Will Seek Judgment in the Supreme Court; Says He's Satisfied

CROSS, FEVERISH CHILD IS BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! See if tongue is coated, breath hot or stomach sour.

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach, liver, bowels.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish, or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother. If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

HE FEELS AS FRESH AS A DAISY

Had Been Ailing For a Time

"I was very nervous, had severe headaches, was badly constipated," says L. S. Stubbs, 464 Foster St., Harrisburg. "I could not sleep well at night on account of my nervous condition and hated for night to come, in the morning I would rise as tired out as when I went to bed."

"The least little exertion seemed to exhaust me, and I was miserable and unsettled all the time. I tried a lot of remedies but no result, finally after some debating, I gave Sanpan a trial, and I must say it was marvelous the way I found relief. My nerves are quiet and settled, constipation is gone, I sleep well and in the morning feel as fresh as a daisy and no road is too long for me."

"Sanpan is a wonder, and I am pleased to recommend it, this may be the means of helping some one else."

Sanpan is being introduced at Keller's Drug Store, 405 Market St., Harrisburg, where the Sanpan man is explaining it to the people.—Adv.

PENNSY PEOPLE HELP SOLDIERS

Local Employes Collect Large Tobacco Fund For Boys at the Front

Employees of the Philadelphia division of the Pennsylvania Railroad are responding liberally to the Pennsy's tobacco fund.

"Referring to the circulars which have been given wide distribution among employes in reference to the 'Pennsylvania Railroad Tobacco Fund,' which is the purpose of sending cartons of tobacco to the front-line railroad men in the Army, the following collectors have been appointed to accept money for the fund from employees in this department: 'H. Mentzer, E. T. Gaston, C. E. Groff, H. H. Doherty, J. H. Conley, T. Hopkins, Jr., J. E. Trego, W. D. Tyler, M. C. Sperry, H. Hampton, H. M. Kelley, H. A. Wolfley, R. R. Patton, J. Schmadder."

Postcards On Hand "Each collector will have a supply of postcards and when a contribution is received the contributor will be permitted to sign his name and address on the back of the postcard for every 25 cents contributed. The cards will be retained by the collector and placed with the contributions on the back of the postcard than 25 cents. The name and address on the front of the postcard will tell the soldier who sent him the tobacco and it is expected he will write his sentiments on the back of the postcard and mail it to the contributor whose address is on the front."

"We are, of course, anxious to make the fund a success so the Pennsylvania Railroad boys at the front may have the enjoyment of the tobacco, but it must be understood that it is entirely optional with employes as to whether they contribute or not. It is the intention that the fund be continued indefinitely, which would mean that employes may contribute at such intervals as they desire. Contributions may be left at this office."

W. G. Lee, president of the railroad workers' organization, in announcing the decision of the convention, said it had been determined that railroad workers holding positions of responsibility were entitled to better pay. He explained that workers in steel mills and kindred industries had been given increases of 42 per cent. in wages in the past year, while railroad conductors have not had more than 30 per cent. in thirteen years.

In 1913, he said, the men were granted the eight-hour day, but that in a majority of cases this meant that they were to be on duty for two hours longer than the two hours they gained could be turned into money.

The plan to have the youngsters in the schoolhouses and from the streets, aside from refraining from throwing corn and vegetables in their celebration of Halloween, will bring the amount of grain they would have used in observing the day to their schools to be ground into cornmeal for the benefit of the Red Cross.

This proposition was put before every child attending school on the West Shore this afternoon by principals of the various buildings. The schoolchildren in Lemoyne, New Cumberland, Wormleysburg, West Fairview and Camp Hill are very enthusiastic over the move and are bubbling over with glee to do their bit.

To Grind Grain The grain will be gathered in the various schoolhouses and from the streets, taken to the mill of C. S. Willis, of Lemoyne, located along the Yellow Breeches creek near Eberly's Mill, to be ground. When asked to grind the corn into meal, Mr. Willis said without hesitation that he would be only too glad to have the chance. The mill is a very fine one and would not only be beneficial to the Red Cross, but would teach the children to save, as well as the value of food conservation, especially at this critical time.

To Protect Property "That the boys are interested in the conservation of food as well as a move to prohibit the destruction of property is evident in the move of three Boy Scout organizations on the West Shore.

In New Cumberland, the Boys Brigade of forty members plans to divide the town into districts and patrol it. This plan will be put in force by Boy Scout troops in Lemoyne and Camp Hill.

