Detroit, Aug. 15.-Eddie Plank

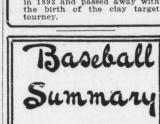

"In speaking of star outfielders," comments R. J. D., "why should one overlook Hap Felsch. of the White Sox?" One shouldn't. Felsch is one of the topliners, an outfielding bird of extremely rare plumage.

been pitching continuously ever since he has been nearly 18 years in 1901 he became a member of the Athletics and his success during his long stay with the Mackmen is well known, For many years he was regarded as the greatest left-hander in the big leagues. He helped the Mackmen win their pennants and world's series honors. In 1915, when the Federal league was hold-ing out golden bait to star players, no obstacle was placed in Plank's way and he joined the St. Louis Federal League team. When the peace pact was signed with the Federals, Plank became a member of the St. Louis Americans. Although more than 40 years old, Plank continued to pitch winning hall right up to the time of his re-thriment. Few players have re-mained in harness for the length of time that Plank has lasted on the pitching peak. Plank bas invested in farm land in the vicinity of Get-tysburg and his decision to retire from baseball to the farm does come as a surprise to those who are well acquainted with the great pitcher.

The only present plan of meeting the U-boat menace, according to Ad-miral Sims, is through the use of fast merchant ships, well armed, and with expert gunners, and following a dif-ferent course each trip. This sys-tem, supplemented with the method-ical patrol of the ocean routes by the destroyers, will go far to hold the enemy in check. Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 15.—Short-stop Ray Keating, of Philadelphia, and Pitcher Bill Taylor, of Pinebank, Pa., of the Syracuse Stars, quit the cause the salary was too small. Both declared they were unable to break even and preferred playing semipro-fessional ball near home. This leaves the Syracuse club with only nine men, including three pitchers, forc-ing all twirlers into the game every day as outfielders when not in the box. Keating has been drafted and walved exemption and joins the army on September 5. The New York State League is making desperate efforts to hang on in hopes of sell-ing the Syracuse franchise to the International League for $25,000 and splitting up the money to offset losses.
