LATE NEWS FROM THE CUMBERLAND VALLEY

Small Boy Caught Between Two Automobiles

Mechanicsburg, Pa., Oct. 16.—Gerald Koser, aged 4 years, miraculously escaped serious injury when he ran between two automobiles on South Market street about 6 o'clock last evening and was thrown against the curb, striking his head and inflicting a severe wound above the left eye. He had minor cuts and bruises. The child was playing in the locality of the intersection of Locust and Market streets when he ran in front of a car driven by a young man named Nichols of Camp Hill. When it was ascertained that Mr. Nichols was not at fault and driving slowly, he was dismissed. Gerald, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Koser, West Locust street, was taken to the office of Dr. B. F. Hunt, where his injuries were dressed.

OLD BUCK HORN TAVERN REBUILT

Famous Hostelry of Revolutionary Days Scene of Brilliant Gatherings

Dillsburg, Pa., Oct. 16.—The once famous and historic Buck Horn tavern, in recent years used as a dwellinghouse on the J. L. McCreary farm, and which was destroyed by fire several months ago, has been rebuilt and is again ready for occupancy. The house was of stone construction, and as only the woodwork was destroyed, Mr. McCreary, anxious to retain as much of its unbroken history as possible, has had much of the stone incorporated in the new building, with the result that the old roadhouse of the historic Welsh and Robinson trail, over which many notables of former days traveled in the nation's capital and Fort Carlisle, back in the pioneer days, with its new trimmings, has again been given a new lease of life.

The building, which was destroyed during the past summer, was erected in 1789, one hundred and twenty-eight years ago. It was then a roadhouse on the trail as stated above, over which was carried the mail from Washington to Fort Carlisle, which at that time was one of the outposts of civilization. Over the entrance, in order to denote its name, was nailed two massive buck horns. High government officials, as well as military officers, including President George Washington, passed through this door and were quartered beneath its roof. Dancing was a favorite pastime in those days, and tradition has it that three floors were worn out and had to be replaced as a result of the large number of dances held there. Here the stately dames of yore and their menfolk with their powdered wigs and knickerbockers stepped and bowed out their favorite minuets.

By no means is the hundred-year-old sycamore tree that stands near the house to be overlooked, either. This is not only prized because of its age, but because of its freakish origin. When the old well was dug a century ago two men were employed to carry the earth away in a bucket as it was drawn from the shaft. This was done from a heavy stick with a man at each end. When the well was completed one of the men thrust the stick into the ground where it later took root, sprouted leaves and twigs, and grew to be the big tree that stands there to-day.

Seven Have Narrow Escape When Automobile Upsets

Marietta, Oct. 16.—A number of men from Marietta, consisting of George P. Resch, William Peters, Charles Fleckenstein, Joseph Ziegler, A. McBride, Paul McDivitt and George McGrath made a narrow escape from being killed or badly injured on Sunday evening near Maytown. The men had been at Wild Cat Falls and went to the grove opposite Wild Cat in Mr. Resch's car. Instead of returning home by way of the river road, they decided to take a little farther ride and go home through Maytown, in turning the corner at Beattie's, where the curve is sharp, something went wrong with the steering apparatus and the car quickly turned to the side and upset, burying the men beneath it. Mr. McDivitt had an incision on his head and a number of others were slightly scratched. The machine is a total wreck.

"CASCARETS" FOR YOUR BOWELS IF HEADACHY, SICK

For biliousness, bad breath, colds, indigestion and constipation

Enjoy life! Live your liver and bowels to-night and feel fine.

The tongue is coated! Look inside your watch cover and see! That's bad business. What have you been eating? "What were you drinking?" What kind of a lazy chair did you take exercise in? Now don't think it doesn't matter, because, it's your bowels that talk now every time you open your mouth. That doesn't help your popularity, nor your earning capacity. Besides, a person with bad bowels is in a bad way and a coated tongue or a bad breath are sure signs of bad bowels and poor digestion.

Why don't you get a 10-cent box of Cascarets at any drug store and give your liver and thirty feet of bowels the nicest, gentlest cleansing they ever experienced. Take one or two Cascarets to-night and you will feel fine and fit. All Headache, Dullness, Biliousness, Bad Breath, Stomach Sourness, Cold and Constipation—shake up, you will feel your head clear, tongue clean, stomach sweet, liver and bowels active, step elastic and complexion rosy.

Cascarets work while you sleep—never gripe or sicken. Cascarets act so gently that you hardly realize you have taken a thorough cathartic. They don't bother you at all next day like salts, pills, oil or calomel—Cascarets being perfectly harmless is best children's laxative.
