of the most widely-known men in Pennsylvania as he had been in the State's military establishment from the Civil War in which he served as a volunteer and had campaigned in every county, being noted as an orator and after dinner speaker.

General Stewart died on his birthday. He was born near Belfast, Ireland, September 11, 1848, but was brought to this country when less than a year old. He grew up in Norristown, where he attended the schools and then attended Quaker City Business College. When only sixteen years of age he enlisted as a private in the 138th Volunteers and after the war engaged in glass manufacture in which he remained until 1882.

Long Military Record General Stewart was elected to the House of Representatives from Montgomery county in 1884 and served for two years.

The military record of General Stewart is a long one. Three years after the close of the war he became assistant adjutant of the Sixth Pennsylvania Regiment and in 1887 was named as assistant and the proposed as an ember of the commissions which he directed was that which had charge of the transfer of the battle flags to the rotunda of the new Capitol, with every State wart is a long one. regiment of the Civil War gathered here.

General Stewart was elected Secretary of Internal Affairs in 1886 and re-elected in 1890. He resigned to become Adjutant General.

For years General Stewart was prominent in Masonic circles and with the late Dr. Henry Houck, Secretary of Internal Affairs, was a speaker at banquets in this city. The two men had campaigned together and were close friends and the sudden death of the secretary affected General Stewart greatly.

The General was connected with several business concerns and was president of a newspaper company at Norristown and a director in the Union Trust Company in this city. Few men in Pennsylvania have occupied a prominent place continuously in the last generation and few sent an added list of 112 names to the appeal board for certification today, and the other two boards have either sent in another list or are rapidly preparing one for the present session of the board. No preparations had been made for the reception of the new orders and the boards have been caught unawares. Indications point that the only way possible to secure the required number is to take all those who have passed without claiming exemption and sending them along with those who have been certified by the appeal board.

Act on Claims

At the meeting of the appeal board this morning in the House caucus rooms in the Capitol twenty-one claims for exemption from Franklin county were acted upon and of this cupied a prominent place continuously in the last generation and few were better known or had more friends.

The funeral services for General Stewart will be readed his residence in this city. Friday evening, at 7.30 o'clock, and will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. George Edward Hawes, pastor of Market Square Presbyterian Church, Harrisburg. The remains may be viewed from 2 to 5 o'clock. The body will be taken to Norristown, Saturday morning, at 10.30 o'clock, and services held in that place at 2 o'clock. To-day forty-seven more were examined and the results will be made public to-morrow. At Elizabethville, fifty-four were examined yesterday, and of this number thirty passed, twenty-four were discharged and seven did not claim exemption. These two boards will continue examinations during this week and after all those summoned on this last call have been examined, it is more than likely that others will be called. The list

Must Certify Back
State draft headquarters to-day called the attention of district boards to the fact that they must certify back to local boards enough names to start the shipment of drafted men to Camps Meade, Sherman and Lee on Wednesday of next week. Some of the district boards are behind with their work and from inquiries made here it is believed that it is not realized that certification of names should be made as far as possible in advance.

Attention of all boards has been called to the fact that the next movement is to be started on September 19 and that the number of men to be sent has been increased. Arrangements are now being made with the rallroads to forward the men and it is planned to have the Pennsylvania contingents go in special trains directly to the camps.
