

AIR REPRISALS OF FRANCE NOW WORRY GERMANS

"Barbarity" Is Cry Raised When Own Medicine Is Served

Amsterdam, Oct. 5.—A dispatch from Berlin received describes aerial raids on German towns Tuesday night. The dispatch shows that one airplane penetrated as far as Dortmund and dropped six bombs, damaging the tracks between the Dortmund and South Dortmund stations. One person was killed.

Another airman dropped six bombs near Feurbach, near Stuttgart. Small damage was done and there were no casualties.

Ten airplanes coming from southern and western directions attacked Frankfurt-on-Main. Most of the bombs fell harmlessly outside the town, but others fell at thirteen places within the city boundary. The damage was small. Five persons were injured. None were killed.

In Loraine says the dispatch, the industrial region was subjected to numerous attacks, but owing to the effective measures of defense only slight success was attained.

A German official telegram says that one entente allied airplane returning from Frankfurt-on-Main was forced to descend by German anti-aircraft gunfire. Other attacks the same night were directed against Rastatt and Baden-Baden, causing material damage. The telegram then proceeded:

"For what purpose the French make these attacks on German towns is not clear. In Rastatt there are no military objectives and the attacks on Tueringen and Baden-Baden can only be considered the outcome of a blind desire for destruction. The sanatoria at Baden-Baden and the hospitals at Tueringen contain numerous severely wounded men who are there seeking recovery.

"Even the French will not dare to assert that attacks on hospitals far behind the front are for military necessity. By such barbarity the will to persevere can only be strengthened among the German people."

Reunion of Perry County Veterans at New Bloomfield

New Bloomfield, Pa., Oct. 5.—Final preparations are being completed for the forty-third annual reunion of the Perry County Veteran Association, which will be held here tomorrow. L. H. C. Flickinger, of New Bloomfield, is president of the organization, and George Hoffman, of Liverpool, is secretary.

Extensive arrangements have been made by citizens for the reception of the veteran wearers of the blue. H. E. Shelby is chairman of the committee on arrangements; James M. Barnett is scheduled to deliver the address of welcome, and the principal address of the day will be delivered by State Senator E. E. Beldleman, of Harrisburg.

A monster parade will feature the day's event. It will form in Center Square at 1 o'clock, with George D. Hoffman as chief marshal. Included in line will be the veterans in automobiles, members of various county Red Cross societies, Daughters of Liberty and other fraternal organizations, with bands and citizens in large numbers.

On that day the county will send seven men to Camp Meade as an additional five per cent. of its quota to the new National Army. They will be fittingly honored.

They reported at the courthouse at New Bloomfield to-day at noon and to-morrow morning they will entrain here on the 7:30 Susquehanna River and Western Railroad and go to Duncannon, arriving at 8 o'clock. They will there leave on the Pennsylvania Railroad train at 8:29, east.

The seven men who will leave Perry to-morrow are: William H. Gandy, of Marysville; Clarence Stahl, of Blair; Charles B. Crist, of Newport; Melvin M. Orran, of Newport; Roy P. Guthrie, of Newport; Chester Shuler, of Montgomery's Ferry; and Harvey A. Sealman, of Newport. The county has already sent fifty-eight men to the front. Sixty-three will be required to complete the county quota.

Sanpan Rounded Her Out in Good Shape

says Flossie S. Roberson, 670 Calder street, Harrisburg. "I was under the weather with stomach trouble, nervousness and a sort of rheumatic condition. "After meals would feel sleepy, and would belch, had some distress, too. "Had bad pains in back and shoulders also in my limbs. I was awfully nervous, could not sleep at night and in the morning would get up with a nasty headache and was stiff and sore. "My head and throat were in a congested condition most of the time. "I appeared to be getting weaker every day, and did not know what to make of it as nothing would benefit me. I started to take Sanpan and it rounded me out in good shape. "My nervous condition is well, my rheumatic pains have not returned. I sleep well, my head and throat appear to be clear and I am feeling just about right." Sanpan is being personally demonstrated at Keller's Drug Store, 405 Market street, Harrisburg, where the Sanpan man is meeting the people.

SIGNAL RESERVE CORPS RECRUITED HERE IS GOING TO THREE CAMPS

SERG. HOWARD B. ELLINGER

COR. CLARENCE H. FICKINGER

COR. EDWARD W. ENGEL

Sergeant Ellinger and his capable assistants have secured for the Signal Corps Battalion many college and technically trained men, including 30 from Harrisburg. This unit will soon see service abroad.

