ILLIONS GO INTO SCHOOLS

markable Construction Program Started by Districts of Pennsylvania

Pennsylvania invested $7,333,564.78in construction of school houses outside of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh in the year ending July 1, 1917, according to a report just completed for the State Board of Education by Dr. George Becht, secretary of the

rd. This program is the most bitious in the way of school build- known in the State in any year. two large cities spent millions addition to the sum expended in y-three of the counties.

he report shows there were built nty-two buildings ranging in e from $50,000 to $100,000, six n $100,000 to $200,000, six from 0,000 to $300,000, and two cost- over $600,000. Plans for 223 er buildings were submitted to board, the cost varying from 0 to $50,000. Twenty-three pro- ed buildings were abandoned be- se of the high cost of material labor.

nquiries made by Dr. Becht showed that material prices went up in the year from fifteen to thirty-five per cent.

Allegheny county leads the counties in number of buildings, showing twenty-four to cost over $650,000. Luzerne and Washington divide next honors with 18, but Fayette is right behind with 17. Berks shows 7, Blair 3, Bucks 7, Bradford 3, Beaver 5, Butler 6, Cambria 14, Chester 4, Delaware 9, Erie 6, Franklin 4, Dauphin 3, Lackawanna 9, Lancaster 5; Lehigh 3, Montgomery 10, Northampton 4, Northumberland 3, Schuylkill 8, Westmoreland 15 and York 4.

Some of these schools cost as high as a quarter million dollars, but there were many rural schools in the list.

Paralysis Declining.—Reports to the State Department of Health on infantile paralysis show it diminishing. There were forty-one cases reported the first half of the month. In Lancaster and Lawrence the situation is clearing and Lawrence schools may soon be reopened.

Orphans Attend the Greater Sheesley Shows

Through the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Sheesley, the little orphans in the various homes in this city will be given an outing.

Mr. Sheesley has arranged for the transportation of these little men and women and all they will have to do is to step on and off the cars, spend a whole afternoon sightseeing and after Mrs. Sheesley provides a wholesome lunch, they will be loaded up with toys and trinkets and depart for home.

The big wild animal show will give special performances and if big Victoria, the elephant don't object, they will all get a ride.

They will, of course, take in the merry-go-round and soar aloft in the Ferris wheel.

This is one of Mr. Sheesley's fads and extends all his pleasures and shows to such bereaved little ones in every city which his shows play. Friday night the newsies will have an outing at the carnival and will be allowed the freedom of the shows without cost.

They will meet at the Square all wearing badges by which they may be distinguished and march behind the band after the concert to the grounds where they will be turned loose, and it is safe to say that they will be well taken care of.

Governor Leaves — Governor Brumbaugh left to-day for Philadelphia and may not return here until early next week.

To Ask Saloons to Close—Governor Brumbaugh will issue a proclamation late to-day asking all saloons and places where liquor is sold to close during the demonstrations in honor of departing drafted men and during the hours when they are leaving.

To Discuss Dauphin Road—Highway Commissioner O'Neil will take up the bids on the Swatara township road when he returns to the Capitol.

To Sit Tomorrow—Several Public Service Commissioners will return here to-morrow to sit in hearings which are scheduled, while Commissioner Rilling will sit in Pittsburgh. The Punxsutawney water case will be heard.

Capitol Closed—All State government departments, except Health and Police, were closed to-day because of the primary, business being suspended until to-morrow. The bulk of the state officials and attaches went home to vote.

Officials Greet Men—The first drafted men to pass through this city on the way to cantonments came from central counties and were greeted at the station by Col. F. D. Beary, deputy adjutant general W. G. Murdock, disbursing officer at the draft headquarters and others connected with the draft.

