ASSUME GENERAL APPROPRIATIONS WILL BE SIGNED

Department Heads Draw Up Warrants and Requisitions For Presentation

Although the Executive Department declined to make any an-nouncement various departments of the state government were going ahead to-day on the assumption that the Governor would approve the general appropriation bill to-day and numerous warrants and requisitions were being drawn up for presenta-tion. Auditor General Charles A. Snyder said that he would await the Snyder said that he would await the filing of a certified copy of the bill and notwithstanding the ruling that the Governor may reverse himself in the thirty-day period for acting on bills was inclined to accept a certified copy as final.

The Governor will probably announce numerous vetoes to-night and to-morrow as he has been working on the general bills since the big appropriation measure is out of the way.

Auditor General Snyder said today he would issue a statement to the public when the Governor approves the general bill and might also make a statement about the papers of his department. W. B.
Kay and L. F. Hess, the former attaches under Powell, were at the department to-day working on tax settlements for clients, the prohibition against them having been raised. It is understood they have made statements to Mr. Snyder about what they know of the handling of tax settlement papers.

Chairman Denman Holds Ship Program to Standstill

By Associated Press
Washington, July 17.—The government's shipbuilding program continued at a standstill to-day and there was no indication when Major General Goethals, manager of the shipping board's emergency fleet corporation, would proceed with his plans for requisitioning and speeding up construction of merchant ships building in American yards.

General Goethals transmitted to Chairman Denman, of the Board, to-day information regarding his program requested yesterday. He outlined in detail his plans for taking over private yards and for building two government owned ship plants to turn out fabricated steel ships.

CHILDREN ARE HAVING SPORT IN CITY'S ANNUAL CAMP ON McCORMICK'S ISLAND

TUESDAY EVENING.

THE TOP PICTURE TROOPS BEING TIME IN THE RIVER.

SHOWN HAVING A SPLENDID

On the lower end of McCormick's Island, just north of the limits of the city, is the Playground Camp provided by the Department of Parks and Playgrounds for the amusement and physical development of Harrisburg's growing generation. Yesterday afternoon was the occasion of the annual flag-raising, an important ceremony at all times, especially so this year when the shadow of war rests even upon the hearts of the children and the unfurling of Old Glory holds a serious significance they cannot fail to feel and understand. Flags and bunting in profusion made the camp a most attractive sight, hung from ropes stretched between the trees and lifted from the pinnacle of each tent.

Miss Buelah Starry and Gorden J. Platt, the alert and capable young supervsors, headed the program which had been arranged. The four young women tent leaders and the forty girls who are spending a week in the "wooded wilds of the Susquehanna" followed in double column order, each carrying an individual flag. They grouped about the large staff and sang "America" in chorus. This was followed by the recitation "Our "Flag." by Miss Henrietta Wohlfarth. Then again came the ensemble singing in "There Are Many Flags In Many Lands."

At the conclusion of the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by the whole camp and their guests the big flag crept slowly up the staff and as the last note died away it gaught the breeze and opened out full length against the summer sky, each crimson bar and snow whte star sending its messages down to the hearts beating beneath.

CONTINUES JITNEY INJUNCTION

After argument to-day in county county Judge Kunkel continued the injunction against Samuel Rand, of Scranton, prohibiting him from operating a jitney. The suit against Rand was brought by the Public Service Commission, upon his failure to take out a certificate of public convenience and to pay a fine of $100 for not doing so. Rand did not appear at the hearing to-day. No date has been set for the final disposal of the case.

KEADY FOR NEXT CAMP

Gris from the Reily, Boas, Emerald and Maclay playsrounds will be damed from the papers that the Harrisburg companies were already on the island. Well, I am glad now that I won't have to attend the six hours drill a day as I will clerk for the remainder of the veck.

OF HIGH ABILITY AS CITY'S MAYOR

Council Has Made No Move to Fill Vacancy Caused by Miller's Death

There is a growing demand that Council select a man who would meet the approval of residents of the city for the mayoralty to succeed the late Charles A. Miller. The feeling is general that the chief executive of the city output to be one who can represent the city in a dignified manner at conventions and public gatherings and at the same time have the city's business at his first consideration. The more representative of the best citizenship of the city the new mayor shall be, the more likely he will be to win popular approval at the fall elections. Councilmen say they have given absolutely no thought to the filling of the vacancy, and there is said to be a sentiment in Council to allow the election to go by default, permitting the courts to do the appointing after the expiration of the thirty days required by the Beidleman law. Whether or not this will be done cannot be forecasted

Park Commissioner Gross is said to be undecided as to whether he will be a candidate for commissioner again or for mayor at the fall primaries, and it is whispered friends of John K. Royal think that he might stand a chance if Commissioner Gorgas could bring the other commissioners to the point of electing a Democrat, which is not considered likely.

Dr. Samuel Hassler, who was Royal's unsuccessful opponent, when Royal last was elected, is said to be passively in the field but is not seeking the place.

Petitions for Daniel L. Keister, exrepresentative and former select councilman, who is a candidate for mayor, were circulated to-day, Friends also are circulating petitions for William S. Moses, of the city, who is a candidate for jury commissioner.

Ex-Representative Daniel L. Keister stated to-day that several hundred persons had already signed his petition and that he would remain in the contest until the finish. Mr. Keister said he had received much encouragement.

Five Army Officers
Five Federal officers have been doing the work at the Second street armory. Rejections have been very small and all the companies are hoping to go through with very few substitutions. All the companies have men on the reserve list and any vacancies will be taken by men who have been anxious to enter the National Guard.

have been anxious to enter the National Guard.

The guardsmen's day starts promptly at 6 o'clock when the first call is sounded. Fifteen minutes later the reveille is sounded. That means the boys have just fifteen minutes to stretch, figure the day of the week, realize that the wallpaper has no design, and they really aren't home, stretch, yawn a few times and rub sundry sore spots more accustomed to mattresses than stretched 'canvas, dress and be outside ready for the call to fall in line.

By 6.30 everything must be in shape and look in first class order. That means not a single scrap of paper can be allowed to lay undisturbed. Not a tent peg must lean. All personal equipment must be where it belongs or at least carefully concealed from a watchful sergeant's eye.

The reversal was accompanied by pessimistic statements regarding the immediate future of the steel industry. Motors also helped to unsettle the list, Maxwell adding five points to yesterday's loss and coppers were affected by price uncertaintites. Apprehension as to money rates and absence of public inquiry provided additional adverse factors. Prices improved again at noon, industrials, rails and shippins leading the recovery.

Bonds were steady, the Liberty issue selling at 99.40 to 99.43 for regular lots.