Of the one hundred and sixty young men enlisted in the Signal Reserve Corps at the local recruiting station, practically all have received official notification that they are to hold themselves in readiness to leave upon a moment's notice for the various training camps which have been selected for the intensive training of the corps members. The general order specifies that the men will leave during the first part of October. As the recruits are widely scattered, and come from all parts of the state, the men will not leave Harrisburg as a company, but will be provided with individual transportation. Notification of the exact time set for leaving is now expected daily. Orders to leave for camp will come by telegraph.

Up to this time, three camps have been designated to receive members of the Harrisburg contingent of telegraph, radio and outpost men. One of the camps is Camp Upton, located at Yaphank, Long Island. Another is Camp Dix, at Wrightstown, N. J., and a third is Camp Meade, at Annapolis Junction, Md.

May Go Any Time The local office is in charge of Sergeant Howard B. Ellinger, Corporal Clarence H. Fickinger and Corporal Edward W. Engel. These officers have received no official word regarding their departure, and it is not known how long the office will be maintained in this city. The rooms occupied by Sergeant Ellinger and his assistants have been rented for another month, but it is not considered likely that the recruiting men for the Signal Reserve Corps will remain here longer than October 15, at the latest. The personnel of the Signal Corps Battalion recruited in this city is of a high grade. This branch of the service is a technical unit, and demands men with technical training. The best in the country is considered none too good for the Signal Reserve. The battalion recruited here is a field battalion, consisting of three companies, telegraph, radio and outpost. When in action, every possible means is employed to get messages through and keep the lines of communication open between the firing lines and the various headquarters. This service has all of the excitement of other branches without the monotony of long periods of waiting. It is the nerve-center of the army.

Opportunities for a display of personal bravery are many, and friends of the young men recruited in this place will not be surprised to see their names plentifully scattered through the news items from the other side, when the boys are finally assigned to service "somewhere in France."

Fascinating Work The fascination of telegraph, radio and outpost work, and perhaps the dangers involved, appeal with particular force to college men, high school alumni and undergraduates.

In the Harrisburg unit there are twenty-four college men from leading institutions of learning. Penn State leads with eight recruits. The University of Pennsylvania, Cornell, Princeton, Pitt, Illinois, Gettysburg College, Dickinson College and Franklin and Marshall are also represented.

Harrisburg Tech stands at the front in recruiting men for this battalion, with thirty persons who claim allegiance to the maroon and gray. They are as follows:

High schools in nearby towns represented in this battalion are New Cumberland, York and Williams-town. Shippensburg Normal is also represented. Sergeant Ellinger expresses himself as well pleased with the excellent showing made by the city of Harrisburg in providing one of the finest crowds of young men ever recruited in this State.

Klinger, of Ephrata, came home after his wedding trip Monday night the boys of the neighborhood gathered about and serenaded him with tin-can beating and other forms of noise. There were about one hundred in the party and as the noise annoyed Klinger he fired into the crowd with a shotgun and wounded Lawrence Wolf in the leg. The party then dispersed.

Taft Holds Peace Talk Is Traitorous

Indiana, Pa., Oct. 5.—"He who proposes peace now either does not see the stake for which the allies are fighting or wishes the German military thoroughness to control the destinies of all of us as to peace or war," declared ex-President Taft, speaking at the opening of the annual Y. M. C. A. lecture course here last night. The former President spoke before one of the largest audiences ever assembled in Indiana and flayed pacifists throughout his address. His address dealt with Germany's years of preparation for the present war and the purpose of German aggression. He showed the fallacy of peace at this time, warning the innocent against being impressed by pro-German propaganda. "The United States will have a big say in the peace negotiations," a statement of Mr. Taft, who said this country should insist on a just peace, not one of material conquest. He said he hoped the allies will reject all proposals for a settlement or compromise. He said in part:

"When the war is won the United States will be heard as to the terms of peace and will insist upon a just peace, not one of material conquest. Meaning let us hope and pray that the allies will reject all proposals for a settlement or compromise. He said here rigidly to the principle that united a victorious result gives security to a nation ruling a deluded and drenched in blood through the insane selfish policy of a military caste of a nation ruling a deluded and intoxicated with success and power."
