Pittsburgh, Oct. 19. — Prices in the Pittsburgh live stock market broke sharply to-day. Hogs, which last week were selling at $19.65 per hundred pounds live weight, fell to $16.90 for the best grades, and 25 cents per hundred pounds for ordinary stocks.
In the retail markets, however, bacon was still commanding fifty cents a pound, and in the best stores sixty

Liberty Day was to-day pro-claimed for Wednesday, October 24, by Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh in a proclamation issued from the Capital. The Gayernor refers to the in a proclamation issued from the Capitol. The Governor refers to the fact that the President has set aside that day as Liberty Day and urges that all in authority in Pennsylvania call the importance of the occasion to the people.

The Governor asks that it be made a holiday and that people buy Liberty Bonds.

erty Bonds.

The proclamation is as follows:

In the Name and by Authority of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Executive Department.

PROCLAMATION

Whereas, The President of the United States has set aside Wednesday, October twenty-fourth, as Liberty Day and has designated by proclamation the afternoon of said day as a holiday. The purpose of this action is to stimulate the sale of United States Liberty Bonds and thus support in an effective way the successful prosecution of the war; and

Retired Methodist Minister and Civil War Veteran of York Springs Takes Different Way of Observing Anniversary Each Year

Gettysburg, Pa., Oct. 19 .- The heroes was the old-time army bean Rev. L. M. Gardner, a retired Methodist minister, who lives at York their host were all in a reminiscent Springs, and the oldest young man mood and recalled many experiences of the days of the Civil War and other citizens as may be selected, to the end that the day may have solemn, serious, effective meaning to our people in this war period. Let the day be one of consecration to national ideals and to large subscriptions to national needs.

I call upon all mayors, burgesses and other civil magistrates to issue proclamation in harmony herewith and I urge upon our people the great importance of making the day memorable in the substantial support its observance will guarantee to our fiscal solidarity and our personal loyalty. We are approaching the great Peace Anniversary of the nations—the day when by gifts to loved ones we recall the gift of the Prince of Peace to the human race. I suggest that among these gifts we this year include Liberty Bonds and thus hasten the day when by successful issue this war and all wars may end and the peoples of the earth may realize in full measure "Peace on earth, goodwill to men." Given under my hand and the great seal of the State, at the City of Harrisburg, this eighteenth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and seventeen and of the Commonwealth the one hundred and forty-second.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH. was to invite six of his old Union soldier friends, D. F. Starry, Frank Spealman, Hiram Albert, James A. Spealman, Henry Wierman and Henry Dahr, to spend the day with him. Each of the veterans was attired in uniform and wore the badge of the Grand Army of the Republic. Mr. Gardner himself wore a buck-tail badge on the lapel of his ministerial coat, for a number of years he being chaplain of the Bucktail Association. The rooms at his home were decorated with a profusion of American flags, the most prominent one being the family flag made by Mrs. Gardner and first displayed on the Fourth of July, 1876. At noon the menu served to the old battle
