

WEST FAIRVIEW SHOTS MAKE STRONG BID FOR FOUR CITY LEAGUE HONORS

READING FAIR RACES THRILL

Opening Day Program Pleases Large Crowd; Fast Time Recorded

Reading, Pa., Sept. 19.—Three light harness races of the split-heat variety, requiring fourteen warmly-contested heats, furnished an excellent opening-day race program here at the Greater Reading Fair to-day. A record crowd of more than 25,000 spectators, who packed the grandstand, overflowed the paddock and lined the outer rail of the track, were treated to some sensational whipping finishes, which marked the various heats.

The 2:23 pace, the Reading Fair introductory, went five heats to decide the winner. The Philadelphia entry, Walter B., won the opening heat after a great burst of speed down the stretch, with the Pottstown gelding, Buster M., taking the third heat. The latter won the next two heats and the race. Walter B. and Carrell furnished the thrills by giving Buster M. a battle for the honors, forcing the Saylor horse to reduce his mark four seconds.

De Ora a Surprise

The 2:27 trot, with five starters, looked like an easy thing for Baron Cedar, owned by Dr. Balliett, of Allentown, who romped away with the first two heats. In the third heat the Philadelphia mare De Ora went into the lead at the word and won the next three heats and the race, taking a record of 2:21 1/2. The Allentown entry behaved badly in the fourth heat and despite Driver Opydke's urging, was shut out.

Sam Hurst, the bay gelding recently purchased by J. Albert Preston, of Wernersville, from James C. Packard, the Sunbury horseman, won the 2:17 pace, driven by Albert W. Kline, of Reading, after dropping the initial heat and despite Driver Opydke's urging, was shut out.

Pitcher Scott Gives Up Baseball For War

Jim Scott, long one of the best pitchers of the Chicago White Sox, who has just about won the pennant of the American League, and will soon be in the throes of the world championship series with the New York Giants, has quit baseball to go to France.

Jim Scott, long one of the best pitchers of the Chicago White Sox, who has just about won the pennant of the American League, and will soon be in the throes of the world championship series with the New York Giants, has quit baseball to go to France. The other day he entered the reserve officers' training camp at the Presidio, San Francisco. He will not have time to pitch in the world series.

Franklin J. Baker Will Quit Unless Recalled

New York, Sept. 19.—Franklin J. Baker, suspended New York American third baseman, said last night he had been unjustly treated by the New York Americans and that his baseball future is entirely in the hands of President Ruppert of that club. If Ruppert does not revoke the suspension within the next few days, Baker said, he would retire from baseball for good.

"I did not break an agreement with the New York Americans in refusing to play in an exhibition game in Washington last Sunday," said Baker. "On the other hand, the club broke an agreement with me. When I consented to play with the Yankees in the winter of 1916 I exacted a promise from President Ruppert that I need not play in exhibition games, and to this Ruppert consented.

"It is immaterial to me whether I ever play in another big league game, and what I do is entirely up to the club. There is only one reason why I might be loath to quit the game and that is I always have prided myself on being an orderly player, who never had any trouble, on or off the field. In fact, this is the first time in my career that I have had any trouble whatever, and it was not of my making."

Lehigh Has Big Squad; Has Long Signal Drill

Bethlehem, Pa., Sept. 19.—On the evening of the opening of college, there was a big increase in the squad at Lehigh to-day, there being all told thirty-three men out in togs. From this number following the usual rudimentary work, Coach Keady selected two squads for signal work.

There was a constant interchange of men until all the candidates had a chance. Vogley, a guard, from Butler High; Walmsley, an end, from St. Luke's, Philadelphia; Spagna, from Brown; Bergell, an end, from York High; Marx, a guard, from Fall River Tech.; and Dietrich, a backfield man, from Lehigh High, were added to the list of new men to-day. W. McCarthy, the star end of last year, returned to-day, but was not in togs.

There is a possibility that W. Maginnis will also be back. He would fill a big hole in the backfield. Under Coach Keady's watchful eye, the quality of the men is unfolding nicely and before long the first wedding-out process will be undertaken. Light work will continue the rest of the week.

