IN THE CUMBERLAND VALLEY GIRL JUMPS IN TROLLEY'S PATH 38 MEN ACCEPTED IN CUMBERLAND

Frightened by Masked Men She Narrowly Escapes Death on Track

Waynesboro, Pa., Aug. 23.—As the Chambersburg, Greencastle and Waynesboro trolley car, which left Waynesboro at 8 o'clock last evening and was beyond Greencastle, Victor McKelvey, the motorman, was started to see a girl jump from behind a trolley pole, stand on the track and signal the car to stop. Mr. McKelvey threw on the emergency brakes, but too late to keep from striking the girl. She was picked up unconscious and placed on the car, and after a nurse, who happened to be a passenger on the car, had given first aid, the girl told a peculiar story.

She said that her name was Mary Carlisle, and that she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. A. Cook, who lived near the trolley line beyond Greencastle. She was but 15 years of age. She said that her father had taken her to Greencastle and when she attempted to go to the barn a man wearing a mask came out of the cornfield and threatened to kill her if she did not promise to go to Greencastle to meet him. This frightened the girl so that she became panic-stricken and ran towards Chambersburg, intending to board a trolley car and go to Chambersburg to spend the night with friends there. The girl was taken to the Chambersburg Hospital. Officers have been on the hunt for the would-be assailant of the girl.

APPROPRIATE MELODIES The Marlborough organist in A. C. Bradley's schoolboy days seems to have been an adept at selecting appropriate hymns. The great W. G. Grace" relates Mr. Bradley, "played a match at Marlborough in the plenitude of his glory, and was bowled by a schoolboy from the ranks of the United States Army at service that evening sang a hymn containing the boastfully significant line, 'The scanty triumphs grace hath won.' On another occasion two Marlborough bowlers named Stone and Wood played signal havoc with the wickets of a visiting team from Cheltenham, and the choir celebrated the occasion by singing: 'The heathen in his blindness, Bows down to wood and stone.'

Light Breakfasts

Thoughtful people these days are urging economy in eating, and many are even advocating "no breakfast." The "no breakfast" plan may agree with some, but most people feel better and work better on at least a light breakfast. A great many have found that a liberal dish of Grape-Nuts, served with cream, milk, or fruit juice, furnishes ample morning nourishment, is easily digested, and promotes buoyancy and clearness of mind. contains all the nourishing goodness of wheat and barley, including the vital mineral salts of the grain, and is a most delicious food. It's the worst thing you can do. In time your bowels come to depend so much on stimulation by salts, calomel, etc., that it is practically impossible to get rid of them without resorting to these drastic purges and take a few doses of a purely vegetable purgative which has now been placed on the market in the form of little tablets, gently but firmly both on kidneys and liver and not only cure constipation but remove the cause, but at the same time strengthen the stomach, liver and bowels, so that they can do their duty without the aid of medicines.

Go to your druggist to-day and ask for "The Doctor's Advice" tablets. Let's and take just as directions advise, always remembering that every box of "The Doctor's Advice" contains a refund of the purchase price to any district. Philip Nickey, committeemen, Second district, T. L. Smith.

Dr. Morton W. Easton Dies at Mt. Gretna Cottage

Mt. Gretna, Pa., Aug. 23.—Dr. Morton W. Easton, died at his home on the chautauqua grounds. Dr. Easton is to be credited with the beautiful condition of the grounds, as for years he has brought pine trees, ferns and laurel from the woods and planted them about the cottages. Dr. Easton was born August 18, 1841, at Hartford, Conn. He graduated from Yale in 1863; professor of classical philology, University of Tennessee, University of Pennsylvania, and Columbia. He is survived by his wife and three children. The funeral is to be held at the Easton home, on Thursday morning at 10.30. The body will be taken to Philadelphia on Thursday.

MRS. W. S. HAMMOND DIES Lewisberry, Pa., Aug. 23.—Mrs. Jeannette Starr Hammond, wife of W. S. Hammond, died at her home here yesterday morning, aged 65 years. Mrs. Hammond was a daughter of Reuben R. and Elizabeth (Lloyd) Starr, and is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Alice Starr Houck, of Mechanicsburg, and Mrs. Fannie King, of Harrisburg, and a brother, Lloyd Starr, of Shiremanstown. C. Howard Lloyd, of Harrisburg, is a cousin. Funeral services will be held at the home on Saturday morning. Burial will be made in Emanuel Cemetery, near Lewisberry.

DON'T EDUCATE YOUR BOWELS TO RELY ON Powerful Purgatives

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply in any case of a similar nature. Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Eldwood streets, Dayton, Ohio, and a stamped envelope for return of the purchase price to any district. Philip Nickey, committeemen, Second district, T. L. Smith.

M. J. B. asks: "My hair is too oily and my scalp itches, with dandruff, and of late it is coming out too much. What is a good treatment?" Answer: Obtain plain yellow myxol from your druggist in 4-oz. jars and apply as per directions. This cleans, purifies, cools and invigorates the hair and scalp, thus stopping the death of the hair. Dandruff and itching are at once relieved. Men and women all over the country now use it regularly.

"Weakness" writes: "Have been doctoring for kidney trouble and now want your advice. Frequent desire is followed by burning pain and am very tender and sore over region of bladder. Also backache affects me dreadfully. Can hardly move when I awake in the morning. Weakness, too, is a symptom." Answer: I think if you will take balmwort tablets regularly for a few weeks your kidneys and bladder will become normal and such symptoms vanish. This is unequalled for such complaints in my estimation.

NOTE: For many years Dr. Baker has been giving free advice and prescriptions to millions of people through the press columns, and his advice has helped in relieving illness and distress more than any single individual in the world's history. Thousands have written him expressions of gratitude and confidence. Dr. Lewis Baker, Dear Sir:—We have used three of the medicines you advise, the double four, the essence mentho-laxene and the rheumatism prescription, and I want to say they all worked like a charm. They are the best I have ever used and I feel I can't not keep house without them. I am very grateful and pleased to recommend any of these medicines prescribed by you. MRS. R. L. WHITED, 110 No. 1st Street, Port Jervis, N. Y.
