Another $5,000 bond and several $1,000 bonds have been subscribed.
Up to this time two bonds of the $5,000 denomination and about a dozen of the $1,000 class have been purchased.

purchased.
The plan being carried out by local banks which enables the working class to take bonds is proving very successful. Many have been reached through this plan and the number of bonds disposed of the small denominations is expected to be very large.

Committeemen Report
Many of the citizen's committee of 250 have reported on the work. In many cases two of the subscription blanks which have been supplied by the committee have been returned.
The amount that is being subscribed in the outlying districts is not known as few of the committeemen in these districts have reported.

as few of the committeemen in these districts have reported.

The campaign in the steel plant was officially opened Friday afternoon when several thousand subscription blanks were distributed among employes. Considerable work is necessary in starting the second campaign in the plant inasmuch as the loan was so largely subscribed during the first time that it is difficult to ascertain just who own bonds.

Issues Proclamation

Burgess Wigfield last evening issued a proclamation setting October 24 aside as Liberty Day in this borough. The campaign will come to a close on this day also.

The proclamation is as follows:

"Wherseas, President Wilson has set aside Wednesday, October 24, 1917, as a day when every American citizen shall lend his efforts in a great United movement for the success of the second Liberty Loan, and Whereas, a committee of representative men from this community is striving to promote the cause of the nation in its war against autocrack by obtaining subscripers to the second Liberty Loan, therefor.

"I hereby proclaim Wednesday, October 24, 1917, as Liberty Day in the borough of Steelton, and earnestly request every citizen and resident of this borough to spend that day or some part thereof in securing for the government of the United States the fund with which to bring victory to its forces in the great war and make more speedy the home coming of the men, who have offered their lives in the cause of liberty."

What have YOU done to stop him?

Shall we crush the Hun on the battle-fields of Europe or grapple with his fiendish soldiery here among our homes?

Remember the War Lord's boast: "Paris, then London, then America!" Picture the German torch given to our dwellings, the German firing squad tramping our city streets, the screams of our children, the unspeakable fate of our wives and sisters!

France and England have fought a gallant fight, but they tell us frankly that only America's full strength can save the day. Our sons-God bless them!-are now preparing for the final test of skill and courage; but bravery alone will not win!

The First Liberty Loan will raise and train an army; that is all! Every dollar of it will be spent before we are really in the fight. And unless our response to the Second Loan is of matchless generosity, the world will view the terrible spectacle of a million and more gallant boys starving, freezing, fighting with bare hands, supported by empty cannon, dying like rats beneath the German hail—all because we their friends and fathers would not lend our money all because we, their friends and fathers, would not lend our money to our Government!