READING HIGH ELECTS CAPTAIN

Carl Nuebling to Lead Eleven This Season; Financial Report

Reading, Pa., Sept. 19.—At the annual meeting of the Reading High School Athletic Association, Carl Nuebling was elected captain of the football team for the season. The list of last season's regulars who is still in school.

The only veterans on hand are Nuebling, Leinbach, Muhlberg and Abrams, although Julien and Johnston, who are reporting daily, were second string men last year. Muhlberg and Leinbach are quarterbacks and Abrams, Julian and Johnston back field men. There are in the neighborhood of forty candidates reporting every day at George Field and Coach Walker thinks there is enough good material in the squad to develop a fairly good team before the season opens.

Basketball Pays

George M. Beggs, treasurer, showed that basketball had been the most popular sport during the past year, clearing $585, despite $400 paid for the use of the Army cage. Football showed a profit of $165, while baseball and tennis and tennis showed a deficit. This was the first year Reading High's track team lost money and it was due to the association changing the date of Reading High's annual interscholastic meet from Memorial Day to a later date, owing to patriotic reasons.

The annual election of officers resulted in Harry C. Henry being re-elected president for the tenth term, with Samuel D. Green, vice-president; Harry J. Kaufmann, secretary, and George M. Beggs, treasurer. The new board of directors consists of Edward J. Dives, chairman, George M. Jones, William M. Diener, Stanley R. Kaufman, Samuel D. Green, Dr. Robert S. Birch, George M. Beggs, graduates, and Clark Nuebling. "A. Arns, Leinbach, '19, and Charles H. Muhlberg, Jr., '20, of the student body.

George Johnson Will Again Coach Bucknell

Philadelphia, Sept. 19.—According to announcement yesterday, George Johnson, of this city, has been engaged to coach the Bucknell College football team for the 1917 season. Johnson will take charge of a big squad at Lewisburg this afternoon.

Johnson's first year at Bucknell was last season, and although up against one of the stiffest schedules ever arranged by a small college, made a good showing, and President Helm, of Bucknell, came to Philadelphia early this week to sign the veteran gridiron teacher.

Before going to Bucknell, Johnson had great success as coach of the Northeast High School eleven, turning out several good teams and also many star players. Howard Berry, of Penn., is a product of Johnson's, as well as several other youths who have made good in college.

CAST IRON FIVE READY

The Cast Iron Five is out for games. Manager Dickey Fields wishes to arrange contests with all East teams in this vicinity. Out-of-town games are preferred. Call Bell telephone 879-R after 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

FOURTH CITY LEAGUE WILL HOLD FOURTH BIG SHOOT; WEST FAIRVIEW PROMINENT

Mercurous long runs and high scores in which West Fairview shooters have been prominent.

The fourth tournament of the Pennsylvania Four-City Trapshooters' League will be held at West Fairview Friday afternoon. Shooting will start at 1 o'clock.

Harrisburg and West Fairview are strong rivals for final honors. Harrisburg has won two matches, and West Fairview one. These two teams are tie on the total number of targets. If West Fairview wins the match on Friday another contest will be necessary. Should the two teams tie up in this shoot a fifth match will be necessary.

Both teams have been practicing every week for these contests. In the previous events there have been numerous long runs and high scores in which West Fairview shooters have been prominent.

Great Fairview Record

The cross-river marksmen have made records which have not been equalled. Five of West Fairview's high scores are shown in the picture above. They are, reading from left to right, Oliver Eshenour, average of 98 in all matches; M. B. Stewart, averages 95; Irwin Bretz, averages 94; D. H. Wagner, averages 93; W. A. Miller, averages 97.

Bretz, of West Fairview, is running neck to neck with J. G. Martin of Harrisburg. Bretz has a record of 99 out of 100 in the league contests.

The Sportlight by Grantland Rice

Copyright, 1917, The Tribune Association (New York Tribune).

There are certain men of destiny in baseball, as well as in other zigzag walks of life.

There are not necessarily mean leading stars, such as Mathewson, Wagner, Cobb, Lajoie and Speaker.

