Chancellor Michaelis Is Strong Religious Mystic Copenhagen, July 18.—A strong strain of religious devotion, verging on religious mysticism, is one of the outstanding characteristics of Dr. Michaelis, according to those acquainted with him. The new chancellor believes in the direct guidance of the Holy Spirit in daily life and endeavors to base his actions and policy upon his interpretation of the Divine will. Dr. Michaelis' religious purpose is said to be largely to this conviction. This view of life is partly hereditary. His brother became a clergyman of the most devout school, and his sister married a clergyman. Newspapers of evangelical trend, like the Taegliche Rundschau, emphasize this characteristic.
