

Eleven States Holding Up Army Draft Promise to Rush Work Through

Washington, July 17.—The eleven states whose delay in completing local machinery has caused the draft lottery to be deferred, notified the War Department to-day that their work probably would be finished by to-night.

Provost Marshal General Crowder had urged the governors of the delinquent states asking that they speed up the work of the delinquent precincts. Officials here, however, doubt if all returns can be complete before to-morrow night. Present indications are that the drawing will be held Saturday.

President Wilson is expected to issue regulations defining the draft liability of government workers. Exemptions, it is thought, will be granted to only indispensable employes.

THIS PREACHER IS A STAR PITCHER; HAS WON RECORD

Missouri has a theological student who preaches in a Baptist church pulpit on Sundays and expatiates the baseball fans on the other days of the week because he will not consent to give up theology for professional baseball.

A. C. McKinney is the name of this person who seems so peculiarly constituted in the eyes of baseball enthusiasts. He loves baseball, plays it whenever he has an opportunity, and pitches for the team of the William Jewell College, which is located at Liberty, Mo. Pitching for his team in four games, he struck out seventy-seven batsmen in thirty-four innings, allowed but three hits in the quartet of games, and in two of them pitched no-hit, no-run games.

In a game against the Tarkio College team—another Missouri college—he struck out twenty-five of the players in a no-hit game, and against the Marville, (Mo.) State Normal school team, another of his no-hit games, struck out twenty-three of his opponents.

McKinney is a native of Cincinnati, a sophomore in college, and preaches regularly at Bosworth, Mo. He is said to have speed, a variety of curves, a very effective moist ball, a good change of pace, remarkable control, and, best of all, a considerable allotment of brains. This referring to his baseball side.

Naturally he is a center of interest to baseball scouts, but none of them seems to interest him in the least.

RESERVES WILL BE RECRUITED

Home Defense Organization to Take Up Rifle Practice Next

Commanders of the companies of the Harrisburg Reserves battalion, whose civil organization last night elected permanent officers and adopted the charter and by-laws at a well-attended meeting in the Court-house, will start brisk recruiting to increase their units and some members will also take up practice at the ranges of the Harrisburg Rifle Club. Quite a number of the Reserves have become members of the Rifle Club and are hanging away at the targets and learning how to handle the rifles and more will join.

The meeting last night was marked by much spirit and the two drills a week proposition was discussed and retained by a large majority. Plans for a long course of training were outlined and commencing to-night failure to attend drills will mean fines, while the absence of absences will cause dismissal. It has been requested that all members turn out for the drill to-night so that the training can be speeded up. The drill will be held on the lower end of the island at 7.30 o'clock.

Ross A. Hickok presided at last night's meeting. In the absence of Vance C. McCormick, the president, and at the start names of all men proposed for membership or who were recommended by the board of directors and elected.

The charter was then read and accepted by the members of the organization. This was followed by the election of permanent officers as follows:

President, Vance C. McCormick. First vice-president, William Jennings. Second vice-president, F. F. Brunker. Secretary, A. Boyd Hamilton. Treasurer, John F. Sweeney.

Major commandant, Major Alonzo M. Porter. The directors elected in June will serve until July, 1918. All military appointments were made by the Imperial Troupe of Japanese jugglers and gymnasts; Emily Stickney, principal baraback rider; Miss Mandette's high-jumping horses, Rhoda Royal's trained dogs, ponies and elephants and circus horses; Prince Charles, the famous acrobatic and bicycle-riding chimpanzee, and many other notable acts. A company of Uncle Sam's artillery put a touch of stirring military life into the performance. Jew Willard, it is announced, will positively appear in the big show at both performances in Harrisburg.

There will be a characteristic Wild West and circus parade at 10:30 show day.

PAXTANG PARK—Vandalia, Mo. COLONIAL—"The Eternal Sin." REGENT—"Filling His Own Shoes."

When a lowly American shoe clerk, out of a job in Paris, France, and under the hands of the cowboys, led by Bryant Washburn awakens sudden at Regent to-day by one of his own self the possessor not alone of a fortune, but of a harem of three beautiful Turkish maidens, one may be justified in settling himself in his seat and preparing for some keen entertainment. And that is exactly what the spectator gets in viewing "Filling His Own Shoes" at the Regent to-day.

Bryant Washburn, supported by Hazel Day, appear in the leading roles. To-morrow, Shirley Mason in "Light in Darkness" has splendid opportunity to display her acknowledged ability, and as Hilary Kenyon, a show girl sent to prison for slaying her employer, who attempted to attack her, brings out forcibly the point that the law sends many a thrill through the audience, in this way they are abetted by the no less daring

The Garfield Musical Comedy Company, who were held over for a second year, are presenting the management of the Poxtang Vaudeville Show at Regent to-day. It was the general opinion of those who saw last evening's performance at the park that "The Beggar Prince" was a little the best show that the Garfield Company has attempted during their engagement at Paxtang.

On Thursday evening the park management will treat the patrons to a big patriotic fireworks display. Manager Davis plans to make the fireworks show one of the big events of the park season. A grand display may be expected.

Embargo Officers Learn to Dig Trenches and Swim

Plattsburgh, N. Y., July 17.—Three thousand members of the officers training camp were engaged yesterday in trench digging, the instruction covering first, second and third line and communication trenches, lookouts and bombproofs.

