

RECEIPTS FOR POTATO DISHES

Eat Your Share of Nation's Bumper Crop; Plentiful and Cheap

Washington, Oct. 12. — "Are you eating your share of the country's bumper potato crop?" asks the United States Department of Agriculture in a recent statement.

The department makes the following suggestions in regard to the use of potatoes at dinner:

Potatoes at Dinner.

Potatoes may be freely used at dinner, the variety which we all like being secured by varying the ways in which the potatoes are served.

Many think that potatoes are at their best when prepared in the simplest ways, that is, baked or boiled, but even so some variety is possible, for they may be baked in their jackets, or with the skins rubbed or scraped off, or pared and baked in the pan with the meat.

War's Long Hand Grips Entire Family as Victims Philadelphia, Oct. 12.—William Brown, of Audubon, N. J., received word on Wednesday from his aged mother in Sheffield, Eng., that his younger brother had been "gassed," a favorite nephew killed in action, another nephew badly wounded and sent to a base hospital and a niece has not been heard from since sailing for England several weeks ago.

Minted Potatoes. Boiled potatoes are at their best when mealy, so, after boiling, the water should be poured off, a little salt sprinkled over the potatoes, and the kettle not quite covered, and placed on the back of the stove, so that they may "dry out."

Fried potatoes are also favorites and the ways in which they can be either fried in deep fat or pan fried are numerous and are well known.

Potatoes With Sauce or Cheese. Potatoes baked with white sauce and cheese, scalloped potatoes, and similar dishes can be used in place of macaroni and spaghetti, and potato dumplings can be used in place of wheat dumplings.

very fine, and parboil 10 minutes. Pour off water. Add one tablespoon butter drippings, or other fat, seasoning of salt and pepper, any milk enough to cover. Cook for 15 or 20 minutes, or until the potatoes are well done and the sauce thick and creamy. It is necessary to stir the potatoes frequently to prevent sticking. The starch in the potatoes thickens the sauce. Creamed potatoes are particularly good to serve with fish or chicken.

Hashed Brown Potatoes.—Cut cold boiled potatoes into small pieces (two cupsful), season with salt and pepper, cook three minutes in one-third cup bacon drippings, stirring constantly. Let stand a few seconds to brown underneath; fold like an omelet, and serve on a hot platter.

Meat and Potato Pie with Potato Crust.—Boil meat, cut into small pieces. Mix with potatoes separately boiled and cut up, and put into a baking dish. Make a crust by mixing a crust by mixing smoothly mashed potatoes to which a tablespoonful of shortening has been added, with enough flour and water to make them roll out easily.

Potato Pudding.—½ lb. mashed potatoes (5 small potatoes), 4 tablespoonfuls butter or good cooking fat, 2 eggs, ½ cup milk, ¼ teaspoonful salt, ½ lemon (juice and rind), 1 tablespoonful sugar, ½ cup raisins or raisins and nut meats.

Boiled potatoes, small and add butter, eggs, milk, lemon juice, grated peel and sugar. Beat all the ingredients together, and bake in a buttered three-quarters of an hour or longer.

THE SOLDIER-WOMAN

Letters from a Washington woman to her sister in Michigan telling how one woman is co-operating with the U. S. Food Administration.

Washington, D. C. Sister Mine: The Food Administration wants us to economize on fuel for the same reason it asks the use of the local supply of fruits and vegetables. Our railroads are overburdened with hauling war materials. We may relieve them by burning fewer fires this winter; by using wood instead of coal where practical. When coal is mined in a local district there is no advantage in not using it, but when it must be hauled from a distance it will be a great help to use wood as a substitute as much as possible.

We are asked to remember when we leave electric lights burning, electric fans going, and steam radiators turned on when not needed, that we are wasting coal. As substitutes are suggested the use of kerosene, or electricity developed by water power, or gas as far as possible. We are also reminded of the fireless cooker whose advantages you and I already know.

We are asked to patronize our local dealer for green stuffs for the same reason that we are asked to economize on coal. If everybody uses the abundance of locally grown fruits and vegetables there will be no necessity of using the freight cars to haul perishables from a distance. We are reminded that we eat too little green stuff as a nation anyway, and are asked to double our supply, eating the fruits and vegetables that are locally in season instead of demanding those grown in some other part of the country.

So there you have the six economies of the "Home Card": wheat, meat, milk, fats, sugar, and fuel, with an added plea for the greater use of our present garden abundance. It seems to me that they are very necessary, and that we must heed them if untold misery in many lands is to be prevented.

Well, Edith dear, if they go hungry; or our soldiers want... body in all the world suffers through hunger, it is not going to be because of any failure of mine to follow the Food Administration program. It isn't much that I asked of me,—just a wee "bit,"—and I give it in gratitude for the chance to give. To-morrow I am going to take my little ten cents down to the Food Administration and buy the pattern for the "Service Frock"—the official badge of every woman's loyalty. I'll tell you more about it then. Devotedly, FRANCES.

President W. G. Lee Denies Wage Demand

Cleveland, Oct. 12. — Asked about the report from New York that railroads operating east of Chicago and north of the Potomac river have been notified by representatives of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Order of Railway Conductors that demands will be presented for increased wages for men in the passenger service on December 1, W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, gave out the following statement: "Nothing of the kind has been done. I cannot say what the Eastern Association, O. R. C. and B. R. T. general chairmen may vote to do at a meeting to be held at Ottawa, Cal., Tuesday, October 16. The general chairmen of both organizations have been notified to attend this annual meeting."

About 120 general chairmen, representing several thousand men in both organizations, will attend the Ottawa meeting.
