

ACCEPT LLOYD'S PLAN FOR JUNIOR SCHOOL BUILDING

Directors Decide Against Letting Whole Board Pass on Drawings

Despite the suggestion that the entire school board should have an opportunity to see the preliminary plans for the new junior high school to be built at Nineteenth and Chestnut streets, Directors Boyer, Boll, Bretz and Werner decided to approve them at the special meeting of the board last night.

Mr. Lloyd's plans call for a structure 167x178 feet; twenty-one rooms, each seating forty students; the building to be built on a lot bounded by three streets and a basement, costing approximately $300,000.

At the business session of the board the resignation of Professor Zach M. Meisel, of the Central High School faculty, was accepted, and he was placed on the retired list.

RUSS EMBASSY HOPES FOR BEST

Military Situation Is Serious, but All Hope Is Not Yet Lost

Washington, July 26.—The Russian military situation was acknowledged at the Russian embassy to-day to be intensely serious, but it was said to be not so critical as reflected in some reports.

General Korniloff's Galician army is admittedly in very great danger and retiring in a southerly direction to avoid envelopment of its flank and with a desire to keep the front intact, even at the expense of surrendering territory.

State Department dispatches confirm the somewhat brighter view of the Russian situation, though not in any sense depreciating its seriousness.
