It is an American in Howe stitution, For Lyman Howe stitution, For Lyman Howe's Travel Festival fills a place in the esteem of the public that it has created for itself. In a sense the new production reflects the spirit of America possibly more than any Mr. Howe has presented. First of all there is the official and exclusive feature from "Somewhere in the Atlantic," which shows the arms and armament of Uncle Sam's new Navy, alert for any contingency in sea and air, and the latest offensive and defensive devices and methods of air, and the latest offensive and the Amapolis U. S. Naval Academy to become commanding officers. Of American industrial life there are seenes of absorbing interest showing logging time in Maine, and also many tense moments that occurred during a broncho-breaking contest in our real. Wild West, in which the most fearless cowboys and cowgirls engage. Then, too, there is a delightful ride through the Casade Mountains in Washington. But foreign lands also contribute their quota of film masterpieces in this new program. A notable example takes Howe travelers to the gorges, cascades and ancient ruins of Southern France, while another opens up

Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get his famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for 50 cents a large bottle, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and luster of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and luster of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toiler requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance, it is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Adv.
