

EVERY CANDIDATE FOR SELF, RULE IN COUNCIL CONTEST

No Sign of "Slates," Although Democrats Are Said to Be Talking of One

Registration Day Saturday, Sept. 15

The last city registration day is Saturday. Many of the voters in the various precincts have not availed themselves of the opportunity to register on the two first registration days and will be given their last chance to do so on Saturday. The primary election will be held on Wednesday. Registrars will sit on Saturday from 8 to 12 in the morning, to 6 in the afternoon, and to 10 o'clock in the evening.

With few exceptions the twenty-two candidates for city council are making active canvasses this week for the nominations they seek, and a feature of the campaign is that it is "every fellow for himself and no combinations," as one well-known political worker who was seen seeking in vain for signs for a "slate" in a reporter.

Hitherto two, three or four candidates for council have pooled issues and made a campaign on the "all for one and one for all" but this year there is not an indication of a combine in the city. Of course there are the candidates of the Nonpartisan League, who have been speaking at the same meetings, but even in this case the various candidates have done a very considerable amount of independent campaigning. There are rumors, also, that at the last minute the Democratic organization will issue orders, but even this could not be confirmed and Democrats are badly split up in support of the various candidates owing allegiance to that party. One candidate, it is reported, has pledged a number of friends to vote for nobody but himself, but in the main the nomination seekers are content to exact a promise of personal support and let it go at that.

On the Republican side the Councilman fight remains very distinctly outside the party lines. To be sure Republicans in a very large measure may be expected to vote for the many excellent Republican candidates in the field, but so far as the city committee and the ward workers are concerned it is every man for his own selections and no attempt to line up in favor of anybody for commission.

Burnett Shows Up Strong
Friends of Charles W. Burnett said today that he is showing up stronger than ever and it is predicted that he will carry off one of the nominations. Similar predictions are made for Edward L. Rinkenbach and those who have been watching the progress of the Lynch campaign are positive the Highway Commissioner is stronger now than he was two years ago. Indeed confidence extends all the way down the line and if followers of the various candidates are to be believed there could be no chance of defeat for any of them.

City Controller Fry, who was elected in a campaign, is again making strong headway, this time for Council, and at a curbstone gathering of politicians the other evening it was predicted that Fry would "beat" the "old" C. Steiner, formerly president of Common Council, and a well-known member of the Typographical Union, nearly into the fight after the known solicitation of friends who supported him in previous contests and did not know his nomination petitions were in circulation until the required number of signatures had been procured. Fry is receiving many promises of support.

There has been talk of Democratic organization support of a slate made up of John K. Royal, Charles F. Spicer, Howard W. Jones or possibly Samuel F. Haessler, for City Council, and W. L. Grogan for Mayor, but up to this time it either has not come into being or the workers have not been informed for nobody can be found who has had any definite "word" on the subject and each of the men named is making his own personal canvass.

West End Club Meets
One hundred and sixty-nine members of the West End Republican Club, who live in the Twelfth Ward, held their regular meeting last night at the home of Harry A. Phillips, 621 North Sixteenth street, a number of candidates for offices spoke, among them were Howard W. Jones, out for council; Fred L. Morgensthaler, candidate for the six-week term from November to January; and Edward Moeslein, candidate for school director. The men outlined their policies in case they were elected, stating they would work for the best interests of the city.

Both Republican and Democratic committeemen in the city are making every effort to have all voters who have not registered, do so on Saturday, the last registration day before the primary election. In a number of the city precincts the registrars report only about fifty per cent. of the voters have been listed. With city councilmen, a mayor, school directors and a number of important county offices to fill the committeemen are doing everything possible to have a large vote.

CHILD DIES
After a brief illness, Donald T. Kearns, two-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Kearns, 37 Hummel street, died last evening. Funeral services will be held to-morrow afternoon, at 2 o'clock, the Rev. H. R. Bender, pastor of Ridge Avenue Methodist Church, officiating.

