LOYSVILLE BAND PLAYS AT HOMES

Gives Entertainment at Elizabethtown Masonic Institution

Elizabethtown, July 25.—It is not generally known that Loyville, Perry county, possesses a band, an institution known as the Tressler Orphans Home, which is maintained by the Lutheran church. In the orphan children of the religious community are educated, housed, clothed, fed, educated and fitted for the battles of life. They have 300 acres of land, upon which are under cultivation, affording instruction to its boys in agriculture, gardening and similar subjects, etc., also music and amateur dramatics enter into its curriculum. Special attention is given to music as an accomplishment likely to prove an aid of great value in success in life, as well as reflect credit upon the institution.

An able instructor in this branch is Charles Maxwell Stauffer, a member of Cumberland Star Lodge, No. 197. F. & A. M. who is employed as director. He has organized thirty-five of his boy pupils into a band, thirty of the girl pupils into an orchestra.

On Sunday afternoon, Prof. Stauffer brought his band to the Homes, and entertained the guests with a band concert. The following program was given: March, "The Tressler Orphan Home"; "Home"; cornet solo, "The Soul of the Surf"; Ernest Clarence McGuligan; melophone quartet, "Visions of the Past"; "The Star-Spangled Banner"; Harold Harper, Miles McClain; ragtime travesty, "Lucy's Sextet"; tuba solo, "The Morning Light"; "I'm a Little Bit Blue"; "The Lost Chord"; Sullivan; medley, "The Songs of the Nation"; "Epitaph of a Soldier".

Ephrata Lodge No. 665 of Ephrata, Lancaster county, Pa., accompanied by families and friends to the number of seventy-five made a pilgrimage to the Homes on Saturday for the purpose of conducting the religious services.

They were accompanied by the Rev. John C. Smith, pastor of the First Lutheran church, and member of Lodge No. 665, who delivered the sermon, and Mrs. Hanna Fishburn, who sang a solo. Mrs. Fishburn was accompanied by Mrs. Park B. Brubaker.

H. H. Sherrill, past master of Lodge No. 665, presided over the service. At the Sunday evening service, Hunt Cook, superintendent of the Elizabethtown chautauqua, made an interesting and instructive address.

Have Your Furnace Looked After Now

How about your furnace? Did it give the maximum of heat for the coal used last season?

OWING TO THE ADVANCE IN THE COST OF FUEL it will prove a paying investment to put your furnace in tip top condition. Have it fixed up so you will get every unit of heat possible out of your coal. Have the pipes taken down and the soot removed. Have it cleaned and all the broken and burned out parts removed. Do it now—the busy season will soon be here. Help, especially mechanical, is difficult to get. If you put it off you may have to wait until other orders ahead are filled before you can get your turn. Yes, do it now.
