Widely-Known College Athletes in Regiment of Foresters in France

Outdoor life of the forester is reflected in the appearance of the Tenth Engineers (Forest) now in France. This fitness was the result of working at outdoor jobs which required strength and alertness.

College athletes are important members of the regiment, including not a few recent graduates and undergraduates from forestry colleges ranging from Yale to California, says the American Forestry Magazine of Washington. "Eddie" Frey of Cornell was one of the intercollegiate champions in the two-mile run when he helped his Alma Mater clean up all four places in the event against the picked men of all the leading universities of the country. Another Cornellian, and one of the smaller colleges, George Kephart, coxswain of the varsity eight-oar champions who had swept the Hudson at Poughkeepsie; and after that he was a member of Cornell's intercollegiate championship wrestling team. These men are typical of those who marched along with others who had achieved championships in "burning," cordwood-cutting, and the like.

Equipment included, besides sawmills and logging machinery and implements, a Red Cross ambulance and kitchen trailer. These were contributed by the members of the United States Forest Service, through funds gathered among the active workers all over the country.

The chaplain, assisted by Private Knowles Ryerson, who had specialized in rural social organization in California, will help to provide recreation, reading matter, and other comforts and conveniences. He took along a Red Cross ambulance and six dozen records will introduce American ragtime to sylvan communities in France. The Forest Service will help to supply the regiment with reading matter, and with various other necessary luxuries, under a systematic plan; and the American Forestry Association, of which Charles Lathrop Pack is president, will see that they are supplied with tobacco and other comforts. If some of the fellows wear all the olive-drab knitted sweaters and mufflers that have been promised them they will be so swaddled up that they cannot move to any work!
