

$250,000 TO BE RAISED FOR WAR CAMP MINISTRY

Methodist Church Planning to Care For Soldiers of This Denomination

Philadelphia, Aug. 24.—$250,000 for war camp ministry to Methodist soldiers is being asked of the Methodist Episcopal Church through its Board of Home Missions and Church Extension with headquarters in this city.

support volunteer chaplains for officers training camps and to render more efficient Methodist churches located near the camps and to augment the equipment of those churches needing it in order to render an adequate ministry to the Methodist boys in the name of Jesus Christ and the church back home.

The survey of church conditions in the neighborhood of the cantonments and other camps shows that while in most cases the Methodist Episcopal churches in the vicinity were able to perform an adequate ministry to the normal population, many of them are entirely inadequate for meeting the needs of the 150,000 Methodist soldiers who will be distributed throughout the different camps.

AMERICAN FLYERS LEAD IN BATTLE

Lafayette Squadron Up Incessantly During the Recent Verdun Offensive

Paris, Aug. 24.—Glorious "airplane weather" has given a tremendous impetus to the activity of aviators on the western battlefield. The Lafayette squadron, composed of Americans, has been up incessantly, participating in the recent offensive at Verdun and vying with French aviators in the exciting though dangerous new game of accompanying the infantry at extremely low altitudes and engaging enemy quadrilles in machine gun duels.

The work of this kind not only has been effective, but it has been without casualties, except for the injury to Stephen Bigelow, of Boston, who had a narrow escape when a German bullet crashed through his windshield, splintering glass which grazed him on both cheeks.

Another squadron composed of Didier Masson, of Los Angeles, Cal.; Dudley L. Hill, of Peekskill, N. Y.; Robert Soubrin, of New York; Ray Clavin Bridgeman, of Lake Forest, Ill., and Douglas MacMonagle, of San Francisco, yesterday executed a movement over the French trenches to protect the infantry, the "Liaison" machines flying so low that the aviators could hear the guns and the explosions of the big shells.

On returning the Americans described the flight as a marvelous one, since they could plainly see each detail of the raging battle, but also as an uncomfortable one since they were constantly passing through the trajectory of big shells which made the air "shaky" and which could be felt continuously.

Weather prospects are good for the next few days so the members of the Lafayette squadron expect a continuation of the exciting work.

An expedition with bombing machines led by Adjutant Willis B. Haviland, of Minneapolis, last night was attacked unsuccessfully by a German squadron.

Walter S. Rheno, of Martha's Vineyard, Mass., who yesterday single-handed shot down a German two-seated Albatross, is one of the newest men to join the Lafayette flying corps. He thus earned his sergeant's stripes and a war cross at the outset of his career. It is considered a remarkable performance for so young a pilot to get the better of a two-manned machine without help.

Dr. Edmund Gros, of Paris, who was instrumental in organizing the successful Lafayette flying corps with American volunteers, has been appointed a major of the American army in the aviation signal corps. He will give up his practice for the duration of the war.

GERMAN NEWSPAPER QUITS Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Aug. 24.—The Iowa Post, a German language newspaper, suspended publication today. It has been intensely pro-German and withdrawal of support by loyal Germans is given as the reason for the suspension. Henry Gundling, its editor, has been before the federal authorities twice.

CAMP FOR DRAFT MEN SOON READY

All Barracks For First 10,000 From Pennsylvania Being Rushed at Admiral, Md.

Camp Meade, Admiral, Md., Aug. 24.—Barracks to accommodate Pennsylvania's entire first draft contingent of nearly 100,000 men will be completed before their arrival September 5. This statement was made at the office of the army construction headquarters on the camp site, where Major Proctor, of the quartermaster's corps, is in charge of the preparations for receiving the 40,000 national army recruits. The remainder of the barracks will be sufficiently completed to accommodate all succeeding contingents of 30 per cent as they arrive.

From the provost marshal general's office it was learned today that Philadelphia's first 30 per cent will be entrained for the camp some time during the five days following September 5. Each company or group of men arrives they will be met by the company officers—captains and lieutenants recently graduated from training camps. They will escort them to the north end of the camp, which is an especially fine location, and the first 10,000 men to arrive will have special quarters as far as topography goes.