CAMPAIGN FOR 5,000 RECRUITS BEARING FRUIT

Captain Harrell Proposes to Enlist 2,000 Men a Month Before Next Call

The special drive being made by the local army recruiting headquarters for the enlistment of five thousand recruits during the next three months in the Harrisburg district, is bearing substantial results. This is a big undertaking, and means that to attain the goal almost 2,000 men must be enlisted each month. During the past several months the recruits have passed 1,000 per month, but in no one month have 1,700 men been enlisted. Yesterday's report shows that forty-six recruits were received—an excellent showing for the day.

If Captain Harrell's plan is successful, the city of Harrisburg will be freed from participation in the second draft, which is expected about the first of the new year. Not only will this city be freed from sending men in the next draft, but all of the cities and counties within the district will be recognized as having filled their quota. In the first draft, Harrisburg and Lancaster were the only cities exempted, both cities having secured more than the required number of recruits.

Sergeant John K. Blake, of the Allentown recruiting station, has been placed at the head of a traveling publicity bureau, and has already taken up his new duties. Sergeant Blake will tour the entire district. He is a forceful speaker and is considered one of the best recruiting men in this section.

Cavalry Attractive

Captain Harrell will spare no efforts to make the new drive a complete success. To this end prominent organizations of the city will be asked to take an active part. The organizations will include the Rotary Club, the Chamber of Commerce, P. O. S. of A, the G. A. R., veterans of the Spanish-American and other foreign wars, and kindred bodies.

The cavalry continues to receive recruits, and the new Stevedore regiment for colored men who will do railroad work in France is drawing many recruits. Yesterday seven negroes enlisted. Six were from York, and one, Herbert J. Mount, is from Steelton.

Othere enlistments from this section yesterday include: Matthew Milard, 326 Filbert street, for the infantry; Joseph B. Chambers, 1425 Shoop street, Twenty-first enginers; Brainard H. Bennett, Jr., Camp Hill, engineers; Walter L. Horning, Enola, Ezra F. Arling, Linglestown; Ralph F. Houck, New Cumberland, and Ray P. Long, New Cumberland, for the cavalry; Thomas E. Toland, Duncannon; William H. Hevel, George J. McCann and Earl D. McCann, all of Middletown, for the infantry.

NEWS OF STEELTON

THOUSANDS GIVE FAREWELL TO STEELTON'S SELECTED MEN WHO ARE LEAVING TOMORROW

Steelton bade farewell to its quota of selected residents and the men conscripted from district No. 1 with a large street parade last night.

More than a thousand persons participated in the demonstration, which was about five squares long. The conscripted men were cheered and applauded by the thousands of spectators who lined the curbs all along the route of the parade.

After parading over the principal streets of the borough, which consumed more than an hour, the parade was dismissed at the Lawn playgrounds in Front street, where the Rev. G. N. Lauffer, pastor of the St. John's Lutheran Church, gave the conscripts farewell in behalf of the borough.

The Rev. Lauffer Talks

The Rev. Mr. Lauffer held the crowd of more than 4,000 for fifteen minutes with an inspiring patriotic speech. In his talk he emphasized the fact that these boys were selected to help win the struggle of democracy with autocracy. He told of the part the boys would take in advancing democracy and maintaining our freedom, justice and equity. He said the conscripted men were going out to answer a call of a world.

The farewell scene at the playgrounds was opened whti a short concert by the Steelton Band and after the Rev. Mr. Lauffer talked the band played the "Star-Spangled Banner." Fifty members of the Red Cross chapter, in uniform, were seated on the platform in a circle.

Six Bands in Line

The parade was featured by the patriotic appearance of the participants. Every person carried an American flag and the six bands furnishing music played mostly patriotic selections.

The procession formed on Second street between Pine and Adams streets and moved at 8.30 o'clock. An hour later the parade was dismissed at the Lawn playgrounds to hear the farewell address.

The procession was headed by the Bethlehem Steel Company police force. Chief Marshal Kane and the aids were next in line. Following the Steelton Band was the G. A. R. war veterans in automobiles and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The conscripted men, next in line, carrying American flags, made a fine appearance and won the applause of every man, woman and child.