When the proposition of patrolling the town was put up to scoutmasters in Lemoyne and Camp Hill the plan was heartily endorsed. Several of the scouts were told of the matter and are very enthusiastic over it. This is a very good plan, residents of this district believe, as there is no police protection, and although the boys very seldom do anything serious, they sometimes destroy property amounting to money. The celebration of Halloween in this section is always more destructive than in a more thickly settled town, as there is no police protection, and the only way the boys can be kept in check is for the property owner to keep guarding his own property.

Talk to Students Principals of the schools to-day carried out the plan of talking to the children on refraining from throwing grain and vegetables in celebration of Halloween, suggested by a prominent resident of the West Shore.

Prof. L. D. Crunkleton, principal of the New Cumberland schools, and Prof. Fred V. Rokey, principal of the Camp Hill schools, talked to the students yesterday while the principals of the Lemoyne, Wormleysburg and West Fairview schools spoke to the children this afternoon.

Simple Talk to Children Prof. Crunkleton used a very simple plan in asking the support of the children in the first, second, third, fourth and fifth grades. After asking the younger scholars what a soldier was and what he was doing in France, he told the youngsters just how much a handful of grain would do toward feeding them. The children knew that the soldier in France was fighting to defeat Germany and were anxious to know how their little hands could do their bit.

He told the children that one handful of grain that they would throw away in the celebration of Halloween would keep a Belgian

TRAINMEN TO ASK INCREASE

Brotherhood Men Meet in Canada; Vote Later on Demands

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 19.—Representatives of 200,000 organized railroad workers in the Northeastern part of the United States and Eastern Canada, decided here yesterday to recommend to their unions that they demand from their employers wage increases of no less than 20 per cent.

The workers involved are trainmen, conductors, baggagemen, brakemen and yardmen.

The vote in favor of the demand for increased pay was unanimous on the part of the 104 chairmen of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Order of Railway Conductors, who have been in session here for three days. The question will be submitted to a referendum of the members of the brotherhoods and if their vote is affirmative, negotiations with the railroad companies will be begun. If the increases are granted they will mean the addition of millions of dollars to the annual payrolls of about fifty companies, which are involved.

Ask For Increase "Contributions of less than 25 cents will be accepted, no card being given, the reason is that less than 25 cents will not purchase a carton of tobacco."

W. G. Lee, president of the railroad workers' organization, in announcing the decision of the convention, said it had been determined that railroad workers holding positions of responsibility were entitled to better pay. He explained that workers in steel mills and kindred industries had been given increases of 42 per cent. in wages in the past year, while railroad conductors have not had more than 30 per cent. in thirteen years.

mother and two children from starving for a short time and would even keep a big American soldier from starving. The principal told the children that this county must not only feed our soldiers but those of France and England and all the Allies. All the children raised their small hands when the principal asked: "How many are willing to save grain for soldiers during this particular time?"

In addressing pupils in the higher grades Prof. Crunkleton told of the vast amount of foodstuffs that is needed to feed the large multitude of people and what was expected of them in winning this war.

To Keep Children Off Streets "Prof. Crunkleton, who is very enthusiastic over following out the plan, said that he was planning an entertainment for the schoolchildren on Halloween night to keep them off the streets in the early evening.

he principal said this plan had not been worked out.

Prof. Rokey in addressing his pupils told of the enormous amount of food that is needed at this particular time and asked them to cooperate in a move to save the little grain that might carelessly be destroyed in the celebration of Halloween.

Prof. Alfred Ensminger, principal of the Lemoyne schools, dwelt on the importance of food conservation at his time and the good the little amount of grain they destroyed would do in winning this war with Germany. Prof. Clyde Mellinger, of the West Fairview schools, and Prof. F. H. Hetrick, of the Wormleysburg schools, followed out the same trend of thought in their talks to the students.

Plan Is Popular The plan of saving the grain was approved by all schoolteachers and many residents who heard of it. Large amounts are expected to be brought in at New Cumberland, Lemoyne and Camp Hill, while West Fairview and Wormleysburg, which are hemmed in on all sides, have not the opportunity to raise grain as some of the gardeners in the other towns and the contributions here are likely to be smaller. Approximately speaking, there are about 1,500 children attending school in these towns. Divided, there are 350 at Lemoyne, 325 at New Cumberland, 130 at Wormleysburg, 300 at West Fairview and 325 at Camp Hill.
