftly out of earshot of the hubbub and rush of a metropolis and enjoy the freedom and healthfulness of the open country.

A large proportion of those who take these trips feel that to come away without a gun is to leave an important accessory of the luggage behind. Still they are not satisfied to merely shoot at stationary targets, and under the new game laws, hunting has been restricted so that any new method of gratifying the natural desire to shoot meets with instant and enthusiastic approval wherever it involves moving targets.

The Hand Trap Welcomed
Hence the introduction of hand traps will meet the peculiar requirements of propellers of the birch bark as nothing else can. Weighing only six pounds and capable of folding into a compact bundle, the hand trap may be readily stowed under the thwart of the canoe, and upon landing is quickly and easily made ready to propel the "claws" with the speed of the wind or to launch sail straightaway out over the stream.

Any angle, from a right or left quartering "bird" to a dead straight one, and any distance up to 100 yards, with the "Skimmer" upside down, on edge or in any other conceivable position, may be released from this portable trap capable of sustaining the need of the most ardent "gun bug."

Trapshooting has formerly been impossible for the one who would combine the pleasures of canoeing with the thrills of smashing the elusive clay birds, but hereafter parties of canoeists will prolong their stay in camp in order to prove their skill at "killing" these "birds" ere they reach the opposite shore, and other parties paddling down stream will use this portable trap capable of sustaining the need of the most ardent "gun bug."

TWO CHAMPIONS WHO WILL FIGHT FOR TITLE

JOHNNY KILBANE

Benny Leonard, champion lightweight of the world, and Johnny Kilbane, champion featherweight of the United States, will meet July 25 for the lightweight championship of the world at Shibe Park, Philadelphia. The park is the home of the American League baseball club of that city. Each is to weigh in at 133 pounds at the ringside and each will receive $10,000 for the six rounds. If Kilbane knocks out Leonard he will win the lightweight championship. But if Leonard knocks out Kilbane he will win nothing but money and honor.

BROTHERS WIN IN GOLF MATCH

Edwards Boys Meet Onimel and Anderson in Semi-Finals Today

Chicago, July 13.—Donald Edwards, medalist, will play Francis Onimel, former national champion, and Kenneth Edwards will play John G. Anderson, of New York, in the 36-hole semifinals of the Western Amateur Golf championship today, as a result of yesterday's matches at the Midlothian Country Club, the home of the Edwards brothers.
Onimel had a runaway match with Peter Barnett, a youthful Chicagoan, winning 14 up and 13 to play. Donald Edwards eliminated Jack Kelly, Argentinian champion, 3 and 2. Kenneth Edwards ousted Jesse Guilford, Massachusetts champion, 1 up, after a grueling contest in which Guilford set a course record of 71 in the forenoon and gained a lead of four holes.

Anderson, coming from behind when Ned Sawyer fell off on the last nine, defeated the former Western champion 1 up.
Longage Gallery Sees Good Golf
Most of the large gallery followed the Sawyer and Anderson match, and saw good golf most of the 36 holes.
Sawyer made the first round in 75 to Anderson's 77. For seven of the third nine, Sawyer shot an even par, but losing three of the last nine holes. Anderson sank long downhill putts for a 3 and a 2, each under par, both scoring par for the third quarter.

From this point, Sawyer was off his gait, coming home with 42 to Anderson's 37. Sawyer topped the second of the twenty-ninth hole from the rough to the creek and lost the hole. He halved the next two in par, but found rough and traps on the thirty-first and the match was squared.
He stayed square on the next hole by a nifty thirty-foot sloping putt, after putting his second in a pit. Anderson was trapped at the next green and made his opponent one up again, only to square the struggle on the thirty-fourth, where Sawyer again went west.

The Easterner took the lead by pitching a 140-yard mashie eight inches from the seventeenth cup for a birdie that he won the battle by halving the thirty-sixth hole in par four. His total was 73 for this round, against Sawyer's 78.
Binghamton Players Sore Over Cut in Salaries
Binghamton, N. J., July 13.—The Binghamton team greatly felt the effect of the 25 per cent. salary reduction yesterday, when several players decided to camp elsewhere than Johnson City for the remainder of the season.
Among those who will seek new baseball pastures are Frank Caporel, formerly with the Colonels, who was traded this year to Binghamton, and possibly Wheat. The reason for his departure is his reason for a change of heart, but that he wishes a change in scenery. It is announced that Caporel and his wife have been furnished transportation to Mt. Clemens, Mich.
Lefty Braithwood, another pitcher and Outfielder Daniel Senno were given their releases. John Miljus states that he probably will go to his home in Pittsburgh or join another club outside the State League.