8,000 Others to Camp There The question of who will officer the barracks still undecided, although it is virtually certain that they will be under Pennsylvania's, most of them from Fort Niagara, some thirteen of whom have already reached here. There will be 7,000 Maryland men in camp here and 929 men from Washington city, and it is expected a number of officers from Maryland and the District of Columbia will be scattered among the commands.

Together there will be 32,859 Pennsylvanians in Camp Meade, and the entire camp, officers and men, will virtually bear the earmarks of the Keystone State.

MacMillan Arctic Party Safe; Off Labrador Coast

New York, Aug. 24.—A wireless dispatch was received here yesterday from Donald B. MacMillan, head of the expedition, that the expedition on the steamship Neptune, by President Henry Fairfield Osborne, of the American National Geographic Society, stating that all were well and indicating that all his collections and equipment was on board the vessel. This message supplemented dispatches received from St. Johns, N. F., Wednesday night, saying the Neptune was off the coast of Labrador and would reach St. Johns Sunday.

It was understood by the dispatch, it was said at the offices of President Osborne, that the Neptune had reached the MacMillan party base at Etah, August 1, took on board all the members of the expedition, had been marooned in the far north for nearly four years.

Washington, Aug. 24.—In eleven States and the District of Columbia, Pennsylvania stands third in infant mortality under one year, according to the figures issued yesterday by the Census Bureau.

Of the six metropolises in the district covered by the report, Philadelphia stands fourth highest in deaths for all ages, with 11,400 deaths to each 1,000 births. Pittsburgh is second with 110.

The highest deathrate for infants in the area examined, for cities of more than 25,000, is in Shenandoah, Pa., with 196 deaths to the 1,000. The lowest cities are Brookline and Malden, Mass., with fifty-four each. In cities under 25,000 population, Lackawanna, N. Y., leads with 375, and Duwanna, Pa., is second, with 195. Lewis J. Buddy, Boy Scout Organizer, Visits the City

Lewis J. Buddy, the Boy Scout organizer, who was in charge of the campaign which raised $10,000 to finance the Boy Scout movement in Harrisburg, was in the city today on his way to the Newport, where he will conduct a number of points, where he conducted a number of successful Boy Scout movements. He was the guest of Howard E. Howard, former president of the Rotary Club, and several other Rotarians at luncheon today.

"I always stop off for a few hours in my way through," said Mr. Buddy, "because I hold for its people the warmest of good feelings. Your community embraces me as actively and as entertainingly as there is anywhere. It is a good old town and I like to come here. I am well pleased by the manner in which the Scout movement has been developed here."

U.S. TO RUSH FIRST AID TO RUSSIA

Washington Alarmed at Situation in Great New Democracy

Washington, Aug. 24.—Russia's situation alarmed official Washington today. She needs help, and the United States will rush first aid to the new democracy at once.

At the request of the Russian mission, Edward N. Hurley, chairman of the United States shipping board, has set aside three large vessels to be sent to Archangel. Other vessels will follow as soon as possible. The exact tonnage or the nature of these vessels was not disclosed.

Every effort will be made to bolster up the Russian situation so far as it can be remedied by supplies from this country.

Archangel is the Russian port on the Arctic ocean, but it closes its navigation toward the end of October or middle November. It is understood that the Russian ships at the port more than 300,000 tons of supplies for the Russian troops.

An enormous amount of tonnage will be required to move this. The railroads are choked. Whether the relief is to be effected by use of river vessels and other small tonnage crafts obtained on the other side could not be learned last night.

It is agreed generally that Russia's greatest needs today are of transportation. She has the manpower; she has the equipment, but she cannot move it. The Trans-Siberian railroad is reported congested from end to end. It can hardly move troops, much less supplies. The same is true of railroads running to the Arctic port.

U. S. Seeks Engineers and Labor to Use in France

Camp Dix, Wrightstown, N. J., Aug. 24.—The extent to which the United States government is preparing to employ labor in France and Belgium came to light here today when government military officials called a meeting of engineers, superintendents and master mechanics employed on the cantonment, with a view to enlisting their services for foreign work.

The purpose of the meeting was clearly explained by Captain Skinner, constructing quartermaster, and there was an appeal to the men who are masters at their professions and trades to go to the war-torn countries for construction work.
