THE TRUTH ABOUT GERMANY

Adjoining Neutrals "Bled" Germany in the Matter of Food Supplies — Now Frightened by U. S. Food Embargo

Not only Germany is suffering from the high price of food, but the other countries contingent as well. By the way, these other countries—Holland, Denmark and Norway—now are bitterly regretting their "generosity" in selling food to Germany.

tribute and getting nothing in return. 500 Per Cent. Profit There are stories flying thickly through the countries of fortunes amassed by men who "got in first" on the smuggling across to Germany of foodstuffs.

There is no question but what Germany was "bled" beautifully by the neutral countries in the matter of food supplies. I have heard of hams selling for $40 and $50 over the line, and other foods in proportion.

In Holland food is high priced, although not so high as in Germany. The food in Holland, of course, is of the best quality and there is a large variety, but Holland, too, is beginning to feel the pinch of the embargo.

The one spot where you cannot fight us, I replied, and then I showed my maps commanding position. "When he retired I sent word to Dewey to be ready to sail on an hour's notice. About a week later the Ambassador called on me and admitted that he had not dared send the message."

When I left Germany I had $500 in American money. This, of course, I had to be exchanged into German money before I could leave.

"Yes, but it will be more awful for your country," I replied. Inside of thirty-six hours he came back smiling and said he had received instructions from the German Government that they would arbitrate.

From what I could see, I don't think there is a country in the world so solid financially in Europe as the United States. Fabulous reports of our wealth are current there. The old, old stories told of emigrants "picking up money" in the streets of the New World almost have been revived.

But next year the results will be better, for the Germans have learned by their mistakes of this year.

Dread This Winter The children who have been on the farms these last few summers are learning fast. The women are learning, and so far as growing things are concerned, Germany will be in better shape next summer than she is this year.

I feel afraid for the Americans in Berlin. I think there are about 200 there now. It may be, before winter there are none. The practice will be possible for them to buy anything.

I thought my bread in one store, my butter in another, my green goods, my meat—all in certain stores.

I could not take my bread card and go to another store and buy. Every store was given each week enough supplies for the cards which, it was known, would be presented at that time.

People stood in line for hours to be able to buy their portion so long. I could not take my bread card and go to my store and buy my bread.

Speaking of medicine reminds me that in Berlin, to help counteract the starvation of the body through having no fats or oils in the body, many persons are drinking cod liver oil regularly.

I took it for several months and sometimes when I had not been for that I would not have pulled through.

Since I have come back I have seen a number of newspaper notices that Germany claims her crops this year are plentiful. This is not true.

Next Quota Not to Leave Until Oct. 6 (Continued from First Page.)

first contingent, and now that an adverse ruling has been received the matter of getting the required number of men ready to leave on Saturday has turned out to be a hard task.

The district appeal board at the Capitol has been acting with great rapidity on the claims that have been submitted to them.

As the matter now stands, it is up to the district board. Nearly a hundred names were certified back to the Steelton exemption board this week.

As ten is the number that must go with the second quota from this district, it was thought that the board would not have to send any. However, this board received a list of names last evening that were certified back by the district board and as a result are in a position to meet the demand.

The exemption board of district No. 3 at Elizabethville is the only board in Dauphin county which at present feels sure of sending away the required number of men.

As far as could be learned, no ruling has been made regarding the disposition of the colored men. They have been sent notices to hold themselves in readiness, but just when they will be sent and where, is not known at present.

Acting On Appeals The district board was in session to-day at the Capitol. Every effort is being made by the board to certify enough men to warrant the full quota of all the districts for next Saturday.

The Paxtang board to-day called fifty men for examination. Of this number ninety were discharged as unfit, eighteen passed and filed claims, and six passed and did not file claims.

The Steelton board is endeavoring to find sufficient men to send away next Saturday. The board has been sending out the pink and green cards to the available white men and these men will report Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock.

This district and the board is examining them as fast as they are brought in. The Elizabethville board made no examination yesterday or to-day. This board is preparing its quota and awaiting the certification of names back from the district board.

Telegrams giving notice of $50 reward for all deserters under the draft law were sent by state headquarters to all local draft boards to-day. The telegram states that "a reward of $50 is payable for each soldier who falls to report to his local board for military service at the time specified in his order to report as a deserter."

Notice was also given to inquirers that men forwarded on the last shipment in excess of the quota will not be credited on the next shipment. The next shipment must contain the quota specified. Where excess men are offered, it is a transportation problem.

Chief Clerk George D. Thorn, of the State Department, to-day arranged to send 20,000 blanks to mobilization and guard camps for soldiers who may want to sign to give authority to someone to pay taxes at their homes. Mrs. McCabe was aged 52. She was taken to the hospital August 27.

To the Merchants of Harrisburg Because it believes in the result-producing power of its advertising columns— Because, with its circulation reaching 75 per cent. of the homes in this community, it believes it will reach YOU— Because, in a nutshell, it has faith in the article it wants to sell you— The Harrisburg Telegraph will employ its own advertising columns from time to time to address messages of advertising importance to you. Read them. B. M. Ogelsby, Advertising Manager.

No Waste--- No Doubling Up--- No Lost Motion--- in the Circulation of the HARRISBURG TELEGRAPH The Harrisburg Telegraph sells for two cents a copy. It isn't likely, is it, that anyone will buy two copies of the same issue at a cost of four cents per day? That means that every copy of the Harrisburg Telegraph reaches a different home. All waste — all doubling up — all lost motion is eliminated. The Harrisburg Telegraph offers in its circulation, volume that means more than papers printed — it means volume of homes — And it's individual homes the advertiser wants. In 75 per cent. of the homes in Central Pennsylvania the Harrisburg Telegraph is wanted more than any other paper — that's certain — else why would people be willing to pay more to get it? And when you reach 75 per cent. of the homes with a newspaper that costs more than other papers in its community, you get pretty close to 100 per cent. of the MONEY-SPENDING HOMES. Harrisburg Telegraph circulation is pure gold — no dross — no alloy — and it costs less.

Ice More and more people are using ice every day in the year. They found it economical to do so when food products were low in price. It is now doubly to their advantage since ice prevents waste and preserves the food until every bit is consumed. Food should not be placed out of doors. Germs, dust and dirt are always flying about and are apt to settle on the food. The cellar is a hiding place for millions of germs but no place for your edibles. Besides the running down and up stairs is what wears out women. There is only one way to keep milk, meats, fruits and vegetables properly, that is at a temperature of 40 degrees in a well-iced refrigerator.