It is believed here that Frock, Irving, Kay, Shields, Wagner, Hartman, Pepe, Barnhardt, Murphy and Ancker will stick with Binghamton and possibly Wheat.
It is stated that Braithwood has an offer from Port Wayne in the Central League, but may return to Monessen, Pa., where he can make pitching two games a week in semi-pro games. Senno may land with an International League club.
Good Scores at Milton; Lock Haven Team Wins
Milton, Pa., July 13.—In spite of almost impossible weather conditions the second registered tournament of the Susquehanna Trapshooters League was a decided success yesterday. The team race was won by Lock Haven, with State College second, and Milton Sportsman's Association third. W. C. Letterman, of Lewisport, was high, with 99 out of 100 targets. N. P. Herman, of Lock Haven, broke 98. Dr. F. A. Robinson, of State College, and Brian Teasdale, of Northumberland, tied with 97. O. S. Skid was high professional with 97. The Merchandise Handicap was a tie between W. L. Foster and J. E. Kysler, with six hits for second place.
The scores in the 100-target event were as follows: Godcharles, 95; Wilhelm, 90; Lewis, 84; Stewart, 88; Adams, 88; Kift, 76; Stewart, 88; Louie, 94; Myers, 89; Bridgens, 81; Howell, 84; Nails, 88; Cummings, 84; Skid, 97; Burger, 80; Johnson, 82; Kysler, 85; Herman, 98; Rich, 82; Stevenson, 85; Housel, 81; Pieffer, 85; Cleaver, 72; Mrs. Boyer, 85; Strine, 92; Letterman, 93; Slaughterbach, 84; Teasdale, 97; Kysler, 91; Rishel, 87; Ham, 95; Fisher, 92; Stecker, 77; Robinson, 97; Foster, 92.

Evans Plays For Red Cross; Challenges Match Winner
Minneapolis, July 13.—Charles "Chick" Evans, Chicago, paired with Harry G. Legg, Minneapolis amateur, defeated Arthur Clarkson and Thomas Stevens, Minneapolis professionals, 2 up and 1 to play, in an 18-hole best ball foursome for the benefit of the Red Cross at the Minnehaha Club golf course yesterday. It was Evans' second appearance in an exhibition benefit match here this week.
During the past few weeks nearly $17,000 is said to have been raised for the Red Cross at exhibition games in which Evans has played. Evans said he would be willing to meet the winner of the Western amateur golf tournament, now being played at Chicago, in a match for the benefit of the Red Cross. It is the first season Evans had not participated in the tourney.

Bostonians—worry proof
Frankly now, men, isn't your greatest shoe worry over the fact that your shoes lose their shape so quickly? Get away from shoe worry. Bostonians are the answer. Style, comfort and wearability are built into our narrow and wide widths.

WELLY'S CORNER

At a largely-attended meeting last night of the Dauphin Athletic Association, Manager Charles Lyter resigned as leader of the Dauphin-Perry League team. His successor will be Charles (Ducky) Rhoades, the well-known catcher. Dauphin is out for the pennant and the members of the members of the association are anxious to make good. Baseball will be a popular sport in that town for a long time. A popularity contest is now on and the prospects look encouraging.

Ruxton A. C. will go to Hershey tomorrow for a game with the Business Men's Club of that place. Ruxton has been a strong attraction all season and an interesting game is promised.
Manager Shorty Miller with his Steelton team will have to show something extra to-morrow in the game with Fore River. Steelton has only a few games to play in the league series and in order to win out will have to add a victory every Saturday from now until the close. Bethlehem is leading, but has no cinch as yet on the pennant. The game to-morrow will start at 3 o'clock. Many local fans find these games interesting.

For the first time in many weeks Harrisburg's Motive Power team will to-morrow present champions form. Line-up under Manager Jack Frey looks strong and in the game with New York at Island Park the locals are expected to show some speed. These games are not only big attraction with railroaders, but many fans who have a Saturday half holiday find much interest. The Motive Power team is made up of railroad employees and while the season has not been very encouraging recent change has brought renewed activity and enthusiasm.
Those Athletics are showing a pace that must not be overlooked. Yesterday Ray Bates was the hero who figured in the latest victory. Mack men are furnishing many thrills.
Hagerstown is now leading the Blue Ridge League with 10 points to the good. Yesterday the Marylander took Hanover into camp. It is going to be a hot finish between Martinsburg and Hagerstown.
Teams in the New York State League are off on their second series. With one exception, yesterday game were close. Binghamton walked all over Syracuse. Wilkes-Barre, winner of the first series, is keeping up the pace and may be obliged to play a post-season for championship honors.

