LINING UP THE ADVANCED DOPE

It looked extremely doubtful that our boys would win the match, With Bethmann-Hollweg in the box and Hindenburg to catch. B. Krupp was playing second and her batting helped a lot, and Hohenzollern coaching and yelling "Me and Gotti". So when Alexis Petrograd, emerging from the trench, Struck three times at the atmosphere and sat down on the bench, Believe me, little children, it was no time to shout.

The Neutrals all got up to go, with mutterings or grins—Dutch Holland and Kid Switzerland, the Scandinavian Twins. Amonso, telling Denmark that he didn't give a dam! Carranza, singing "Deutschland uber me and Uncle Sam." And you could hear them stalling and talking through their hats, ke this: "If Montenegro had gone up to the bat, They wouldn't do a thing but take a few Teutonic scalps; You know how Monte worked it in the Tyrolean Alps."

But now there came a wave of hope, for this is what occurred—John Bull let drive a single and Japan was safe on third!
Two men were out; the score was tied; Rumania at the bat;
Rumania from a minor league and very weak at that!
And it was up to Liberty to come across at last,
And bring her banner to the front and nail it to the mast.
She saw her opportunity, and then—she didn't flinch;
She chased Rumania, and sent up Columbia in the pinch!

Von Bethmann sized Columbia up, and Von was worried now;
He took a Scrap of Paper and he wiped his clammy brow;
He looked with awe upon her bat—it was a deadly wand;
Her fingers white were gripping tight a mighty Liberty Bond;
And now Von Bethmann tries to sneak an inshoot o'er the plate,
And now Columbia hits it and our cheers reverberate,
And everywhere the Lid is off from 'Frisco to the Hub,
For William Hohenzollern's joined the Ausgespieler Club.
—PASSERBY (Chicago).

THE PROOF

Christy Mathewson's Reds have proved that a ball club can be an aggressive, hustling, hard fighting lot without constantly tearing into an umpire or starting a rumpus.

We haven't looked up their record in this respect, but we have seen them play a number of games, and in each instance their aggressiveness was directed toward run making and trying to beat the other club.

Matty himself gave a fine example along this line a few days ago. Just as the Giant pitcher wound up one of the umpires held up his hand, calling time to retrieve a ball from the stands. But the pitcher had started his motion, not observing the signal. Neale followed with a home run, scoring Chase ahead of him. It was a hard luck decision to face, but Matty after receiving the umpire's judgment, accepted without a complaint when Neale was called back.

A TRIFLE MORE SO

Each year, as star young first basemen like Sisler and Pipp come along, we begin to figure which will be the new king. And then we happen to watch Hal Chase for a few games or get a few side lines upon Stuffy Mc-Innis, and decide that the abdication of the veterans is a trifle premature. Chase is as great a first baseman to-day as he ever was in his career. Even just a trifle more so, for his heart is deeper in his work.

NEW YORK VS. CHICAGO

While there are vague rumors that New York and Chicago may meet in the next world series, another duel between the two Big Villages has been in the next world series, another duel between the two big vinages has been proposed.

The idea is that Chick Evans and Bob Gardner, representing Chicago, tackle Jerry Travers and Oswald Kirby, representing New York—the combat to be arranged for a mammoth Red Cross Fund.

Travers and Kirby say they are willing if the match can be arranged in the East, #s neither can get away to go West. Chick writes that he is willing. If Bob Gardner, who is to leave for the Officers' Reserve Corps a soon, can't get away, Ned Sawyer may be substituted. Further details of the head-on collision between the two big cities will be announced anon, if not shortly.

Zach Wheat Is Out With Fractured Ankle

ZACH WHEAT.

Zach Wheat, Brooklyn's great out

Zach Wheat. Brooklyn's great outfielder, wrenched his right ankle in the first game of the double-header between the Dodgers and Reds at Ebbets Field Saturday. Dr. Hart, the club's trainer, declared that Wheat will be unable to play again for at least four or five weeks.

The unfortunate accident occurred in the second inning. Wheat was the first batter to face Pete Schneider in this inning and he singled to left. Cutshaw followed with a hit to center. Wheat turned second base at full speed, but midway between second and third collapsed. He lay in a helpless condition, and Groh, who caught Roush's throw, tagged him out.

Hal Case, Cueto and Neale, of the Reds, and Sherrod Smith, the Brooklyin pitcher, carried the injured player off the field.

Chinese May Supplant American Ballplayers

Chinese ball players are break-ing into the minor leagues and taking jobs away from regular Americans.

Ayau, who is starring for Spokane in the Northwestern League, is the farthest advanced of the athletes who formerly played with the All-Chinese team which toured the United States during the last three seasons.

Yue is playing center field for Gettysburg in the Blue Ridge, and Upland, of the Delaware County League in Pennsylvania, boasts of two Orientals, Lai Tin, in the outfield, and Mark, catcher.

cision, but as yet none of the other owners has given an affirmative ansowners has given an arranda move wer.

The clubs opposed to such a move are afraid a suspension now will detract from the franchise values for next year and also might endanger the title held to their players, not to forget the possibility of some clubs losing chances to pick up money through sales and drafts later in the season. It is the latter item that yet may prove a lifesaver for the circuit.

Scranton, July 23. — Fans on the New York State League Circuit have not taken to the season system and the season system and this with salaries cut to $1600 a month.

Just now Scranton is one of the real weak sisters of the league. Reading is said to be the next. In Bing hamton, Syracuse and Wilkes-Barre, the owners, though they are not meeting expenses, are satisfied to go through, but in Elmira, the management would welcome an early suspension. In other words, there are three teams ready to throw up the sponge at any minute and if three go the others naturally will have to follow suit.

There was talk on Friday that a scial meeting of the owners had of the season suspending the season suspending the season suspending the se
