

AUTUMN WEDDING IN ENOLA CHURCH

The Darlington-Bitner Nuptials Solemnized Last Evening Before Many Guests

One of the prettiest church weddings ever held in Enola was that of Miss Lillian Mae Bitner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Bitner, and Oscar Gilbert Darlington, of Downingtown, last evening in the Methodist Episcopal Church, with the Rev. F. Grant Sleep, the pastor, officiating.

Autumn foliage and flowers were used in decorating with palms and ferns. Miss Nancy Bitner, the bride's sister, played the wedding marches, giving a brief recital including "Hearts and Flowers" and "Beautiful Thoughts of Love" prior to the Lohengrin "Bridal Chorus," as a processional.

The bride, who was unattended, wore a traveling suit of dark blue silk velour, with black picture hat and carried a shower of bride roses. A wedding supper was served at the bride's home after the service, the newlyweds leaving later in the evening for a trip through fourteen states in the west and south, with stops at Cincinnati, New Orleans, Atlanta and Montgomery, returning by way of Washington.

Interested in Church Work
Mr. Darlington was formerly teacher in the first grade school of the Summit street building of Enola and also in Perry county. She took a course in domestic science in Harrisburg and has been actively interested in the affairs of the Methodist Church, as superintendent of the Junior League and superintendent of the elementary Sunday school. She also trained the children for the special programs in the church.

Mr. Darlington is freight and passenger agent for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company at Pomeroy, Pa. In 1912 he was transferred to Enola where he remained until February, 1916. During his stay in Enola he also was prominent in the Methodist Church and was elected superintendent of the Sunday school, steward, trustee and treasurer of the official church board. After his transfer to Pomeroy he was also elected to Sunday school superintendent and chairman of the building committee which improved the church edifice. After the wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Darlington will reside at Pomeroy.

Mrs. Roy P. M. Davis, of 1926 North Second street, is home from Swarthmore where she accompanied her daughter, Margaret Davis, who will enter the School of Seven Gables. PERSONAL AND SOCIAL NEWS OF INTENSE INTEREST

COUPLE GOING NORTH TO SPEND HONEYMOON

A wedding of much interest was that of Miss Elizabeth Lila B. Shunk to Albert S. Buttorff, which took place at 7:30 o'clock this morning in the parlors of the Zion Lutheran Church with the Rev. Winfield Herman officiating with the ring service. The bride, the popular young daughter of Mrs. Catherine C. Shunk, 1834 Regina street, wore a going-away costume of tulle and white tulle picture hat to harmonize, and a corsage of orchids and violets. The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Buttorff, of Carlisle, Pa., is well known among the businessmen of this city. The attendants were Miss Emily Haller, who wore a dark blue broadcloth suit with a hat to match, and Royal M. Shunk, a brother of the bride. On their honeymoon trip, Mr. and Mrs. Buttorff will spend some time in New York, Albany and Philadelphia. Later they will return to Harrisburg to reside.

The services took place in the presence of the immediate families, at 9:30 o'clock at the Bankert residence, and immediately afterward, the two young couples started for an extended honeymoon in a motor car. Central High Notes

Of much interest to the student body of Central High was the shoulder to shoulder business talk given by Mr. Thomas, representing the Thrift and Efficiency Society, and School Banking Association, yesterday in chapel. Mr. Thomas in his opening words flattered the students by saying that if he hadn't been principal of 150 girls and boys for several years he would think they were little angels; but having had experience in that line couldn't look at students in that light. Mr. Thomas stated that during his visits to France and Germany several years ago he had been impressed by the thrift of especially the women of the countries. They were never idle, and now that the call has come he is so glad that the American women have responded so nobly to the call. He informed the students that it takes twenty years to develop physically, forty years intellectually, and an eternity to develop spiritually. The main topic was "Thrift" and application to the school banking system. Only one out of every ten people in the United States have bank accounts, and eighty-five out of every hundred people die on the verge of the poorhouse. The schoolchildren of to-day are the business people of tomorrow and in order to be efficient they should start now by opening an account in the school banks. Every Tuesday the necessary transactions can be made with the teachers and a bank account opened with an amount as small as one cent. About five thousand dollars has been deposited by the school children of Harrisburg since last spring. Mr. Thomas advised the boys and girls to "get in with both feet" and be good and good for something.

WEDNESDAY CLUB RECITAL PLEASURES

Horatio Connell, Baritone Soloist For Opening Concert of Musical Society

The Wednesday Club formally opened its thirty-sixth season in Fahnstock Hall last evening with Horatio Connell baritone, in recital accompanied by Ella Clark Hermann at the piano. While the choice of selections left a little to be desired, Mr. Connell's rendering of the whole program was the work of a finished artist. His voice possesses a marked dramatic quality. While not of especially wide range, it is full, rich and of great sustaining power. From the very first he showed himself to be in splendid form and there was none of the usual limbering process so common upon the concert stage. He was accurate and sincere, excellent in phrasing and expression. From the lilting tenderness of the old English ballad, "Meet Me By Moonlight" to Schubert's "Du Hast Die Ruh" and "Wohin" he was perfectly at ease. Mr. Connell is blessed with a pleasing personality, which goes a long way toward the assurance of any artist, and finds its meaning in the assurance that what he has to give is of the best and he will be welcomed accordingly. That he was appreciated by the members of the Wednesday Club there was no doubt, for his four song groups were each so vigorously applauded that he returned for encores most generously.

It was during the rendering of "The Truth is Suspected" from Glinka's opera, "A Life for the Czar" that the first shadow of the horrors of war fell upon the audience. It was a relief when "Lilacs" by Rasmannoff followed with its dainty charm and individuality. One of the most enjoyable of Mr. Connell's selections was the little Italian song, "Teasing me in the Old Camp Ground," his perfect enunciation and the flexibility of his voice which make him delightful in selection of material. His rendering of a new and deeper meaning as he told of the hearts which were yearning for the "dawn of peace."

Miss Mary Boas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Ross Boas, and Robert A. Boll were quietly married this morning at 9:30 o'clock at the home of the bride, 115 State street, by the Rev. Stewart Winfield Herman, pastor of the Zion Lutheran Church. Only the immediate families attended, and after the service a wedding breakfast was served by Rutherford. In the drawingroom white chrysanthemums and ferns made beautiful decorations, while in the diningroom, pink snap dragons and chrysanthemums prevailed in the flowers. The attractive little bride wore traveling costume of tulle and tulle fur. Her corsage