A feature of the first division was the splendid appearance of fifty members of the Red Cross Society and about a hundred Boy Scouts.

The Municipal Band, which followed the new national army men, was followed by fifty men from Doutrich & Co., Harrisburg; Municipal League, Steelton Business Men's Association, Steelton Club, Imperial Band, secret societies, organizations and high school boys.

The next division was made up of fire companies of the town headed by fire company officers. In this division was the Highspire Band, Bulgarian Balkan Band and the First Cornet Band.

Thousands of people from out of town, mostly from the lower end of district No. 1, witnessed the demonstration.

Cockill Takes Charge of Football Squad

George Cockill, Steelton High's new football coach, took charge of the squad of candidates yesterday afternoon. This was the first official practice of the team, although candidates were out last week. Mr. Cockill takes the place of Former Coach Taggart, who was unable to take charge of the squad on account of his important position with the steel company. Mr. Taggart was connected in athletics with the school for a long time. Mr. Cockill, with his former experience in sports, will build up the local team considerably, team supporters believe.

Will Organize Boys' Reserve in Borough

High school boys have been given a chance to join the Pennsylvania Division of the Boys' Working Reserve. Professor C. S. Davis, principal of the high school, distributed booklets of information and cards which those who wish to join will sign and return to the principal. The move is being backed by the local plant of the Bethlehem Steel Company.

Police Department Has No Trouble With Crowds

Police officials stated this morning that the large crowd at last night's demonstration was not difficult to handle. There was no disorder in any part of the town during the evening and no reports of any disturbance were made to the department.

PRAYER MEETINGS TO BE HELD TO-MORROW

Praper meetings in connection with the Goff evangelistic campaign in the First Methodist church will be held to-morrow morning at the following homes: Mrs. Earnest, 339 Popuar street; Mrs. Kenny, 157 South Fourth street; Mrs. Roof, 197 Lincoln street; Mrs. Spink, Main and Conestoga streets; Mrs. Detweiler, 161 South Front street. Evangelist Goff preached on "The Mountain of Prayer" last night. Mrs. Heefner will sing to-night. A special sermon will be preached to the young folks to-morrow night.

HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS ELECT OFFICERS FOR YEAR

The Senior class of the Steelton High school at a recent meeting elected officers for the year as follows: President, Chester Loy; vice-president, Paul Wueschinski; secretary, Miss Elizabeth Rutherford; treasurer, George Poor. Miss Elizabeth Couffer was appointed to have charge of arrangements for the Senior class fair to be held October 5. No plans for this affair have been made yet.

Penbrook Ready For Tonight's Demonstration to Honor Drafted Men

The Penbrook citizens will turn out to-night to do honor to the boys who have gone and will leave for the military camps. All the school children, about six hundred, will march and the various civic, fraternal organizations and the Red Cross chapter, and all citizens that wish to are requested to form in line promptly at 7:30 this evening at the schoolhouse. Every child is requested to bring a flag and the people along the line of march are asked to place lights in the front windows and decorate their homes for the occasion.

Led by Marshal M. L. Ludwick and the Municipal Band, the parade will march from the school building to Main street, to Penn, to Twenty-ninth, to Main, to Progress and countermarch to Penbrook Square and the west end of the borough and back to the town hall. Here patriotic addresses will be delivered by I. B. Swartz, the Rev. J. C. Forncrook and the Rev. Thomas Garlin.

About fifty or sixty boys from Penbrook and vicinity have gone or are to go. These names will be inscribed on a decorated float built on a motor truck.

Thugs Kill Prominent Man in City Street

By Associated Press

Bethlehem, Pa., Sept. 19.—Accosted by three strangers while he was returning from a club, Edward J. Krause, aged 63 years, a prominent citizen here, was fatally shot last night by one of the men, one bullet entering the abdomen, another his left hand and a third going wild. Robbery was believed to have been the motive. Death ensued an hour later.

