burg National Bank, is the recipient of a letter from George A. Roberts, of this city, now a corporal in the Eighth Pennsylvania Infantry Band, stationed at Camp Hancock.
Corporal Roberts tells of the life at the camp and speaks very highly of the work that the Y. M. C. A. is doing. He is much pleased with the treatment that he has received at camp. He, believes that after the Eighth Regiment is disorganized it will remobilize at Camp Meade to go to France. His letter is as follows: Army and Navy, Y. M. C. A., "With the Colors," Wednesday, Sept. 26, 1917.
Mr. Palmer.

Dear Friend:—
I thought I would include you in

Mr. Palmer.

Dear Friend:—

I thought I would include you in my correspondence this evening. As you may suppose, I am writing this letter at the local Y. M. C. A. building in camp. This organization deserves much credit for the work they do here for the soldiers. In the first place they furnish us with stationery and writing material free. Nearly every evening the boys who are musically inclined bring their instruments and gather around the piano and play.

Also, a phonograph with the properties of the Knights of Columbus has raised $3,000,000, which is being devoted to the social, recreational and religious welfare of soldiers, sailors well as all other Eighth Regiment band also gave a concert. A few minutes after there was a "fire call" blown by a bugler and this was taken up by every other bugler in the camp. We immediately lined up and started out on the double quick for the fire, which proved to be a small farmhouse outside the camp. The boys worked on it, but it had too much of a start before we could get the line of hose stretched that far. The camp is piped with fire pluss, water for which comes from Augusta.

The electriclans are finishing the wiring of the camp. We will have street lights and a buil in every tent. Each company has their individual mess hall, kitchen, shower baths and latrine.

The ladies of Augusta show their interest in the boys, and show it by coming to the camp every Thursday afternoon to do what sewing they can for the men.

So far, Mr. Palmer, "yours truly" has been his own washwoman and seamstress.

Kindly remember me to Mrs. Palmer are and also my friends in the Sun when you meet your friend, tell them of some new way to get rid of the pests.

No Building; No Reapirs
When they become too bad, I would go into the bathroom, fill the tub with water, take off my clothes and shake them well over the water. Then I would run that water out, run some more in and take a bath. I would be free of the pests then, until, from some public conveyance or some one's home, I would get a fresh supply.

Or, I would shake them off on the carpet and then sweep them out. They can't hop on the carpet. They stick.

The soldiers suffer terribly from vermin. Even in the best quarters they have not the opportunity to get rid of them that civilians or the German soldiers had.

During the war I saw only one building in course of construction, that was the terminal for a new subway, and women were working at that. There are no artisans in German will take a year after the war is doue. What will have to be done in the districts devastated by the war itself is beyond the imagination.

Respect for Roosevelt.

"Thank God, Roosevelt isn't President of the United States," I heard dozens of times, before we entered the war. They don't seem to know much about our other military men. What they think of Gen, Pershing, of course, I don't know, as they hardly had heard his name when I started home.

But I often have heard Germans say that they would like to capture

But I often have heard Germans say that they would like to capture Mr. Roosevelt and lead him down Unter den Linden. I believe that if, to-day, Mr. Roosevelt were leading troops in France it would have a greater depressing effect on the Germans than anything else we could do. It is a peculiar, almost superstitious feeling they have about "Teddy." If he has "bluffed" them he certainly has made good work of it. Can't Understand Wilson On the other hand the Germans cannot understand President Wilson.

An oxcart was assigned each farmily with a meager supply of food, bedding and clothing. The mother set on the load with her children about her, the father prepared to walk beside the cart. I offered prayer and then the sad procession carrying seventy-two persons from the college and nospital moved away.

These teachers were men of character, education, ability and useful can be fine type of graduates from American or European universities. The company went in safety or about fitty miles. Then the men were among the slain. "One group of our college boys asked permission to sing before they died and they sang Nearec, My God, of Thee, then they were struck down," Lr. White said.

"The stitution of Armenia became of the triviled province of the t

"These things are typical of what took place through the six provinces of the Turkish empire known as Armenia. The Armenians are the Yankees of the East—the merchants, manufacturers, capitalists, artisans and among the best of the farmers. One quarter of a million people succeeded in escaping into Russian Caucasus and among them American representatives have done wonderful work in caring for the sick, giving bread to the hungry, clothing the naked, caring for orphans. Probably a million more went to Syria and Mesopotamia where they have been dependent upon American relict which is helping this worthy people to pull through alive."

The number of Armenians who have been massacred, said Dr. White, is estimated by the American Committee for Armenian and Syrian relief in New York City at from 500, 600 to 1,000,000, while there are a