GIRLS QUITTING SCHOOL BECAUSE OF CONDITIONS

Long Climbs Upstairs and Crowded Rooms Are Responsible

How important it is to promptly provide proper facilities for the girl students of the high schools is demonstrated this week in the withdrawal of a number of girls from the Central High School owing to the conditions there.

Parents of these girls are most emphatic in their denunciation of the situation and insist that it is an unnecessary imposition upon them to be compelled to send their daughters at an early age to schools elsewhere. One prominent manufacturer said this morning: "When we are taxed and cheerfully pay our share of the necessary burden of education in this community we ought at least to feel that we can keep our daughters with us during their early school years, owing to the menace to their health, however, some of us are compelled to send our girls out of the city where the facilities ought to have been provided for them. We are not provided here with accommodations and facilities which will equal any school elsewhere." Much of the complaint about the present Central High School building has come from the necessity of the girls climbing several flights of stairs constantly and being divided into two sections owing to the crowded conditions.

Central High Notes

All boys over 16 years of age who wish to join the Boys Reserves are requested to hand their names to Principal H. G. Dibble at once.

There seems to be a rumor going around among the student body to the effect that students with conditions are not eligible to the choir. This is a mistake and all those who tried for the choir last spring should see Principal Dibble immediately if they desire to enter the choir this term.

Inquiries concerning "lost and found articles" will be made at the office in the future. There will be no chapel announcements concerning them.

HAWAII HAS LABOR COMMITTEE
Honolulu, Hawaii. — Royal D. Mead, head of Bureau of Labor and Statistics of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters Association, has been appointed chairman of the Committee on Labor of the Territorial Food Commission. The committee, which is a new one, will have charge of all labor problems and affairs coming before the commission.

WILL HAVE TO SPEED UP TO GET ENOUGH

County Draft Boards Short Required Number of Men to Go Sept. 19

The orders issued yesterday by the provost marshal general increasing the quota of the first contingent to 45 per cent, has raised havoc with the local exemption boards. The order caught the boards unprepared. Where the three division boards are going to secure the 267 men to send as representatives of Dauphin county they are not sure. The question that remains unsettled.

Not one of the three boards has sufficient names certified to feel safe. Steelton must send 115. To date 127 are certified. The margin is only fifty are negroes, and as these men are to be excluded from going with the first contingent the board is left short. To-day a new list of 102 names was prepared and rushed to the district board at the Capitol to be acted upon. Of this number thirty-four are negroes. If these names are certified, Steelton will have 228 men on hand. Taking out the 79 negroes that are included, there would be 149 men. The nearly required number. This board had not intended to call any more men for examination. However, to-day Charles W. Stephens, Linglestown, Pa., was called in to see the provost marshal general in order to secure the full quota of 255.

Rush Examinations
At the headquarters of the Paxtang board at Dauphin Building the work of examining is being rushed in order that the required number of men can be secured. To-day the Paxtang board certified 24 names that were certified. These, added to the 71 already certified, brings its total up to 95 more men are required to send on September 19. A margin of five is not sufficient and more names must be sent in. This week so far 150 were ordered to go for examination in the first three days. The majority put in appearance and the remainder of the 300 called will be examined before Monday.

Paxtang Board Safe
The Paxtang board is much better off in this respect than the other two boards. Steelton will be fortunate if it pulls through the other two. Elizabethtown is working to rush the names to the appeal board.

At Elizabethtown yesterday the board certified 64 and of this number 30 passed and 24 were discharged. Twenty-three asked exemption and 7 expressed their willingness to go to the Territorial Food Commission. The committee, which is a new one, will have charge of all labor problems and affairs coming before the commission.

May Cut Tape
Reports from Elizabethtown to-day state that this morning 53 were certified. Of this number 25 passed, 18 were discharged and 7 claimed no exemption. The chairman of this board is hopeful of having 47 men ready. While only 25 names have been certified to this board, he feels that with 72 men not claiming exemption he will be able to secure the extra 11. This is a possible solution of the troubles of the other two boards, too. If the men who have not claimed exemption are allowed to go, then the full numbers in all the boards will be certain. The red tape that is bound around the workings of the appeal board may be cut and the men allowed to leave. In the case of the other two boards, rejoicing among the boards and a great deal will be taken from their minds.

