Find Two Teeta Two human teeth picked up in the State highway some distance from the automobile occupied by the Philadel-phians have been turned over to the authorities by Adam Smith, a Patton hotelman. At first it was believed that the teeth had been knocked from the mouth of Mrs. Humphries by the bullet which penel.aied at the lobe of the left ear and passed out_near one eye. The two teeth may have an important bearing in the trial of the Tompkins case. The State main-tains that Mrs. Humphries was shot while she sat in the automobile to the right of her husband, who was driv-ing. This would be on the right side of the road. They are somewhat splintered, so that it might be hard to determine whether they came from the mouth of a male or a female per-son.

the mouth of a male or a female per-son. Edmund I. Humphries Sr., who was badly beaten up when his dead body was found, had several teeth knocked out. No teeth were found at the fence where he must have been clubbed with the revolver, after hav-ing been shot through the brain. If the two teeth belonged to the elder Humphries, then the State is pre-pared to believe that a terrific strug-gle must have taken place at the car, possibly before any shooting was done at all. The two teeth have been turned over to Sheriff W. E. Mulnoj-len, who has them locked up in his safe.

A Model Prisoner

Tompkins is not insane. Keepers at the county jail declare him a model prisoner. He has given no trouble and while under natural men-tal stress, has exhibited no signs of with tears streaming down her face advised him to "pray and trust in the Lord." Despite his persistence in a tale of a hold-up by three masked men, Tompkins' story has been shattered by developments. The county officers have covered every bit of ground about the scene and the only foot-prints found were those made by shoes similar to those worn by Tompkins and by Humphries. There were no marks of any other struggee than that between Humphries and have murderer at the fence, where the body was found.