Frank Baker was one of the men of baseball destiny. So was Rube Marquard, to a marked degree. Rube had the knack of flopping from one spotlight to another.

Wherever he lit, there the great white flame burned upon him. He first nipped his nineteen straight. Then he picked up a twenty-one inning affair, the league record for long games, until several years later, when he concluded a twenty-two inning affair on the victor's side.

Another man of baseball destiny is Benny Kauff. Benny led the Fed. circuit twice and for a spell drew even more publicity than Ty Cobb. And then, around a year ago to-day, Benny sagged. He had failed to bat 300 or anywhere near the mark. Apparently, he was on the verge of dropping out. Now, a year later, he is not only back among the league leaders making gestures towards the top, but is on the verge of dashing into what promises to be the most spectacular world's series of recent years. And Benny, with the Deatman attachment, is quite likely to be a leading feature. He may win it on a play or he may lose it on a play, but he isn't very liable to be neutral in the matter.

THE GIANT AVERAGE

John J. McGraw needs this world series badly—needs to win it badly—or needs badly to win it—by way of obtaining a fairly respectable average.

To date, he has indulged in four of these October championships, with only one triumph against the odds. His last triumph came when Matty sat in with three shut-outs. But his last three starts, against the Athletics and the Red Sox, have been replete with woe and trouble. If he drops his next October season his championship percentage will be .200. Collecting the losses and is sadder than cooling at all, but over twelve years between victories leaves a depressing stretch.

SO WHY BOTHER?

If Colonel T. Raymond Cobb can become involved in the morose processes of a slump, why should the average citizen become depressed when affairs at times fail to break gently?

If Cobb can light upon an extended slump, that makes slumping an inevitable adjunct.

A few weeks ago Ty was up above 390 in his drive for 400. He was over forty points beyond his closest rival. Last week he developed the same sort of slump which struck him two years ago in September, when he went to bat twenty-four times without a hit.

In place of a commanding lead, Cobb started the present week only thirteen points above Speaker, who has been making a game, desperate attempt to repeat his 1916 triumph over Ty. In addition to this close call from Speaker, Cobb's dream of a 400 year was torn to shreds. There is nothing tougher in any game than to have a slump suddenly drop to pieces—to figure an easy canter to victory, and then in a flash find the situation changed to a neck-and-neck affair. And Speaker gave fair proof last year that he was no light opponent to toy with or take too lightly.

Dear Sir: I understand from the figures that the White Sox have won two-thirds of their starts against left-handed pitchers. This may be important—and then, again, it may not—depending upon the comparative pitching strength of the National and American Leagues. It is my contention that the National League lefthanders are stronger. Am I right? F. L. The American League carries Ruth, Leonard, Harper, Russell, Williams, Kool, Mogridge, Cooney and a few others. The National League has a longer array of lefthanders in Schupp, Benton, Sallee, Rixey, Marquard, Vaughn, Cooper, Nehf, Tyler, etc. All in all, National League lefthanders are stronger. But the White Sox beat Ruth and Leonard four out of seven games, and these two have no superiors on the portside map.

BACK HOME FOR JOE

Unless Eddie Collins can bat above .450 for the remainder of the season, he is due for his first year under .300. The handicap now is well beyond reason.

But Joe Jackson has arrived. After struggling below .280 for most of the year, the Greenville slugger moved up to .300 on Sunday, and at the pace he is now traveling, it is almost certain that he will average over .300. Jackson has been batting around .340 for the last month, and the impetus promises to carry him at a fast clip into the big series. Collins made two rallies in attempts to get back among 300 people, but he could never extend any batting streak long enough to catch up.

Collins's lowest mark was 300 in 1915. That was his first drop under .300. Collins has always been well over the mark until the present campaign.

Pittsburgh Fans See First Triple Play

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 19.—The first triple play ever made on Forbes Field, and a clash between Outfielder King, of Pittsburgh, and Catcher Meyers, of Boston, which resulted in both players, as well as Pitcher Jones, of Pittsburgh, being sent from the field, were features of yesterday's double-header, both games of which were won by the visitors by scores of 5 to 3 and 1 to 0.

