BRING SMILES TO SOLDIERS WITH

One Quarter Keeps Fighting Man Going For Whole Week

"Tis easy enough to be pleasant When life flows on like a song.
But the one worth while is the one who will smile

But how can a soldier smile in the renches, in the training or mobilization camp smile when everything tion camp smile when everything goes dead wrong? How can he when the day's work is done on the firing line or when he returns from a long weary march, or after a stiff setting up drill, look on the cheerful side of life? How can he enjoy these leisure moments, that are the only ones in his busy life? There is only one solution. Let him smoke, Send him smokes.

intion. Let him smoke. Send him smokes.

This is the only way that the American soldier can forget the trial and troubles that he is facing; send him some good old United States cigarets, cigars and tobacco. Give him the chance to set back on his camp chair and by the wonderful means of a good smoke, lazily dream of those at home, of mother, sister, wife, and all who are near and dear to him. The people at home do not fully realize what it means for the average boy to be without his "makin's." When in the city it is easy to drop into the cigar store and satisfy your wants. Out in the wilderness where there is nothing but marching, drilling, fighting and bleakness, it is another thing.

He Needs Them

The Telegraph urges all of its readers to rally to the call and buy him smokes. Dont wait. Subscribe to the Telegraph Tobacco Fund, and your subscription will be appreciated by the young man who is cut there doing his bit for his country and his home. A quarter will bring a personal reply from him.

He wants smokes, he needs them. It is up to his friends to get them

A little boy about four years of age came into the Telegraph Thursage came into the Telegraph Thursday and crawled up on the desk and called for the smoke man. When the smoke man came, he very proudly handed over twenty penies and three dimes. He had been saving the pennies for some time and helwatched carefully what the smoke man did with his money. His contribution was acknowledged yesterday and his money will go with the other moneys in smokes to the soldiers. At the end of each week the amount collected by the smoke man is sent to headquarters in New York City and from there tobacco sent direct to the Previously acknowledged. $196.30 Previously acknowledged P. expert.

A matter that may come up for consideration, and one which is attracting considerable attention at this time, is the establishment of a rural vocational training school somewhere within the borders of Dauphin county. County Superintendent Shambaugh is said to favor the movement.

tendent Shambaugh is said to favor the movement.

Vocational schools, in which subjects pertaining to farming and, farm management are taught in addition to the regular high school branches, have proven a decided success in several sections of the country. The establishment of such a school in this county would undoubtedly mean much to the future farmers in this region.