Swimming instructions for 260 members of the camp was begun under supervision of Captain Moore, swimming instructor at West Point, and Lawson Robertson, coach at the University of Pennsylvania.

FIRST DEFENDER DIES Pottsville, Pa., July 17.—Francis B. Bannen, aged 34 years, a member of a prominent family here, died yesterday, after an illness since Thursday last, following a stroke. He was one of the First Defenders, who were so termed at the National Capital in answer to the call for troops by President Lincoln upon the fall of Fort Sumter.

SPEED VIOLATORS FINED West Fairview, Pa., July 17.—Fifteen of the speed violators have been fined $5 each and hearings will be given eight more the latter part of the week. Chief Burgess Disney intends to break up the speeding through the borough and has ordered Constable Albert Shaul to continue to take numbers of the persons exceeding the speed rate.

AMERICAN TRANSPORT LANDING PROVISIONS IN FRENCH PORT

This is the first photograph to arrive in the United States showing an American war vessel in a French port since war was declared. This transport, loaded with provisions, was convoyed by the two American destroyers shown at the left.

Senate May Drop Hearing on Great Aviation Bill

Washington, July 17.—The Senate military committee to-day considered the administration's $640,000,000 aviation bill with members of the committee generally agreed that the measure should be speedily disposed of by the Senate. That end hearings on the bill may not be held.

Only Two Survive From Submarine's Attack

An Atlantic Port, July 17.—A gunner and a fireman, who said they were the only survivors of the British steamer Daley, which they reported was sunk May 29 by a German U-boat, were picked up May 30 in a lifeboat by a British ship which arrived here to-day, it was reported by her officers. The rescue was made, the officers said, on the trip from this port to England.

Crowded Conditions Cause Half Sessions in Schools

West Fairview, Pa., July 17.—The school board has decided to hold half sessions in two rooms of the school building this year in order to accommodate the large number of pupils who will attend the next term. The board realizes that an addition of two new rooms should be built but the board members claim they do not have the money.

The proposition to borrow money for this improvement next year will be put before the taxpayers at the fall election. The following teachers were elected: Principal, Prof. Edgar Lower; Gettysburg; grammar school, Miss Pearl Killinger, Mechanicsburg; sixth grade, Miss Erma J. Snyder, Carlisle; fourth and grades, Miss Catherine Cranford, West Fairview; third grade, Miss Ada Long, Shippensburg; second grade, Miss Grace M. Carper, Carlisle; first grade, Miss Elizabeth McCune, Shippensburg. The board also reorganized this meeting by electing George H. Keefer, president; Walter Fisher, vice-president; A. Hoover, secretary; L. S. Hatfield, treasurer. W. E. Hoover is the other member of the board.

Canners to Supply Large Part of Food Needed For U. S. Army

Washington, July 17.—The Government expects the canners of the country to supply a large part of the food requirements of the troops, according to Henry Burden, president of the National Canners Association, who, in a letter to members to-day, reminds them that the "honor of the association is pledged to the perfect fulfillment of this trust." He urges members to give personal attention to the work so that the Government may be furnished with only the best products of the industry.

U. S. Recruiting Officers Warned Against Disease

Washington, July 17.—A warning against the acceptance by recruiting officers of applicants for naval or military service who may be suffering from trachoma was issued by the public health service. "The history of European wars," reads the statement, "shows that trachoma has been a grave menace to the efficiency of fighting forces, invalidating thousands of men and blinding large numbers of its victims, despite the confusing and contradictory statements in connection with trachoma, the contagious character of the disease is unquestionable."

AMUSEMENTS

MILITARY REALISM IN THE WILLARD-BUFFALO BILL SHOW

One of the last-admissions of Colonel William F. Cody, known for half a century throughout the civilized world as Buffalo Bill, was "Let my show go on" and in making this request, he named as his executor, Johnny Baker, the famous rifle shot, who had been regarded by Colonel Cody as his foster son and closest friend. Johnny Baker, who is associated in the Buffalo Bill Wild West with Jess Willard, is aiding to carry out the wishes of the famous old scout and Indian fighter, and the show, which exhibits in Harrisburg Thursday, July 26, is declared in every way to be worthy of the high standard set by its founder.

In a recent laudatory criticism of the big show, a New York newspaper remarked that "while the body of the great Cody rested on Lookout Mountain overlooking the City of Denver, his spirit was in evidence in his great show," and this seems to be the universal verdict of those who have seen the exhibition.

For one thing, the performance offers, it is declared, an infinite variety of entertainment. The cowboys, led by "Tex" McLeod, Hank Durnell, Cheat Byers and other range ropers and roughriders, present the story of the cattle country with a daredevil recklessness that sends many a thrill through the audience, in this way they are abetted by the no less daring

Compromise to Food Control Bill Sought by Leaders in Senate

Washington, July 17.—Difference over the question of how far government control should extend in food control legislation exists to-day among Senate leaders who are now trying to reach an agreement on the bill. Nevertheless, much progress is being made and Democratic and Republican senators continued their efforts to evolve a compromise. A considerable number of the conferees favor retention of government control over steel and iron, in addition to foods, feeds and fuels, while most of them are agreed that control shall include the latter products only. The Senate steering committee arranged to hold a meeting late to-day in a final attempt to bring about an agreement.
