

HAIG STRIKES NEW BLOW ON FLANDERS LINE

British Deliver Staggering Blow Near Ypres, Advancing a Mile at Some Points; Hundreds of Prisoners Make Haste to Surrender; Battle Proceeds Successfully For English Army

Paris, Oct. 4.—Another aerial raid over Germany was made last night by French aviators. "In reprisal for the bombardment of Bar-le-Duc our aviators bombarded Frankfurt and Rastatt," it is announced. Rastatt is a town of 14,000 in Baden, fourteen miles southwest of Karlsruhe. This is the second attack on Frankfurt in the last week, since the French inaugurated their policy of reprisal raids.

London, Oct. 4.—Field Marshal Haig has begun a new offensive east of Ypres. The official statement from British headquarters in France issued to-day says that the British attacked at 6 o'clock this morning on a wide front and are making satisfactory progress. A number of prisoners already have been taken.

Smashing Tactics Win Mile of Territory For British in New Battle

British Front in France and Belgium, Oct. 4.—Field Marshal Haig's forces in the offensive begun to the east of Ypres this morning in some places have penetrated the German lines to a depth of one mile and have overrun the crest of the Passchendaele-Gheluvelt ridge.

At an early hour the Germans were surrendering by hundreds. The British already have penetrated well beyond the hamlet of Broeseinde in which lie the crossroads formed by the highways between Zonnebeke and Moorsled and Passchendaele and Beclaire.

Line Threatened Further to the south, Cameron Covert, where there had been much hard fighting was left well in the rear.

To-day's battle was along strongholds which comprised the crucially important system of German defenses along the Passchendaele-Gheluvelt ridge. The northern wing of the on-rushing British troops was battling forward this morning within a short distance of Poelcapelle. It had a footing on the famous Gravenstafel ridge, which juts out from the Passchendaele ridge to the west, and had crushed through the Zonnebeke-Broeseinde ridge, which is an integral part of the Passchendaele-Gheluvelt chain.

Success Follows Opening Drive of Latest Attack on Germans in Flanders

Striking again on a wide front east of Ypres the British this morning began another drive at the German lines in Flanders. Field Marshal Haig, in his early report, announced that satisfactory progress was being made. Already a stream of German prisoners is being sent to the British rear.

The renewal of the Flanders drive comes after an eight-day interval. On Wednesday of last week the British swept forward over ground on both sides of the Ypres-Menin road, advancing from a half mile to a mile at various points along the line.

Some of the heaviest fighting in the war on the western front followed the Germans making assault after assault in desperate attempts to regain the valuable high ground they had lost. Almost every inch of it, however, was held intact by the British, who meanwhile were preparing for the next forward push. The capture of the submarine road, advancing from a half mile to a mile at various points along the line.

To-day's attack followed sharply a last despairing effort of the Germans among the Crow's Prince Ruppert struck at the vital points yesterday at its most vital points—between Tower Hamlets and Pe y and peace propaganda were mowed down by the British guns, the assault making no impression whatever on the British line or affecting the British purpose to attack to-day.

The French fighting front has been comparatively calm, except for increased artillery activity northeast of Verdun. The French air forces have been busy again at reprisal work, however, visiting the Prussian city of Frankfurt on a raid, and also bombarding Rastatt, a city of 14,000 population in Baden.

Hearst Was Friend of Germany's Master Spy

New York, Oct. 4.—The investigation of Attorney General Merton E. Lewis into the activities here of Bolo Pasha, under arrest in France as spy and peace propagandist, disclosed that William Randolph Hearst, the newspaper publisher, attended a dinner given in this city by Bolo Pasha, in 1916, according to the Attorney General. There were present at this dinner, Mr. Lewis told newspapermen, Adolph Pavonetti, who figured as an intermediary for the transfer of German funds into New York banks to be sent to Paris for peace propaganda among French newspapers; Captains Boy-Ed and another, naval and military attaches of the German embassy, and Jules Bois, a French lecturer, who, it was revealed, received money from Bolo Pasha. Some time prior to this dinner, Mr. Lewis said, Mr. Hearst had entertained Bolo at the editor's home. It was explained by the Attorney General that the editor's relations with Bolo were purely social as far as he was aware.

NEW RULING IS APT TO CAUSE TROUBLE HERE

Return of Aliens Makes Much More Work; No. 2 District Has Quota Nearly Filled The new orders received at division headquarters at Camp Meade for the ousting of every unnaturalized alien, may cause a great upheaval in the plans of some of the local boards. The new order is particularly directed against the Austro-Hungarians who represent a large number of the several thousand who are at camp. It means that practically all the Austrians who have been drafted and sent away will be returned to their local boards. At Steelton thirty of the 120 men that have been sent to Camp Meade, are Austrians. The board has not very many extra men available, and with the departure of the several hundred returned, less than fifteen will remain who can be sent to fill the places of the Austrians if they are returned. The Paxtang and Elizabethtown boards are not so seriously affected as there are very few Aus-

