

ONLY FIVE OF TWENTY-TWO IN DISTRICT PASS

Third County Board Examining Men Today; to Pass on Exemptions Saturday

Out of the first twenty-two men of the forty summoned for examination before the draft board of the Third county district at Elizabethtown to-day, only five men passed the physical tests and did not file exemption claims. Seven men were exempted this morning when the board was to be exempted to support dependants, while ten were rejected physically.

boards say they will put the matter up to their superiors to determine whether the aliens should be discharged from the draft. It is probable that some of the men who failed to report are now in the Army, but more than half are foreigners, one batch living near Bressler and Enhaut and the other at Swatara Station. All the men called by the third county district board responded yesterday and to-day.

The board of the third county district this morning examined Arleigh Miller, Allentown, whose temporary address is 271 Muench street, this city, and Miller passed the physical test. He filed a dependency exemption claim.

After three days of examinations in which time 314 men were summoned before the Second county draft board, only forty-five men passed the physical tests and waived the exemption claims. Because of this discouraging showing the board has sent notices to 250 additional men to appear next week. One hundred and seven of the men passed, have claimed exemptions on the grounds of dependents or industrial pursuits. The number of men rejected physically was 111.

TEXT OF PEACE MESSAGE CALLS FOR REDUCTION OF ARMAMENTS AND RESTORATION OF TERRITORY

as if stricken by a universal madness to run to the abyss and to lend its hand to its own suicide? "In such a terrible situation as in the presence of a menace so serious we who have no particular political aim, who do not listen to suggestions or to the interests of any of the belligerent parties but are solely compelled by a sentiment of our supreme duty as the Common Father of the faithful, by the solicitation of our children who implore our intervention and our pacifying work.

"Through the voice even of humanity and of reason we once more emit the cry of peace and we renew a pressing appeal to those who hold in their hands the destinies of nations. But in order no longer to speak in general terms as the circumstances had counselled us in the past we now wish to make a more concrete and practical proposal and to invite the governments of the belligerent peoples to come to an agreement upon the following points which seem to be a basis of a just and durable peace, leaving to them the task of analyzing and completing them.

Backed by Moral Force of Right

"First of all the fundamental points must be that the material force of arms be substituted by the moral force of right from which shall arise a fair agreement by all for the simultaneous and reciprocal diminution of armaments according to the rules and guarantees to be established, in a measure necessary and sufficient for the maintenance of public order in each state. Then in the substitution for armies the institution of arbitration with its high pacifying function, according to the rules to be laid down and the penalties to be imposed on a state which would refuse either to submit a national question to arbitration or to accept its decision.

"Once the supremacy of right has thus been established all obstacles to the means of communication of the peoples would disappear by assuring, by rules to be fixed later, the true liberty and community of the seas which would contribute to the numerous causes of conflict and would also open to all new sources of prosperity and progress.

Asks Disarmament

"As to the damages to be repaired and as to the war expenses we see no other means of solving the question than by submitting as a general principle the complete and reciprocal condonation which would be justified moreover by the immense benefit to be derived from disarmament, so much so that no one will understand the continuation of a similar carnage solely for reasons of an economic order.

"If for certain cases there exist particular reasons they would be deliberated upon with justice and equity but these pacific agreements with the immense advantages to be derived from them are not possible without a reciprocal restitution of the territory at present occupied.

Evacuation of Belgium

"Consequently on the part of Germany the complete evacuation of Belgium with the guarantee of her full political, military and economic independence towards it.

"The evacuation of French territory. On the part of other belligerent parties similar restitution of the German colonies.

"As regards the territorial questions, as for example those which have arisen between Italy and Austria and between Germany and France there is reason to hope that in consideration of the immense advantage of a durable peace with disarmament, the parties in conflict would wish to examine them with a conciliatory disposition, taking into consideration as we have said formerly the aspirations of the peoples and the special interests and of the general welfare of the great human society.

"The same spirit of equity and justice ought to be followed in the examination of other territorial and political questions, notably those relative to Armenia and the Balkan states and territories making a part of the ancient kingdom of Poland whose noble and historical traditions and sufferings which it has endured especially during the present war ought to conciliate the sympathies of nations.

Render War Impossible

"Such are the principles whereon we believe the future reorganization of the peoples ought to be built. They are of a nature to render impossible the return of similar conflicts and to prepare a solution of the entire question so important for the future and for the material well being of all belligerent states.

"Therefore, in presenting to you, who direct at this hour the destinies of the belligerent nations, we are animated to see them accepted and to see thus the conclusion at an early date of the terrible struggle which more and more appears a useless massacre.

"The whole world recognizes that the honor of the armies of both sides is safe. Incline your ears therefore to your prayer. Accept the fraternal invitation which we send you in the name of the Divine Redeemer, the Prince of Peace. Reflect on your very grave responsibility before God and before man.

"On your decision depends the repose and the joy of innumerable families, the life of thousands of young people; in a word, the happiness of a people for whom it is your absolute duty to obtain their welfare.

"May the Lord inspire your decision in conformity to His very holy will.

"May God grant that while meriting the applause of your contemporaries you will also obtain in the future generations a splendid name of pacificators.

