WILL DO HER SHARE AND MORE, GOV. DECLARES

Lieut. Leshar Complimented by Brumbaugh on His Part in Keeping State to Fore

That Pennsylvania will do her full share in this war, as she has done in other great wars, was the declaration of Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh at the rally held in the interests of recruiting at the Technical High School Auditorium last evening.

"Pennsylvania has done and will continue to do her share—and more," said Governor Brumbaugh. "Now is the time for young men to volunteer. We have always loved the volunteer soldier," continued the Governor, "and the National Guard of Pennsylvania, now at Camp Hancock, in Georgia, over twenty-six thousand strong, is one of the finest fighting units in the world."

The Harrisburg district, declared that he was delighted with the activities of Lieutenant Leshar and his staff, and that their efforts to recruit an increasingly large number of Dauphin county men has the full cooperation of the state.

Sergeant Blake Speaks Governor Brumbaugh, who represented the Army recruiting headquarters here, was the first speaker of the evening.

"The Harrisburg district," said Sergeant Blake, "contributed 11,500 of the 26,000 men recruited in Pennsylvania. We are asking for 5,000 more men. The demand is not unreasonable, and we will get them."

Harrisburg and Lancaster were the only cities in the district to be freed from the selective draft in the first call. The recruiting headquarters are seeking to free the entire district before the second call is made.

Must Contribute Without Stint Sergeant Blake, because of his wide knowledge of the subject, gave some data that should furnish food for reflection. "America must contribute without stint if we are to win this war," declared the speaker. "Our resources are food, money and men. This war is no longer able to supply men; we must put men in the field. England cannot provide the ships, we must build our own ships. One-fifth of the world's tonnage has been sent to the bottom of the ocean, and U-boats are sinking vessels faster than they are being built. These are facts that the people should understand, declared Sergeant Blake, Harrisburg has led the country in recruiting. As an example of what this district has accomplished, 11,500 of the 26,000 men recruited in the state came from Harrisburg district. If the average of this district was no greater than that of the other districts in the state, Pennsylvania, instead of being credited with 11,500 more enlistments than New York state, would be fully 5,000 behind her nearest competitor."

Young Men Must Go Deputy Attorney General W. H. Hargest delivered a stirring address, saying that as the old men cannot go to France, they must do all they can to encourage enlistments among young men. Mr. Hargest urged that the gaps in the National Army and National Guard be filled with Pennsylvania men and urged the young men of the audience to make a prompt decision in favor of enlisting in some branch of the service.

"The common sense of this country knows what he is fighting for," declared Victor Braddock, a Carlisle attorney, last evening. "The day of everlasting peace will be hastened by enlistment. Peace and victory, for which we pray, will come sooner because our boys are answering the call for volunteers."

"Our eyes are opened now to the fact that this is our war," said George L. Reed, an attorney of this city, in his address. "Thank God that the battle line in France is moving toward Berlin. That battle line is also our defense. France has given her men to defend us; now we must do our share."

"We are going to do our bit," pledged Dr. George Edward Hawes, pastor of Market Square Presbyterian Church, "we are going to do our best. Either autocracy goes down or democracy is shot to pieces."

Going Over Top Dr. Hawes declared that the Second Liberty Loan is "going over the top; the third will cut the wires and take the trenches." That battle line is also our defense. France has given her men to defend us; now we must do our share.

William H. Ernest, of Hummelstown, said that while Germany had been preparing for war during forty years, this country had been preparing for peace. "We are willing," said Mr. Ernest, "to pay in blood the price of liberty for our ideals."

City Solicitor John E. Fox presided at the recruiting rally last night. Music was furnished by the municipal band. Mrs. Roy G. Cox sang three songs, one of which was "The Star Spangled Banner."

Sergeant Blake and others paid a deserved tribute to the splendid ability and untiring patriotism of Lieutenant Leshar, head of the Regular Army recruiting headquarters at 325 Market street.

Cecil Denies British Peace Negotiations With Vatican

London, Oct. 19.—Replying to a question in the House of Commons yesterday, Lord Robert Cecil, Minister of Blockade, denied that negotiations for terms of peace had taken place with the Vatican or any of its agents or with any other religious organization.

Just previous to this Lord Robert had been asked whether the British Government intended to send any reply to Pope Benedict's peace note. His response was a request that notice be given of the question. It had not been officially announced, he added, that Great Britain had adopted as its own reply the reply sent by the United States.

"The clear and powerful reply of President Wilson," explained Lord Robert, "was the result of any consultation of the Allies, and I do not propose to comment on it in reply to the question."
