

OLIVET PLANS BUSY SEASON

Hustling Hill Congregation Will Hold Many Special Services

Messages have been sent out by the superintendent of the Sunday school of the Olivet Presbyterian Church to all members and friends of the Sunday school calling them to mobilize at 2 o'clock for the fall rally.

This is the beginning of a very busy week in the church. At the evening service the members of the Allison Hook and Ladder Company will worship in a body when the pastor will talk to the men on "The Man With a Neuter Soul."

A special letter has been sent out by the session to all members urging their co-operation in the meeting of the awards made by the country on all citizens. It follows:

Dear friend—Greeting: I hope you have had a pleasant vacation and that you are better fitted for the work that lies before you, perhaps you take a prospective view of the future, you see the vast opportunities and possibilities that are within your reach, these are the things that make life worth while.

There are many important things that we must do in the next several months, that I am sure you will do your part in making Olivet the very best of all churches.

ROSH HASHANAH TO BE OBSERVED HERE WITH SERIES OF SPECIAL SERVICES

NEW YORK CHOIR TO SING AT SERVICES

The Jewish people will on Sunday evening enter their houses of worship, to usher in their Rosh Hashanah, or New Year, 5678, which marks the beginning of the cycle of sacred observances held during the month of Tishri, the seventh month of the Jewish calendar.

While every New Moon, in ancient times, was greeted by the sounds of the Shofar (trumpet), the seventh month or New Moon, coming after six months of work in the field, was welcomed with religious exercises as a month of rest and recreation by the agricultural inhabitants of Palestine.

The congregation of Chisbuk Emma, Sixth and Forster streets, will observe the event with special services and features. Rabbi Marcus Abramson, of New York, will conduct all the services during the high holidays.

Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock, Monday and Tuesday mornings at 10:30, Wednesday evening, Rosh Hashanah, September 25 commencing at 5 o'clock and Thursday morning, September 26, Yom Kippur, services will be held.

Rabbi Abramson will be assisted by a choir of ten under the direction of Jacob Axelrad. The members of the New York Choir will sing at services.

Obey Shalom Services The Obey Shalom congregation will observe Rosh Hashanah with services to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock, and Monday morning at 10 o'clock, with services by Rabbi J. Haas.

Yom Kippur services will be held Tuesday evening, September 25, at 7:45, and Wednesday morning at 10. Memorial services will be held Wednesday, September 26, at 3 o'clock.

The Jewish New Year is known by different names, and each expresses something of its spiritual significance. Numbers XXIX, I, designates it as "The Day of Blowing the Trumpet (Shofar)." New Year occurs in the autumn when the fall leaves are falling, flowers turn brown, and the air is crisp.

The Day of Judgment, The Day of Judgment, of self-examination. Tradition tells us that on this day the Ruler of life weighs the doings of man, and allots to each his destiny, as it were, for the coming year, for weal or woe, for life or death. "Shall a trumpet be blown in the city, and the people not tremble?" (Amos, III, 6) "For the Lord is our judge; the Lord is our law-giver; the Lord is our king; He will save us."

Its message to man is "threefold: (1) to contemplate all experiences of the year—joyful and sorrowful in the light of discipline, by the ruler of human destiny, and to renew our trust in Him; (2) to scrutinize our conduct, conscious that the God, the Just Judge of the world, searches the heart, and to consecrate the new year to a nobler life; (3) and to look upon the life story of Israel as of one's self in the light of God's revelations on Sinai, Moriah and Zion.

Special music and prayers mark the observance of the Feast, which though solemn is nevertheless joyous and optimistic. While Orthodox Jewry devotes two days, Reform Judaism observes only one day.

Day of Judgment Rosh Hashanah is also known as the Day of Judgment.

Obey Shalom Services The Obey Shalom congregation will observe Rosh Hashanah with services to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock, and Monday morning at 10 o'clock, with services by Rabbi J. Haas.

TO ENROLL 100,000 IN ARMY OF U. P. S.

State Will Furnish Big Share of Million in Patriotic Service

Christian Endeavorers of Dauphin, county, Lebanon, county, Berks county, Reading, Lebanon, Harrisburg and other nearby cities are adopting the standards campaign which includes a million enrollments in the Christian Endeavor army of universal patriotic service.

During a recent conference, a program for unions and societies was adopted and goals set calling for 1,000,000 enrollments in the C. E. army of universal patriotic service. 10,000 "excellent" societies, 5,000 "superior" societies, 2,000 "excellent" junior societies, 1,000 "superior" junior societies, 500 "excellent" unions, 250 "superior" unions, 40,000 new subscriptions to the C. E. World, 10,000 new societies.

Pennsylvania no doubt will enroll not less than 100,000 in the A. of U. P. S.; and accept goals in divisions with her size in all other departments, which will undoubtedly be done at the next meeting of the state executive committee, in October.

C. E. NOTES Arrangements are being made for a joint rally of the Dauphin county and Harrisburg, C. E. unions to be held some time next month when a prominent endeavorer will be the principal speaker.

A. J. Shurtle, of Boston, made his first appearance in a Michigan convention, held at Grand Rapids, and with his charm and amapour made a great hit with the young people. Every address of the convention was above the standard, and ex-Governor Chase Osborn stirred the young people to great patriotic enthusiasm.

"A Christian's Power" will be the topic for discussion in the endeavor meeting to-morrow evening.

H. L. Carl will have charge of the series at the Derry Street United Brethren Society to-morrow evening.

More than one hundred schools and colleges in the South have Christian Endeavor societies, with an aggregate of more than 6,000 student members.

The Bethlehem Lutheran society will hold an important meeting in the church to-morrow evening when all members and friends are urged to be present and take an active part. Much interest will be manifested by the Bethlehem endeavorers during the coming months.

A business meeting will be held at the home of the president, Miss Estelle V. Savage, secretary of the Wilkes-Barre C. E. Union, had for its purpose the planning new work for the fall and winter months.

At the Park Street United Evangelical Society to-morrow evening Nevin Seibert and Albert Slothower will have charge of the services.
