BOARD 7 TO 1 FOR NEW SCHOOL

Awards Contracts For New Open Air Building Despite Opposition

Disregarding the protest by Director A. Carson Stamm who voiced an opinion opposing any extensive building operations by the school district, the school board yesterday by a vote of 7 to 1 awarded contracts to lowest bidders for the erection of the new open air school at Fifth and Seneca streets.

Mr. Stamm took the same stand yesterday as at the meeting when bids for the Harris annex were opened. He stated it was not right at this time to go on with building work competing with the government.

Directors Keen and Bretz were the only two to speak of the urgent need of the new school, both pointing to the conditions existing at the Lochiel school. Director Stamm, when speaking to the board presented a statement prepared by E. N. Lebo, a well-known contractor of the city, who estimates the cost of the new school building in shape would be about $2,500.

The general building contract for the new school was awarded to Strayer and Eshelman at a bid of $29,617. J. Frank Saussanman bid $36,389.85. The heating equipment will be installed by John G. Schaum at a bid of $3,678, as compared with the bid of Herre Brothers, $3,933.30. Herre Brothers were given the plumbing contract at a bid of $2,818 and E. Blumenstein was awarded the electrical contract at his bid of $273. The total cost will be $36,886.

The previous estimate of C. Howard Lloyd, architect, was $35,000. The board ordered the payment of $43,622 to M. N. Bair, the balance due for the preparation of plans and specifications for the Harris annex. The bill of M. I. Kast, architect, for the remodeling of the Camp Curtin school, was referred to the finance committee. Prior to the meeting of the board the finance committee voted against selling half of the tract at Third and Harris streets, for $18,000.

POLICE BELIEVE THEY HAVE GAINED

Two Boys Are Arrested on Charges of Petty Depredations

With the arrest yesterday of George Beck, aged 16 years, a Howard Beck, 12 years of age, police of Harrisburg believe they have secured part of a gang of juveniles who have been committing petty depredations in this city some time.

Clark's drug store, at 806 Bro street, has been systematically robbed during the past months. Very little value has been taken, apparently usually a box of chewing gum, a few boxes of candy, or some attractively-wrapped soap. On Wednesday morning the door of the drug store was found open by the police. That Beck was in the store before 6 o'clock that morning, and when questioned, said that he had found the door open when on his way to work but that he had not taken anything.

Beck has confessed that he stole air rifles from a Market street apartment store, shortly before Christmas, last year, and told how other boys had succeeded in getting away with stolen articles.

The boys gather at Sayford, James streets and it is claimed, have been gathering there from all sections of the city.

One of the boys is authority on the statement that he could pick a lock of the Clark store with a shutoff button, but the police believe they have to the store has been secured in some manner, but the boys have never entered the store except way of the front door.

The boys will have a hearing late this afternoon. In the meantime, officers will endeavor to root up other members of the gang in effort to stop petty thieving.