"As for us closely united in prayer and in penitence with all those faithful souls which sigh for peace we implore for you the light and counsel of the Divine spirit. (Signed) "BENEDICT.

"At the Vatican, August 1."

AUGUSTA WILL ENTERTAIN MEN

Guardmen From Here Will Get Taste of Real Southern Hospitality

There are some so fine as the national guardmen from Pennsylvania, Augusta believes, and when the boys from Pennsylvania reach that delightful city they will find that great preparations have been made for them. Augusta has unequalled golf courses to which every winter hundreds of visitors flock from North, East and West. Augusta's climate and lake give ample opportunity for enjoyment along the line of swimming. Augusta's resort hotels are unsurpassed and every comfort awaits the families and guests of soldiers.

The fraternal orders and clubs are planning to offer the boys their hospitality. The churches are determined that no one shall surpass them in friendliness and there will be church suppers "to tempt the appetite." All the forms of commercialized amusements will redouble their efforts to give the Pennsylvania boys their best, and socials, concerts, automobile rides, band receptions and entertainments in the homes of these people who are so eager to welcome the men in khaki will fill their free time to overflowing.

All this and more, too, is promised, for Augusta has already started the ball rolling and a local committee on training camp activities has been appointed to plan the program for that city. This committee will have the help of a representative of the Playground and Recreation Association of America, which is sending a worker to Augusta at the request of the commission on training camp activities.

The national guardmen from Pennsylvania will find the warmest possible welcome awaiting them in Augusta.

EX-CZAR AND FAMILY ARE SENT INTO EXILE

Nicholas Spirited Away From Tsarskoe-Selo by Order of Ministers' Council—Destination Reported to Be Siberia

Petrograd, Aug. 16.—Nicholas Romanoff, the deposed Russian emperor, and the members of his family were spirited away under circumstances of extreme mystery early yesterday morning from Tsarskoe-Selo to a destination which the provisional government firmly refuses to reveal.

The semi-official Russian news agency announced last night, however, that it was reported the former czar and his family were being transported to Tobolsk, Siberia.

No one except the local military officials especially sent from Petrograd witnessed the departure, and according to a statement made to The Associated Press by N. V. Nekrasoff, vice-president of the council of ministers, the account published in the only newspaper which reported the departure was imaginary.

It appears that the plan was to remove Nicholas before dawn, but the train arrived at Tsarskoe-Selo several hours late. Instead of the gorgeous imperial train in which Nicholas was taken to Tsarskoe-Selo from Mohylev in March, an ordinary train composed of three sleeping cars, a dining car and several third-class coaches was sent. A second train was assigned to take the baggage and servants, fifty

Nicholas Appears Depressed

Nicholas was very depressed in appearance, but former Empress Alexandra, who was seen walking for the first time in months, seemed lively and pleased at the prospect of a change in surroundings.

In view of the need for special precautions, the guard between the palace and railroad station was not composed of any single unit, but of delegations of eleven trusted men from each battalion of the Tsarskoe-Selo garrison.

An hour after the train arrived Nicholas appeared on the steps of the palace dressed in a colonel's uniform, with a khaki blouse and no decorations. He entered an automobile, accompanied by Prince Dolgoroukoff and Count Benckendorff, former court marshal, who thus far have shared his captivity. They were followed by the former Empress Alexandra, who was accompanied by Countess Narayshken, her close friend and former lady of the court; all the four grand duchesses, with their maids of honor, and finally by Alexis, the former heir to the throne, at whose side was the gigantic sailor "Derovenko," the protector of Alexis since his birth and his constant companion.

AGRICULTURAL COMMITTEE SENDS OUT CANNING DATA

Co-operating with the committee in this work was the Dauphin County Farm Bureau. Others are on file at the office of the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce, where they can be had on application.

The association already has made surveys of about seventy camps, and has work under way in forty-three centers.

MILK RAISE IN EFFECT TO-DAY; CREAM UP TOO

Many housewives were surprised this morning when their milkman announced that milk was ten cents a quart. Thirty-five members of the Retail Milk Dealers' Association met on last Tuesday night and adopted the new scale.

cream which was thirty-two cents with confection and six cents a half pint, is now forty cents a quart and ten cents a half pint. Buttermilk raised from six to eight cents a quart.

I FELT ALL FAGGED OUT Sanpan Surely Did Fix Me Up

says A. C. Becoat, 1154 Cumberland street, Harrisburg. I was bothered with constipation and stomach trouble, after meals would belch up gas, and had an awful distress and heavy feeling in my stomach and under ribs.

To tell the truth, I felt tired and draggy all the time, my liver was bad, and I had a lot of pains in my right and shooting pains in legs, my head always felt stuffed up, and I never knew what it was to feel just right and fit. I had taken quantities of patent medicines with no result. Sanpan had been helping a lot of people in this neighborhood so I concluded that it was the medicine for me, and it made good in a hurry. I feel full of ginger all the time now, my stomach is fine. I don't know an ache or pain, and my head is clear as a bell.

Sanpan certainly keeps right on making good. Sanpan is now being introduced at Keller's Drug Store, 463 Market street, Harrisburg, where the Sanpan man is explaining it to the people.
