Nellie W. Wins in Straight Heats at Altoona; Gunpowder Easy Victor

Altona, Pa., Aug. 8.—The New York mare, Nellie W., in winning the 2.18 trot here yesterday, repeated her victory of last week at Rockport and scored the only straight heat win in the opening events of the new fair circuit. She outclassed her field.

Gunpowder, from Phoenixville, scored its first victory of the season in the 2.30 pace, taking a record of 2.17 1.4 without an effort. He was not called upon in the opening heat, which was won by Joe Hamilton, after which the Allentown entry was not much of a factor. Sylvetta Patch fell on the backstretch in the final heat, but was placed by the judges.

High Class Trotters

High Class Trotters went to the wire in the 2.25 class trot. The local entry, Herbie M. won the opening heat, reducing his record by eight seconds, after which he did not make a try for a heat. At the same time the Lackawanna started a suit in judgment against the association for $2850, representing $2400 due on the lease and $450 rental from January to July 1. The suit in ejectment is an amicable action, and no defense has thus far been filed. The lease for the park was entered into January, 1916, for a period of five years at an annual rental of $600.

THE MARCHING LEGIONS

Summer is on her way.
July has come and gone;
No one remembers May,
August is marching on;
Softly the south wind blows,
Yet, but a dream and then
Deep in the drifting snows
We shall be cast again.

Where are the songs of Spring
Sung from the April larch?
Where is the roistering
Of the wild winds of March?
Where is the light of June
Crowning her crimson throne?
Gone as a passing tune,
Gone as a breath is blown.

Mad youth is on its way,
Childhood has come and gone;
Dim is the distant day
Boyhood was marching on;
Life new is lilting rhyme,
Yet, but a step and then
Gray with the snows of time
Life turns to prose again.

Where are the songs of Youth Sung where the breakers foam? Where is the old time truth Taught at the hearth of home? Where are the loves we've known In the red deeps of June Gone as a breath is blown— Gone as a passing tune.

The entry who accepts rough breaks and tough luck as part of the game has 87 per cent the best of it from the start.

THIS TIME AT HOME

Last season the Red Sox went out and won their pennant on the road. Unless the White Sox can pile up a healthy lead when they return home shortly — you can absorb the answer without further comment.

AFTER FOUR YEARS

AFTER FOUR YEARS

Your years ago the Giants concluded their three-year pennant run. They led the parade in 1911, 1912 and 1913, losing three world series in a row to Mackmen and Red Sox.

Now they are Pennant Bound again, with no chance of being stopped. But of that 1913 array which carried the Red Sox to eight games before a decision was reached, only a few remain. Fletcher and Herzog still adorn the infield, but Doyle and Merkle are gone. The entire outfield, which consisted of Snodgrass, Murray and Devore, is missing. Of the pitching staff, Mathewson and Marquard have passed on with Tesreau alone on the job. Chief Meyers has passed from back of the bat. So from the entire line-up of regulars only Fletcher, Herzog and Tesreau are left in McGraw's rebuilding.

The present Giant array looks to be a much stronger club and should have a much better world series chance. The new outfield with Burns, Kauff and Robertson, is well beyond Murray. Snodgrass and Devore. The present infield is playing better ball, but the present pitching staff isn't quite up to the Mathewson, Marquard, Tesreau standard. The old Giants payed 19 world series games, won 6, lost 12 and tied 1.

If the new Giants are tossed in against the Red Sox again they will need every ingredient at hand to win. The odds will belong with the still unbeaten.

Leverage is of far greater sporting value than one might consider it at first glance.

Norman Maxwell weighs but 120 pounds. Yet he can drive a golf ball over 250 yards, up with the long hitters of the game. He has the leverage. Bobby Byrne was a diminutive athlete, but Bobby could smash a baseball with the force of a Baker or a Zimmerman. He had the leverage. Benny Leonard has knocked out three first class fighters in a row. Benny has the leverage—which means the snap to hit hard from a short distance.

BAR TO PLAYER; HEINE GROH OUT

New York, Aug. 7.—The idea that all ballplayers must be physically fit for service in the army appears to be erroneous. Heinie Groh, third baseman of the Cincinnati Reds, received orders several days ago to report for examination, and Heinie reported. He got away well in the physical test until one of the examiners noted that his fingers were not as straight as they should be.

Football For Red Cross; Proceeds to Patriotic Fund

New York, Aug. 8.—While nothing was said at the conference of the National Collegiate Association at Washington, last week, there is a definite idea that football in the fall will be employed in some way or other to raise funds for patriotic purposes. This does not mean that collections will be taken in the stands as was the case last year and the year before, but that contests will be arranged, proceeds of which will be donated to some such fund as that of the Red Cross. Sol Metzger, the Washington and Jefferson coach, has been working on the idea. One suggestion is that a post-season series between teams composed of All-Eastern," or "All-American Players," be played. There may be no doubt that games of the sort would prove attractive and reap a rich harvest of money.

Orders to Report

Elmer Miller, Tim Hendrix and Frank Gilhooley have received orders from their home cities to report for examination. Miller resides in Sandusky, Ohio, and Hendrix in New Orleans. Each has sent home to make arrangements for examination here, as neither is able at this time to make the journey home. Both players are married and each has a small child, so their chances of exemption are good.

Gilhooley left last night for Toledo, Ohio, to present himself before the examining board of his home precinct. He will first stop off at Cleveland for an X-ray photograph of his injured collarbone, as he does not have to report for examination until Friday. He expects to rejoin the Yankees at St. Louis next week, but may receive a call to report before the season is over. Gilhooley is unmarried.

Shawkey on List
Another player who has received orders to report for examination is Pitcher Bob Shawkey. Shawkey makes his home in Philadelphia, and registered from that city. His number was in the first thousand drawn at Washington—in fact, the lowest among the Yankees—and he has been expecting orders for several days. He will present himself

He will leave New York immediately after to-day's game with the Tigers. Shawkey is married, and may be exempted for that reason. Other members of Donovan's team are wondering what the mailman may leave for them during the next few days.