In the second-inning of the second game, with the bases full and none out, Meyers hit to Boeckel, who threw to Schmidt, the latter relaying the ball to first in time to eliminate Meyers, and when Kelley continued from second to the home plate, Mollins threw to Schmidt for the third out. Pitcher Ponder, formerly of the Birmingham club of the Southern Association, pitched good ball in the second game, his first since joining the Pittsburgh team.

SCANDAL MIXES IN BIG RACES

Three Favorites Fail to Meet Bookmakers' Dope; Winners

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 19.—Upsetting of three favorites, a little hint at a scandal in the 2:07 pace finally won by Peter G., and the impressive work of The Real Lady in the 3-year-old Horse Race Trotting Futurity, were the big features of the second day's racing at the Columbus Grand Circuit track.

It was an afternoon in which some records were broken. The Real Lady, making her first start of the season, illness having kept her off the tracks, was on edge and trotted the fastest two-heat race ever trotted by a 3-year-old, and besides took a new world's record for a 3-year-old trotting filly when she went the second mile in 2:04 1/2. Volga held the former record of 2:04 1/2.

Early Dreams in the Hooper-Columbus Stake for 2:14 Trotters, Took the Big End of the $10,000 Race, Twice Surpassing Former Records for the Event.

His miles in 2:04 1/2, lowered the stake mark of 2:05 1/2 held by Sanoma Girl since 1907.

In the 2:07 pace, after the second heat, Driver Mann was removed from Barlight and Driver Foster from behind Colleen, Fleming and Jamison, respectively, replacing them. The change appeared justified in part when Barlight won the next two heats. In the final mile, however, he was unable to save off Peter G., winner of the first two heats, and the race went to the Snow pack.

The Savoy captured the deciding heats of the unfinished King stake. This pace covered the last half of the race-winning mile in 53 1/2 seconds. The crowd was a big one.

"Jack and the Beanstalk" has won over the crowd, there is no reason to speak of its special appeal to children. However, it has a special appeal to the grown-ups. "Jack and the Beanstalk" has been called "the children's drama, the grown-ups' comedy."

WELLY'S CORNER

The first season in the Philadelphia and Reading Railway League will close Saturday. Very few postponed games remain to be played.

Port Richmond is a runaway winner, having lost but one game and won fourteen. Yesterday the champions played off a game with Reading Locomotive Shops, score 7 to 0.

The decision of J. Franklin Baker to quit the game unless reinstated is causing some gossip. If his contract calls for exemption from playing exhibition games he had a right to remain away from his team. Baker does not have to play baseball. He has a goodly income and is able to meet his high living costs even without work.

"Shorty" Miller will not be able to leave his duties at the Bethlehem director at Tech to secure a coach who will be able to remain with the team for some time.

Changing coaches is not the best thing for football teams at any institution. It is to be regretted that "Shorty" Miller cannot take up his duties with Tech. However, among those under consideration there is one young man who has the right idea and he has a record back of him to prove it. If his business will permit Tech will have a good man.

There was general rejoicing yesterday at Penn when J. Howard Berry reported for work. He was a star last year, and one of the greatest fullback in the history of the Red and Blue.

On Saturday the championships for the Pennsylvania Railroad System will be decided providing present arrangements are carried out. Trenton appears to be leading in baseball, and will meet the champions of the west, either Pittcairn or Williamsport.

This Star Is Fond of Baseball Souvenirs

Ping Bodie, of the Athletics, is an enthusiastic collector of baseball articles which have helped make history for the national game.

When the Athletics played in Detroit recently the Tigers made a triple play. When First Base man Burns tossed the ball on the diamond after the three-ply killing Umpire Nallin obtained it.

"This should make quite a souvenir for you, Ping," said Nallin, as he handed the ball to the big Italian.

"You betcha," said Ping.

Later Nallin told Bodie that the ball was the same one which Ping had driven over the fence for a home run early in the game.

"A boy brought it back and I immediately put in play," said the umpire.

Ping then announced he was going to have the sphere coated with shellac.