CITY INTERESTED IN BALTIMORE'S GARBAGE PLAN

System Which Turns Waste Into Profit Attracts Much Attention With the city about to advertise for bids for the collection and removal of garbage, the announcement that Baltimore has received an offer of 50 cents a ton for all its offal has caused much interest here. Harrisburg during the last ten years has been paying about $35,000 a year under a contract with a private firm for the removal of ashes and garbage. During the last few years the company holding the contract has not made regular collections, causing much complaint. It is planned to advertise for a contract and pay for the removal of garbage, the city handling the collection of ashes under municipal control. The report that Baltimore will be paid instead of paying for the removal of garbage, and will clear about $100,000 in revenue in this way has attracted attention in Harrisburg. The offer to the Maryland city was made by William H. Faust, of Los Angeles, Cal., who said he converted the garbage into chicken feed by a process similar to one now in use, but which reduces odors. He has a plant near the central section of Pasadena, Cal., and the method used destroys all odor, there is nothing offensive about the refuse. Faust, who is a manufacturer city, being almost entirely made up of residences. There are similar plants located in Chicago, Pittsburg, Portland, Ore., San Francisco and other large western cities and to determine the advisability of establishing one in Baltimore, as Mr. Faust proposes to do, the substance which is made in City Water Engineer Lee, of Baltimore, will visit all these cities and make a thorough investigation. If his report is favorable, Mr. Faust's offer will be accepted. Another proposition made some time ago by a Chicagoan to buy garbage from Baltimore has not yet been formally submitted. The offer would also establish a plant, but instead of converting the household refuse into chicken feed, he would turn it into solid fuel, which is a substitute for coal and can be used for heating purposes. Germany has been doing this for twenty-five years. The substance which is made in Baltimore burns well, and while not so effective as coal in producing heat, answers the purpose and being very cheap is used by the poorer classes. It is termed bricket. Unlike, however, as in the manufacture of chicken feed it is not altogether odorless. Baltimore officials look with favor on Mr. Faust's proposition. If accepted the city will be richer by $170,000, which means four cents off the tax rate. The city has a contract with the Southern Products Company which will expire at the end of this year. The contract has been renewed, however, for another year. This company reduces the garbage to oils and fats. Its plant is at Bodkin Point, to which places the garbage is taken in scows.

Police Here Believe They Have Dynamiter Who Killed Two

The arrest of Alonzo Bushel, an Italian, by a special officer, is believed to be an important one in connection with the Mt. Union explosion September 20, in which an American woman and an Italian were murdered. Bushel was brought to this city last night and placed in the local jail by a special officer of the Pennsylvania railroad who made the arrest. He will be taken to Mt. Union late to-day. Several arrests were made at the time of the accident, but this arrest officers believe will throw much light on the mystery, which, until this time, has not been solved.

60 Negro Women Scratch Suffrage Picketers When Latter Start Fight in Jail

Washington, Oct. 4.—Seventeen silent sentinels of the woman's party doing time in the Occoquan workhouse for picketing the White House are bruised and scratched today as the result of a free-for-all scramble late yesterday when the authorities removed one of their number to the hospital without giving notice of her destination and the other pickets formed a flying wedge to rescue their comrade. During the melee, it is said, some sixty negro women, also prisoners at the workhouse, came to the rescue of the pickets and details of the battle as it was waged, vary. The mixup has resulted in new charges being laid by the pickets against the conduct of the workhouse. One account of the melee is that it verged on a race riot. BUSINESS IS GOOD Washington, Oct. 4.—Continuation of generally good business conditions throughout the country was announced to-day by the Federal Reserve Board in its monthly review.

LUTHERANS ARE OBSERVING FIVE ANNIVERSARIES

With Merger Favorably Disposed of Synod Takes Up Lighter Work BELIEVE UNION ASSURED

United Lutheran Church in America to Be Name; Doctrinal Basis

This evening at 7.30 o'clock, the East Pennsylvania Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church, will observe the 400th anniversary of the Protestant Reformation. The address will be delivered by the Rev. D. B. Smith, of Easton, Pa. Smith was at one time stationed at Hummelstown. Zion Lutheran Church, in which the sessions of the Synod are being held in this city, celebrates this year the 130th anniversary of the founding of the first church in Harrisburg, the 122d anniversary of the Protestant Reformation, the 103d anniversary of its present location, and the 78th anniversary of its present building. Added to this enviable record, Zion Church may well be proud of the fact that it was within the walls of this historic old church that East Pennsylvania Synod acted favorably upon the proposition to bring about a merger of the three great Lutheran bodies in the United States, and there has been a feeling among leaders of the various bodies that the success or failure of the merger might be foretold by the action of the Lutheran victors in this city. Discussed For Years A possible merger has been under discussion for years, but it remained for the upheaval in Europe to crystallize the sentiment which will result, in the opinion of well-informed church leaders, in the formation of a church that will be distinctly American in the broadest sense of the term. Merger Assured Church leaders believe that the merger is an assured fact. The General Synod, which met at Chicago, in June, took favorable action upon the proposition. The General Council meets at Philadelphia within a few weeks. The United Synod of the South will meet in November. After favorable action has been taken by the General Council and the United Synod of the South, the various Synods and Councils will vote upon the proposition to merge, and the representatives of the three bodies will meet in November, 1918, to take final action. Committees from the three great branches of Lutheranism have already approved the merger. At a meeting held by a joint committee in Philadelphia, April 18, 1917, a constitution was adopted. Following favorable action by the

U. S. TANKS MAY SOON APPEAR IN TRENCH WARFARE

America to Take Best France and England Have Evolved During War

STUDYING BOTH STYLES Uncle Sam to Operate War Machines Both Heavy and Fast

By Associated Press American Training Quarters in France, Oct. 4.—"To carry on the war for the next six months with the best that the French and British have evolved as a result of their three years' war experience, and to do our own experimenting entirely on the side," is the gist of the policy which has been largely adopted by the American Army now in France and recommended to Washington.

This policy applies to material and various instruments of war as well as to tactics and methods of handling men in the trenches. While many of the more serious students of war among the American officers believe the beneficial improvements can be worked out by American ingenuity - inventiveness and resourcefulness, they realize the most important problem just now is to get on with the war. They believe America can most quickly become a