THE HALF-MILE POST

Sixteen major league clubs have just skidded past the half-mile post on their jaunt in the general direction of Pennantville or Flagtown-on-the-Pike.
Twelve of these sixteen clubs are now running for exercise, Sweeney and the gate.
Another, the Philly contingent, is still around, but a second choice. If the half-mile post is to offer any line upon the finish it is now merely a matter as to whether the Giants are to meet the White Sox or the Red Sox next October.

THREE REMAIN

The Giants are not entirely out of danger by several kilometers, but they have enough stuff to win with, barring only an epidemic of accidents and casualties.
But the American League race is another matter. The Tigers have slipped badly. The Browns have disappeared; the Cleveland Indians have suffered a big drop from last year's standing at this date, and the Yankees, handicapped by a weak batting outfield, have practically no chance to win. This leaves the same two ball clubs which finished 1-2 last season to carry on the debate.
The two Sox only remain in the battle of the Red and White. And these two clubs undoubtedly will be the sole survivors at the mouth of the dusty stretch.

THE SOX JUBILEE

A world series between New York and Chicago clubs would carry the greater effect in a spectacular way, as these two crowded citadels have never met in any post-season championship debate.
But this doesn't mean that New York and Chicago are to meet. Boston has arranged a world series affair in four of the last five years, until now she begins to look upon the October windup as an institution. The Red Sox won in 1912, the Braves in 1914, the Red Sox in 1915 and the Yankees, with one exception, 1913, a world championship banner has been fluttering above the Massachusetts metropolis since 1912.
A good many of the present Red Sox outfit have already known three world series championships. Most of the others have known two. They are a seasoned, hard fighting bunch—at their best under heavy fire or out upon hostile soil. They have Ruth, Leonard, Shore and Mays, all in first class condition, with Foster and Penneck showing improved form. The White Sox have their work cut out to keep this delegation in subjection, once the two clubs get within sight of the stretch.

THE 1916 DEFICIT

The White Sox look to be a better ball club than they were last year. They have been getting better pitching and have been more consistent in their general play. And last year's finish between the two was close enough. Here it is:
Red Sox—Won 91, lost 63. Percentage, .591.
White Sox—Won 89, lost 65. Percentage, .578.
Briefly, the Red Sox finally triumphed by the narrow margin of two games. And this margin was established on Boston's last visit to Chicago, where Carrigan's club won the series. This means that one single series decided the pennant race, which is about as close as one would have it. Both Chicago and Boston are moving along well beyond the pace they displayed last season, and the indications now are that both will finish above .500, with more than ninety victories.
If Eddie Collins and Joe Jackson both get well above .300, where they belong, White Sox chances will be heavily improved.

TIGERS SLIPPING

The Tigers, despite Cobb's hurricane drive, are slipping. In 1915 they packed away 100 victories. Last year they dropped back to eighty-seven victories. This season they must improve materially to win as many as eighty-five games.
Cleveland and Detroit both carry a world of power—both pack the punch—but both are handicapped by erratic pitching.
The Giants were supposed to be oversubscribed with temperament. But as long as temperament can hit, pitch, field and run it is not much of a handicap.
If Christy Mathewson can win a pennant for Cincinnati we know the name of the man who will finally settle the world war and bring about peace.

WANT GAME TRANSFERRED

Marysville, Pa., July 13.—Officials of the Marysville team of the Dauphin-Perry League are making efforts to have Saturday's conflict with the Halifax team of the same league, scheduled to be played on the Dauphin county team's lot, transferred to the Seidel Park grounds of this place. The Halifax management has not yet definitely announced its decision.

MARYSVILLE GETS GARVERICH

Marysville, Pa., July 13.—Lester Garverich, of Harrisburg, with the Marysville Dauphin-Perry team last year, who has been pitching and playing the outfield for the Hagerstown Blue Ridge League team, has been signed up by the local management. He will be eligible for service on Saturday, July 28, when the locals meet Duncannon.

GOOD SCORES AT LANCASTER

Lancaster, Pa., July 13.—The final livebird shoot of the season was held at Mount Joy yesterday. Charles E. Hummer, former state champion, of Marietta, competed. Ward Moore, of Ironville, won the first match of ten birds by going straight. D. Moore, of Newton, won the second ten-bird event. Scores—First event: Ward Moore, 9; Schroll, 8; Hummer, 8; Brubaker, 8; Gochmutter, 6. Second event: D. Moore, 10; Schroll, 9; Brubaker, 9; Moore, 9; Gochmutter, 8; Hummer, 8.