CONCERT POSTPONED

The Municipal Band concert, scheduled for to-night at the Elks, has been postponed until Friday night. The change in the program is due to the postponement of the Penbrook celebration for drafted men, which takes place to-night. The Municipal Band is in demand and could not play to-night. The program for Friday night at the Elks will be one of the best ever offered. The concert starts at 8 o'clock and will be followed with a luncheon.

MIDDLETOWN

Last Meeting of Church Anniversary

The anniversary services of the St. Peter's Lutheran church held last evening were largely attended. The Rev. Fuller Bergstresser presided, and the payment of fifty years' rent was made to Mrs. Annie Fisher Hutchinson, great-granddaughter of George Fisher, founder of Middletown, which was fifty grains of wheat. Greeting from the Harrisburg Ministerial Association was given by the Rev. J. Bradley Markwood, D. D. This evening services will conclude the four days' anniversary services and will be as follows: Quadricentennial celebration, John Croll presiding. Addresses by the Rev. J. W. Finkbiner, D. D., and the Rev. L. E. Manges and the anniversary service was one of the most interesting services held by the church in town.

At the meeting of the committee for the opening of a reading and rest room in the M. E. church last evening it was arranged to put out a billboard in front of the church and also place stationary and reading material in the Sunday school room. Further plans will be completed at a meeting to be held Sunday morning after the close of the Sunday school.

Funeral services for Horace Strayer, who died very suddenly at his home in Lower Swatara township Monday evening will be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock and 11 o'clock at the Ebenezer church. He is survived by three sons, Clarence and Allen Strayer, at home, and Horace Strayer, Jr., residing in the Strayer homestead. Burial will be made in the cemetery adjoining the church.

BUSINESS PLANS HOW IT MAY AID NATION AT WAR

Nation's Industrial Leaders Take Up Big Problems

By Associated Press

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 19.—How American businessmen can help promote the development of transportation on land and sea as a primary factor in winning the war and the functions of commercial organizations in war were the chief topics of discussion at to-day's sessions of the war convention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Under these two general heads the discussion covered a wide field, the speakers including many of the nation's leaders in business and industry. In addition, several group meetings were held during the day for the special consideration of fuel conservation, better use of freight cars and terminal facilities, utilization of motor trucks and trolleys, co-operation on the food problem, economies in the use of materials, power and delivery service, saving on storage space, organization of Government buying, readjustment toward conditions present anticipated, and how manufacturers and trade organizations may organize better to serve the Government and develop their output.

The speakers included Judge Robert S. Lovett, of the war emergency board; Raymond B. Stevens, United States Shipping Board; A. C. Bedford, president of the Standard Oil Company; Harry A. Wheeler, Chicago; Walter Parker, of the Department of Commerce; Edward A. Filene, of Boston; Walter S. Gifford, director of the Council of National Defense, and James A. McKibban, president of the National Association of Commercial Organization Secretaries. At the night session Lord Northcliffe, chairman of the British War Mission, and Herbert C. Hoover were on the program for addresses.

Use of Waterways

The increased use of inland waterways and coastwise transportation as a means of relieving the war strain on the railroads and as an economic necessity after the war was urged by Mr. Parker in his address at the morning session. "Business America," he said, "must augment its transportation system and reduce that system to a dependable, convenient and economic basis if domestic markets are to be kept in order and if the gate to foreign markets during the period of keen competition after the war is to be kept open.

"This means that the inland navigable waterways of the United States must be used as an adjunct to the railroads, and in co-ordination with the railroads, and that a system of transportation must be developed under which transportation lines of least natural resistance and cost of operation, in relation to the service required, will function without friction and without unnecessary restraint. Otherwise railroad and terminal congestion, which has long been serious, will become more acute and the trade-encouraging effect of reliable and economic transportation may be denied the commerce generators of this country during a long time to come."

Hits at Traitors

Charles Edward Russell last night said:

"There can be no peace at all until the German principle of autocracy shall have been overthrown by the principle of democracy. Those who are preaching peace are traitors. The President should treat LaFollette as Lincoln treated Vallandingham, when he cast him into Confederate territory."

