U. S. WILL LOOK AFTER FAMILIES OF FIGHTING MEN

Dependents Will Not Want With Bread Earners in the Field

Washington, Aug. 27. — That favorable action by Congress on Secretary McAdoo's comprehensive plan for providing financial assistance to the families of American soldiers and sailors appealing strongly to the Red Cross was indicated in a statement issued by Henry P. Davidson, chairman of the Red Cross War Council.

"Obviously the task of providing for the financial assistance of the families of our soldiers and sailors is so important that the government alone can assume it," said Mr. Davidson. "In no other way can the burden be discharged fairly and as a matter of right rather than charity. No voluntary organization, or organizations, could adequately cope with a duty of such magnitude."

In a memorandum Secretary McAdoo explains the operation of the proposed legislation. This system, as explained, means that the government in sharing with the financial needs of his family. The compulsory allotments from the man's pay may not exceed the family allowance from the government, with a minimum, however, of $15 monthly, and a maximum of one-half pay. There is a scale of allowances determined by the size of the dependent family, so that the monthly family allowance from the government would be $30, according to the number of dependents.

How Plan Works Secretary McAdoo illustrates the working of the system in the following example: "A private gets $32 a month for seven dependents, one wife and two children he must allow to them at least $15 out of his pay. The government supplements this to $32.50. This family's minimum monthly income, therefore, would be $47.50. The father can allot as much more as he pleases to his wife and children. If there are three children and a mother actually dependent upon him, by giving $20 out of his $32 a month, would get from the government $47.50 a month, giving the family an income of $67.50 and still leaving the man $13 per month for spending money. If there is also a dependent father the government would give up to $56 in all over and above the man's own allowance."

Disability or Death "The risk of disability or death as to officers, men and nurses while in active military or naval service, can be compensated on the analogy of the Workmen's Compensation act rather than through a pension system."

"If total disability results from personal injury suffered or disease contracted in the course of the service, the dependents of the soldier or sailor shall be entitled to a percentage of pay, but with a minimum of from $40 to $75 per month, according to the size of the family, may receive as high as $100 per month to a maximum of $200 per month. Partial disabilities are compensated for on the basis of percentages of the compensation for total disability.

"If death results from the injury or disease incurred or contracted in active military or naval service, the dependents of the soldier or sailor shall be entitled to a percentage of pay, ranging from a minimum, according to the size of the family, from $15 to $60 per month, to a maximum of $200 per month for higher officers of $200 per month."
