

JOINT MEETING ON STATE DEFENSE

Important Conference Will Be Held at the State Capitol Tomorrow at 10.30

The State Defense Commission and representatives of the Public Safety Committee of Pennsylvania will meet at the office of Governor Brumbaugh to-morrow to discuss reports of the work accomplished during the summer and the plans for the fall and winter. The committee will present statements of what it has done, notably in the food conservation campaign wherein Pennsylvania secured more pledge cards from the women of the Keystone state than were obtained in all of the rest of the United States.

An outline will be given of the plans for the fall and winter, including the assembling of information on farm labor and the work of the farm counselors, formerly employed by the State Department of Agriculture, but taken over by the state committee.

Cases Passed Upon—Numerous decisions have been given by the State Compensation Board in settling estate awards by referees in cases brought against railroads engaged in interstate commerce. This board's decisions are in line with the principles laid down in the United States Court decisions and cover half a dozen railroads. The awards made amounted to hundreds of dollars in many cases.

Attended Fair—L. H. Wible, chief of the Bureau of Agricultural Statistics, attended the York fair yesterday. He said that the attendance was very large.

Immediate Delivery

This closed car production was planned by the factory months ago so that you would not be inconvenienced by the usual delay in delivery. And these beautiful combination open and closed cars were part of an enormous production order for Model Eighty-Fives—fours and sixes—from material purchased when prices were much lower. It will probably be a long time before such luxurious cars can again be produced to sell at such low prices. They are beauties—side windows and uprights fold away entirely out of sight when you want a touring car or roadster—close up tight as a limousine when you want a closed car. The change is easily made and takes but a moment. Come in and let us show you the height of all-season luxury. And remember—we can promise you immediate delivery.