This destruction of the peace rumors that are agitating Washington from the lips of Mr. Russell was the heart of a remarkable address, one that swept a cheering throng of five thousand men and women upon their feet at to-night's session of the war convention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Dr. Russell's speech, centering upon the present conditions of Russia, was followed by an equally frank exposition of Russia's needs by Baron Bakhmetieff, the Russian ambassador.

Discuss Plans For Opening of Training School For Sunday School Teachers

An enthusiastic meeting of the Sunday school superintendents and pastors of Allison Hill churches, was held at the Stevens Memorial Methodist Church last evening to plan for the opening of a Bible workers' training school.

All of the representatives present were heartily in favor of the school, which will teach the Bible to teachers who will have charge of the Sunday school classes. Any person who completes the training course will receive a diploma.

The next meeting will be held Monday, October 1, at the Derry Street United Brethren Church. At this meeting there will be experts from New York and Philadelphia, who will address the meeting and tell of work that is being done in those cities. The Allison Hill churches will doubtless accept some of the ideas from these experts and use them in the Harrisburg school.

Austria Has Answer Ready to Pope Peace Proposal

By Associated Press

Amsterday, Sept. 19.—Austria's reply to Pope Benedict's peace proposals, says the Weiner Algemeine Zeitung, will be handed to the papal nuncio at Vienna on Thursday and will be published on Saturday.

The reply will confine itself to a detailed discussion of the Pope's suggestions. The report that it will contain new and astonishing peace proposals the Vienna newspaper adds, is absolutely at variance with the facts.

Folly to Let a Man Drink, Says Druggist Brown, of Cleveland, Who Gives a Home Remedy

A New Treatment Given Without the Consent or Knowledge of the Drinker.

Cleveland, Ohio. — A woman who lets a man drink is foolish, says Druggist Brown, for no man who drinks even a little bit is safe. A woman can break the drink habit in a few weeks for half what a man spends on liquor in the same time, and the drinker need never know she did it. For the sake and safety of both stop the drink habit in its beginning. Let the first whiff of liquor on his breath be your danger signal, but even if he is rum-soaked through and through do not despair; he can be saved and it is your duty to save him. Druggist Brown knows the awful curse of strong drink because he himself has been a victim. A loving sister rescued him from the brink of a drunkard's grave and kept her secret ten years, then she told him how she did it. She saved him from the demon drink, rescued him from his own depraved self by means of a secret remedy, the formula of an old German chemist. To save other families from the curse of drink and to help other victims out of the mire and mire he now makes the formula public. Any druggist can help you if you long to save a loved one. Just ask your druggist for prepared tescum powders and drop a powder twice a day in tea, coffee, milk or any other drink. Liquor soon ceases to taste the same, the craving for it vanishes and, lo, one more drunkard is saved without knowing why he lost the taste for strong drink.

One woman who used this prescription on her husband says: "It is going on the fourth week since he has touched a drop of anything in the form of liquor or used tobacco of any kind. He seems already like a different man. Tescum has gained a wonderful enthusiast in me. I regard it as a Godsend. Just think, I have never seen my husband sober for more than 48 hours in years and now it is going on one month since he had his last drink."

Another one gratefully writes: "I have used tescum powders on my husband and find it one of the greatest cures in this world. He hasn't taken a drink for almost five weeks and says he never will. My home does not seem like the same place and life seems worth living. I hope thousands gain what I have. This has been a good new year for me without drink in my home."

Note: Prepared tescum, referred to above, should not be given except where it is desired to destroy all taste for alcoholic drinks. Women who approve of moderate drinking and believe moderate drinkers safe should give tescum only when they see, as most do in time, that the danger line is plainly near. You take no risk with Tescum as it is sold in this city under a steelbound money-refund guarantee by J. Nelson Clark and other first class druggists. They guarantee it to do the work or refund the money.—Advertisement.
