

MUNICIPAL ACT IS APPROVED

New Bureau Is Created and Will Work For the Interests of the Cities

Governor Brumbaugh late yesterday announced his approval of the House bill establishing a Bureau of Municipalities in the Department of Labor and Industry with a chief at $4,000 per year and such clerks as the commissioner may assign to be paid out of his departmental funds. The work of the State in relation to municipalities has been handled the last two years by a division of municipal affairs in the bureau of information with J. Herman Knisely, former clerk to select council, in charge. It is understood that Mr. Knisely will be appointed to the place.

The Governor also signed the Lee Smith bill providing that third class treasurers can not pay out any money except on warrant signed by the city controller.

Late in the day the Governor signed the Hecht House bill empowering Philadelphia to acquire transit facilities within and adjacent to the city and franchises for operating them by exercise of eminent domain subject to determination by the Public Service Commission. The bill also provides for condemnation and appeals. The Governor also announced approval of the bill authorizing Philadelphia to establish houses of detention for untried prisoners and witnesses.

Other House bills approved were: Providing a method of extinguishing ground rents.

Fixing pay of county auditors at $ per day.

Regulating use of compressed machinery.

Confirming titles to real estate tax under orphans court orders here there are co-tenants.

Increasing salaries of registration commissioners in second class cities $2,000.

Validating judgments in actions recover for ground rents.

Senate bills approved were authorizing construction of branch railroads, when needed to accommodate the public.

Classifying and extending terms of sentences in boroughs so that terms of not more than one-half all expire at one time.

The Governor also approved the bill providing for publication of legal advertisements in newspapers published in other than English in Philadelphia.

ALL THIS COME TRUE IN 1927? Jack Laif, the well known writer, says it will. He tells in the American magazine what he thinks will happen in the thirty-five years, and also tells how it feels to be thirty-five. He says:

"There will not be a king, emperor, czar or kaiser in Europe. Ireland will be an independent public; so will Poland.

"Liquor will be taboo the world over—banned at its source.

"Women will have full suffrage everywhere.

"Socialism will not have displaced publican government.

"There will be an aerial route across the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, with stations or controls at intervals.

"There will be telephone connections with and without wireless cross both oceans.

"All principal cities will have public-decked streets, the lower parts for traffic by vehicles exclusively.

"Emigration from one country to other will be rare.

"Firearms of all kinds will be obsolete, forbidden everywhere.

"Future artificial lights will make a world as bright at night as by day.

"Physicians, lawyers, dentists, will make officials and will not work for individual fees.

"Love will guide matrimonial selection, but government will refuse license the unfit, the mismatched, the immature, the senile, the damaged.

"New York City will have 10,000,000 inhabitants and its own Legislature; Chicago will have 7,000,000 and its own Legislature."

MOVE PEACH CROP AS FIRST THING

Secretary Patton Outlines What His New Bureau Will Do For the State

Secretary of Agriculture Charles E. Patton has arranged that the first work of the newly-created Bureau of Markets of the Department of Agriculture would be to help move the enormous peach crop which is expected in the State and to follow up this work in assisting with the marketing of the apple and potato crops.

Secretary Patton declared that the bill was one of the best measures ever passed for the benefit of the people of the State and that its purpose is to serve to bring the producers and the consumers in close touch with each other. On account of the small appropriation allowed for the work for two years the Marketing Bureau will operate in conjunction with the Bureau of Agricultural Statistics and in this way better service, it is believed, can be given to the farmers and the people of the State. Work will be started early next week in organizing the Bureau although many of the plans are now being worked out through the farm advisers.

One object of the Bureau will be to get information on the supply of farm products and to get the people of the State in touch with the producers who have a supply for the market. Daily information will be received from points throughout the State showing where different products are needed and where a surplus is on hand so that Pennsylvania producers will not overcrowd the markets and will not let any markets go with a short supply. The Bureau of Markets will cooperate with the farmers and all farmers' organizations and the railroads. Co-operative marketing organizations will be formed at various points and rules and regulations for the standardizing, grading and labeling of farm products will be established. There will be a State inspection label adopted which will go as a guarantee for Pennsylvania products and the aim will be to make Pennsylvania products bearing the State label famous for their quality throughout the country.

The bill gives unusual power to the Department of Agriculture and is expected to prove quite effective in handling the food supply of the State.

SUGGESTION FOR CAMP

One of the camp conveniences that you fellows will find it well worth taking time to prepare is a dresser. When you have unpacked your camp outfit, you probably will have an empty box, which can be used for the purpose. Nail this to a tree so that its top will be of a convenient height for the shortest lad in camp. Form a towel rack at each end with strips nailed to the box. These strips should be long enough to project 5 inches or so. Nail strips across the ends, and so a mirror upon the tree directly over the center of the box. —The American Boy.

To Overcome Redness, Tan, Freckles, Wrinkles

If your skin is unduly reddened, freckled or tanned, dab a little pure mercurized wax on the face and allow it to remain over night. When you wash off the wax in the morning, fine flaky almost invisible particles of cuticle come with it. Repeating this daily, the entire outer skin is absorbed, but so gradually there is not the slightest hurt or inconvenience. Even the stubbornest freckles are affected. The underlying skin which forms the new complexion is so fresh and youthful-looking, you'll marvel at the transformation. It's the only thing known to actually discard an aged, faded, muddy or blotchy complexion. One ounce of mercurized wax, procurable at any drug store, is sufficient in most cases. If sun and wind make you squint and frown, you're bound to cultivate wrinkles and crow's feet. To overcome these quickly, bathe the face in a solution made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saffron in a half pint witch hazel.—Adv.
