Nannette sobbed into her lace and Namette sobbed into her lace and I turned my head away as the tail man bent and laid the frail little hand against his decoration, which he wore almost entirely hidden under the pocket of his tweed Norfolk of English manufacture. Only French eyes like wee Pierre's could have seen it pinned there hidden over his heart. I think he wore it to give him a large courage for his mission that meant bread or starvation to so many of his people.

Warren came in tired and wet to find a deserted apartment. The rain had been failing all day, and the fact that he had forgotten to take an umbrella had not added to his material comfort.

"Mary," he called from the dining room, "where is Mrs. Curtis. Funny she's gone out on a day like this." "She expected to be back before now, Mr. Curtis." Mary returned, agron. "I can't think what's keeping her."

Warren did not answer, but went into the living room and turned on all the lights. Somehow even their effulgence did not give the place the cheery, homey look it invariably had when he returned to it at night. It must be the weather, he reasoned to himself, and he flung himself into the was not comfortable; besides, his wondered irritably if he had taken cold.

He sot up restlessly and went into the bedroom for his slippers. After the school entertainment that they had over at the school where Miss Winifred goe."

Warren nodded brusquely and work in the school entertainment that they had over at the school where Miss Winifred goe."

Warren nodded brusquely and work in the school entertainment that they had over at the school entertainment that they had over at the school entertainment that they had over at the school or realize that the school entertainment that they had over at the school or the living might be due entirely to Helen, and the had been reading to the place seemed strange. Then suddenly hed did think that the feeling might be due entirely to Helen, and they the door and opened it himself. But it was only the delivery boy with his suit from the tallors.

Warren looked to the wind deniy he did think that the feeling of the place seemed strange. The suddenty he did not stop to realize that the condition of the place seemed strange. The suddenty had not such that the feeling entire the work of the substance of a list that Mrs. Canders had given her, and Warren looked it through with raised eyebrows. That Helen could be interested in aunia, and that she had been 9463 Box Plaited Coat, 34 to 42 bust, Price 15 cents. 9433 Two-Piece Skirt, 24 to 32 waist, Price 15 cents.

This is an all round practical, serviceable suit that you can make of wool material or of pongee or of a sports silk and for which you can use all wool or silk in combination with wool, as you like. Wool jersey is one of the best liked and most fashionable materials and is always handsome with trimming of itself in a contrasting color. Plain serge is pretty with plaid and silks of pongee in distinctly sports color will make excellent suits for the warmer weather. Shantung in the natural color is extremely smart this season and has many advantages. It is especially handsome trimmed with brown or with green. Here, plaid cotton gabardine is combined with plain in a pretty shade of tan, the plaid showing tans and brown with lines of brighter color, and a suit of such weight is ideal for mid-summer wear.

For the medium size the coat will require, 3½ yards of material 44 inches wide, 3½ yards of either width with ½ yards of either width with ½ yard for the cuff at the lower edge.

The coat pattern No. 9463 is cut in sizes from 34 to 42 inches bust measure and the skirt pattern No. 9423 in sizes from 24 for nerves and for female troufor female troubles and it straightened me out in good shape. I work nearly all the time, as we live on a farm and I have four girls. I do all my sewing and other work with their help, so it shows that I stand it real well. I took the Compound when my ten-year-old daughter came and it helped me a lot. I keep it in the house all the time and recommend it."—Mrs. Dewitt Sincebaugh, West Danby, N. Y.

Sleeplessness, nervousness, irritability, backache, headaches, dragging sensations, all point to female derangements which may be overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from choice foots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.—Advertisement.