Demands Speed
Officers at the state draft headquarters to-day asked that members of district appeal boards and local boards speed up their certification of men for the national army so that Pennsylvania will be able to send forth its quota of men on the first call for Camp Meade next Wednesday. The quota was increased yesterday by an order from Washington and the headquarters officers declare that it will require much more active work on the part of district boards. The certifications should be started at once, as the first of the five movements of men to Camp Meade will begin on Wednesday, September 13.

Detailed information has been sent to local boards regarding the movement to Camp Meade and the railroad officials are now working on plans for special trains from eastern Pennsylvania. Movements to Camp Lee and Shermans are scheduled to be made on the same day.

Men Ready For Service
The exemption boards at Paxtang and Steelton have issued new lists of names of the men who have been certified to the appeal board as ready for service in the new national draft army. Paxtang has seventy-one men ready to go, while Steelton, in addition to the twenty-seven already certified by the appeal board, 112 more have been listed. Signal Reserve Corps to Hold Regular Drills

Members of the signal reserve corps held a meeting in the recruiting rooms at 221 Market street last night. Almost seventy-five persons who have recently enlisted in this branch of the service attended the meeting.

It was decided to hold regular drills twice a week until the men are ordered to report for service. The first drill will be held to-morrow evening at the Island. Sergeant Howard B. Ellinger will be in charge. Telegraph instruments and buzzers for practice in radio work will be installed in the recruiting rooms, and regular practice classes will be held for the recruits. Plans will be perfected to-morrow evening for a banquet to be given in the near future.

First Books For Camp Hancock Go From City's Library

The first shipment of books for the camp library of the Pennsylvania troops at Augusta, Ga., one of those to be established by the American Library Association in conjunction with the War Department, Red Cross and other organizations, was made to-day from the Harrisburg Public Library, the headquarters for south central Pennsylvania counties. Five hundred books were sent direct to Camp Hancock and as many more will be sent Friday.

Organization of the work in behalf of the camp libraries is being completed to-day in fourteen counties in this section and it is expected to have shipments made rapidly for the camp of the Pennsylvania soldiers.

Miss Alice R. Eaton, librarian of the Harrisburg Public Library, to-day arranged with Recorder James E. Lantz to take charge of the organization of upper Dauphin county in behalf of the fund for the camp libraries and Mrs. Lyman D. Gilbert has tendered assistance in the organization in this city and William Jennings for Dauphin and Perry counties.

Leo S. Gainer, of the Harrisburg Council of the Knights of Columbus, to-day outlined the work which that organization will do in this section in behalf of the camp literature.

Camp Curtin Co. to Have Big Time When Engine Is Turned On

The new triple pump purchased by the city for the Camp Curtin Company will be turned over to company for services by Commissioner Gross on Friday evening. The new machine has been christened "Andrew G. Curtin" and bears a name plate to that effect.

The placing of this much-needed apparatus in service will be made occasion of a jollification by the people of the Camp Curtin district, walk-around over a short road headed by the "Trainman's Band," start from the enginehouse at 7 p. m. On return to the enginehouse the exercises in connection with presentation and acceptance will take place. There will be addresses by city officials and acceptance will be made by the Pennsylvania Railroad. The will render several selections.

Alkali in Soap Bad For The Hair

Soap should be used very carefully if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is a pure and greasy soap, which is pure and greasy. It is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use. One or two teaspoonfuls of this soap in the water will clean the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine, silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and to manage. You can get sulfisated coconut oil at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

Club Clothes for Fall

are ready for service --- on land or sea --- or wherever duty or pleasure calls.

But being ready for service does not mean that they have a ready-made appearance. On the contrary, they match the made-to-order clothes about as closely as the gray on one battleship blends with that on another.

And once you start to wear "Club Clothes" you will never feel "out at sea"---you will always be thoroughly at home, in the drawing room or office, at work or at leisure.
