

EXECUTE ALL DESERTERS IN RUSSIAN ARMY

Great Artillery Battle Continues in Belgium in Preparation For Expected Infantry Engagement; Destruction of Aircraft Heavy on Both Sides; French Front Quiet Except For Raiding Excursions.

London, July 30.—A report to the Times from the Russian southwest headquarters after describing the desertion and panic of the Russian troops, says General Korniloff's measures against insubordination have been applied and that he is executing deserters by wholesale.

Whatever military development may be pending on the Belgian front, the great artillery battle there has not yet resulted in infantry movements of importance. To-day's British official statement is colorless, contrasting strongly with the recent German official reports of unprecedentedly heavy gun fire in this area.

Color is lent the assumption that operations on a notable scale are in prospect here, however, by the official accounts from London of the intensive aerial warfare which photographic observation on a large scale has been carried out. The destruction of air craft yesterday was heavy on both sides. Thirty German machines being downed and thirteen British machines being reported missing.

The French front likewise was devoid last night of infantry activity, aside from raiding excursions.

Germany Mass Guns The theory that the Germans have been engaged in an effort to mass guns in sufficient numbers to meet the British train of fire on the Belgian front seems to be reinforced by today's Berlin statement. The British have been influenced by the effectiveness of the German fire to the extent that there has been a bombardment it is declared.

Attempt to Bolster Up Opinion at Home View of Chancellor's Address

Washington, July 30.—German Chancellor Michaelis' peace interview is regarded at the State Department as another German attempt to bolster up public opinion at home, appeal to the peace sentiment in enemy and neutral countries and create dissensions between the allies.
